STONE DEFEATS HORNER ENTRY IN COURT RACE

Justice Is Re-elected by 8,067 Votes.

New Deal Foe Ahead

Peoria, Ill., June 1.—[Special.]—Complete unofficial figures from the ten counties in the Fifth Illinois Supreme court district late tonight showed Chief Justice Clyde E. Stone, Republican, reëlected by the largest majority and the largest vote he ever received.

The action of the voters was described by the winner's supporters as a distinct rebuke to Gov. Henry Horner, who threw the state pay roll and his personal strength behind the Democratic nominee, Josef T. Skinner of Princeton, state's attorney of Bureau county.

Partisan Drive Assailed.

During the closing days of the campaign the Republican county leaders backing Justice Stone charged the governor with having sought to make the election strictly a party contest, with casting aside the appeal for nonpartisanship that aided him when he was Probate judge of Cook county, and following a call to arms against veteran judges on grounds that their decisions go back to "the horse and buggy days."

Complete unofficial returns from the 461 precincts gave Justice Stone 39,024 votes to 30,957 for Skinner, Stone's majority being 8,067 votes.

Returns by Counties.

The returns by counties follow:

County.	Precincts.	Stone.	Skinner.
Bureau	43	4,027	5,683
Grundy	26	2,402	1,215
Henry	46	4,021	3,774
Knox	54	5,532	2,896
La Salle	90	7,791	7,743
Marshall	16	1,565	1,304
Peoria	139	9,931	5,458
Putnam	7	625	686
Stark	11	1,173	685
Woodford	29	1,957	1,513
Totals	461	39,024	30,957

This was the third successive victory for the Peorian, but his best previous record was a vote of 30,837 and a majority of 5,493 in 1927. His opponent that year, and also on the occasion of his first election in 1918, was Charles C. Craig of Galesburg, a former justice of the Supreme court whom the Horner forces turned down in the Democratic nominating convention this year.

See November Omen.

Republicans also saw in the outcome of the voting a good omen for the national and state elections next November. In the last presidential year, 1932, Roosevelt carried the Fifth district by 25,749 votes. He carried every one of the ten counties except Henry county, which now is believed to have returned to the Republican column.

The district was thoroughly Republican as recently as 1928, when Herbert Hoover carried it by 45,542 votes. The Democrats that year cast less than 40 per cent of the vote. In the 1932 landslide that percentage jumped to 55. Now apparently it has fallen to approximately 45.

Gov. Horner made no secret of the activities of the downstate organization which carried him to victory everywhere except in Cook county seven weeks ago today.

Action on a resolution for an investigation of these activities, which was introduced by State Senator Thomas P. Gunning of Princeton, was blocked by the Democratic majority in the senate so that no action could be taken upon it until after the election.

Stone Thanks Supporters.

Justice Stone, who refrained from partisan appeals during his quiet campaign in which he ran on his eighteen years' record on the Supreme bench, referred to the nature of the activities against him in a brief statement issued after the returns came in.

"I am deeply grateful," he said, "for the generous and untiring support given me in this campaign. It is with especial pride that I am able to point out that the people of my district again have demonstrated that they will not permit politics to dominate their selection of a justice of the Supreme court."

SENATE GIVES PRESIDENT NEW CASH TO SPEND

Tugwell's 'Utopia' Is Also Approved.

Wage Law Ruled Out

Supreme court, by 5 to 4 decision, declares unconstitutional New York state's law providing minimum wages for women and minors; majority opinion declares law conflicts with fourteenth amendment in that it violates freedom of contract. Details on page 4.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—By a vote of 62 to 14 the senate tonight passed the 2 billion 375 million dollar deficiency bill carrying 1 billion 425 million dollars for President Roosevelt to spend as he pleases for so-called "relief and work relief."

The bill now goes to conference with the house of representatives, whose measure turned over all the relief money to WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins for his boondoggling program.

A night session was held to permit passage of the last "must" measure on the legislative program except the 789 million dollar tax bill, which the senate will take up tomorrow with the prospect of speedy passage. A possible conference deadlock over the drastic undistributed earnings tax rates demanded by President Roosevelt and carried out in the house bill is the only thing that may prevent adjournment of congress by Saturday night.

Three Democrats Oppose.

Only three Democrats voted against the relief-deficiency bill—Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, Robert J. Bulkley of Ohio, and Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

Senator Byrd, in a brief statement explaining his vote, said the people of this country had the right to expect that when conditions improve governmental expenditures will be decreased. During the next fiscal year, he declared, the government will spend 1 billion dollars more than the expenditures for the present fiscal year, exclusive of the bonus.

Senator Byrd offered an amendment to reduce the relief appropriation by 20 per cent, but the senators manifested their interest in economy during an election year by roaring down the amendment in a voice vote.

Senator Daniel O. Hastings [Rep., Del.], who also denounced extravagance and waste under the New Deal, produced figures to show that the entire statutory net income of all the corporations and all the individuals in the United States would not be sufficient, if confiscated by taxation, to meet the estimated government expenditures for the next fiscal year—8 billion 275 million dollars.

Check on Waste Howled Down.

Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg [Rep., Mich.] offered his substitute for the relief bill, which would have turned over administration of the funds to bipartisan state boards and required states to contribute 25 per cent of the federal contributions. Political discrimination would have been a crime.

Senator Vandenberg said he had no "illusions" as to what the senate would do with his substitute, and he was right, for it went down in a thunderous chorus of "noes." He offered it, he said, convinced that local responsibility, where the neighbors know and should decide what persons need relief and in what form, is the only means of eliminating "waste, extravagance and political exploitation."

Borah Assails Substitute.

With the exception of Senator Lewis B. Schwellenbach, a wild Democrat from Washington, whence hails the notorious Marion A. Zioncheck, the Democrats disdained to even reply to Senator Vandenberg. Schwellenbach read extracts from speeches made by "another outstanding candidate for the Republican nomination for President," Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas, wherein he praised the WPA and the old CWA as being sound and constructive undertakings, and said Kansas would take all such money it could get.

Senator Vandenberg's proposal was attacked by another Republican presidential aspirant, Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, who defended Mr.

Sen. Serritella Hard to Find, Even at Home

State Senator Daniel A. Serritella is even more elusive nowadays than he used to be when he was generally regarded as Alphonse Capone's liaison man with the city hall. This was when the senator was city sealer and Capone was the big beer, alcohol, and gambling man of these parts.

Deputy sherifs reported yesterday that they could not find State Senator Serritella and serve him with notice of a suit filed to contest his election in April as delegate to the Republican national convention from the First congressional district. County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki continued a hearing on the matter until Friday.

Sharpe Suggests a Reason.

The reason the deputies couldn't find their man, according to Horace M. Sharpe, who filed the contest, is that they didn't look for him in his apartment at 2127 Prairie avenue. Mr. Sharpe, who lost the delegate's place by 181 votes and claims he was counted out of 500 votes, lives [it's just a coincidence] at the same address.

"He's home," said Mr. Sharpe last night. "I can hear him moving around. I guess they'll be able to find him when they want to."

Four days have already passed since the contest was filed. It is doubtful, even if Senator Serritella could be found and if Mr. Sharpe's contentions are correct, that a recount could be held in time to prevent his going to Cleveland as a delegate next Tuesday. And there is little possibility the deputies will find him today.

A Lieutenant of Capone.

Serritella, a former newsboy, was elected president of the Newsboys Protective association in 1920. He became prominent in Italian fraternal affairs in his youth and rode to political preferment on the strength of that and of Capone's backing.

In 1927 a former Republican mayor appointed him city sealer. The city sealer's duties are to see that the people of Chicago get correct weights from their butchers, grocers and coal and ice dealers, etc. He held the post for four years.

In 1932, after he was out of this office, he was indicted and tried on a charge of conspiring with dishonest merchants, who were defrauding the public with short weights. A jury found Serritella and his first assistant, Harry Hochstein, guilty, and they were sentenced to a year in jail. In November, 1933, the Illinois Appellate court reversed the conviction on the ground that the state had not proved the pair guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Serritella is Republican committeeman for the First ward with the tacit consent of Michael [Hinky Dink] Kenna, Democratic ward boss. He is serving his second term as state senator.

Mr. Sharpe, a former assistant state's attorney and former assistant city corporation counsel, made the race for the Municipal court in 1934, but was defeated. The Chicago Bar association described him as having "a good reputation for honesty and integrity."

Sharpe received 5,051 votes for national delegate, on the official returns, against 5,232 for Serritella. The other Republican delegate elected from the district [there are two] is Roscoe Conkling Simmons, colored orator. He received 10,277 votes.

EX-SENATOR J. A. REED MAY BE INVITED TO G. O. P. CONVENTION

Cleveland, O., June 1.—[Special.]—A resolution inviting former United States Senator James A. Reed, Democrat, of Missouri to address the Republican national convention will be placed before the Republican committee on arrangements tomorrow, it was learned tonight.

The purpose of the move was described by members of the Republican national committee as a bid for the support of conservative and anti-New Deal Democrats during the coming presidential campaign. Some committee members expressed the view that the resolution should be extended other prominent Democrats who have criticized the Roosevelt administration.

Alfred E. Smith, former governor of New York, and Lewis A. Douglas, former director of the federal budget, were mentioned as persons whom it might be desirable to invite before the convention. The idea for the invitation of ex-Senator Reed came from Walter E. Edge, former ambassador to France, in a suggestion made to the national committee last December.

HEN ADOPTS FIVE KITTENS; DRIVES OFF MOTHER CAT

Racine, Wis., June 1.—[Special.]—A motherly hen on the Wesley Roberts farm on the Durand road forcibly took a litter of five new born kittens from their mother three weeks ago, and has maintained possession of them since despite efforts of the cat to reclaim them.

The hen built a nest for the kittens in a manger. The mother cat is only allowed to come to this nest to nurse the offspring. At all other times, the hen fights off the rightful mother.

A week ago the cat, during a temporary absence of the hen, carried the kittens to another part of the farm. The hen, after much searching, found them there and brought them back to the manger.

Land, Sea, Air Din 'Welcome' to Queen Mary

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Cheered by thousands ashore and afloat, England's new 80,000 ton challenger for Atlantic supremacy, the 1,018 foot Queen Mary, completed her maiden voyage to the United States this afternoon, sliding into her berth at the foot of West 15th street as smoothly and easily as a yacht.

She had failed by the narrowest of margins to win back for England the coveted blue pennant that the Normandie, on her record-breaking maiden voyage a year ago, captured for France. Her British officers made no excuses, although fog cut down the new ship's speed materially.

Even though the Queen Mary had failed to prove herself the fastest ship afloat, and while her great bulk was equaled, if not excelled, by the Normandie, she was new, and the harbor craft and the people of the city joined in giving her the royal welcome that was due the first Cunarder to be christened by a queen with her own name.

Surrounded by Smaller Craft.

From the moment she dropped her 16 ton bow anchor at quarantine, about 10 a. m., until 4:10 p. m., when she began discharging her 1,849 passengers after an upriver wind had snapped an 8 inch hawser, the great, proud ship was surrounded by a flotilla of tugs, yachts, excursion boats, and other small craft, while airplanes aloft dipped their wings in salute. Thousands of persons lined the shore and admired her trim lines from afar.

This newest trans-Atlantic giant failed by only 42 minutes to match her rival's time. The competition between the two liners for the speed record probably will be as keen in the future as the old rivalry of Mississippi river steamboats, for few maritime experts believe that either ship has been unthrottled to the limit.

Speed Records Compared.

The Queen Mary averaged 29.13 knots on a measured course of 3,158 nautical miles, between Cherbourg breakwater and Ambrose light, completing the journey between those two points in 4 days 12 hours 24 minutes at 9:03 a. m.

The Normandie, sailing a slightly different course of 3,192 nautical miles from Southampton to Ambrose a year ago, averaged 29.64 knots and completed the ocean crossing in 4 days 11 hours 42 minutes.

The passengers aboard the new liner praised her highly for her steadiness and absence of vibration, even when running at her top speed

Put Zioncheck in a Clinic for Test of Sanity

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—The nation's capital breathed easier tonight with the knowledge that Representative Marion A. Zioncheck [Dem., Wash.] was safely stowed away in the Municipal hospital under "mental observation" following a day of escapades that eclipsed all past performances.

A general police order went out for the madcap congressman after he had driven his speedy roadster across the White House lawn and had sent the city's populace, in general, scurrying for cover. A cordon of puffing policemen caught up with him in the grounds of the naval hospital. Struggling and cursing, Zioncheck was dragged away to the municipal clinic for examination.

Finds Executive "Out."

On the axiom that a straight line is shorter than a winding drive, Zioncheck sent his sleek black car slithering over the well kept White House lawn and came to a stop at the executive wing. He was informed that Mr. Roosevelt was out.

"Here's some gas for the President," replied the legislator, tossing a brief case to a secret service man. The contents were three empty bottles and two tin cans, one filled with ping-pong balls and the other with moth balls.

His mission, said the statesman from Washington, was to ask the President for machine guns and tanks so he could blow up a downtown hotel where his bride of a month was reported to be in hiding.

Missing Since Saturday.

Mrs. Zioncheck, the former Miss Ruby E. Louise Nix of Texas, has been missing since Saturday afternoon.

On his way to the White House, Zioncheck went through red lights, drove down the left side of a downtown street and when a real trafic jam loomed up he nonchalantly took to a sidewalk.

After leaving his gift for the President, Zioncheck sped away to the office of United States Attorney Leslie Garnet to demand a warant for Vice President Garner on the belief that he knew something about his wife's whereabouts because he, too, came from Texas.

The quest was futile and when Zioncheck emerged he found a courtesy card stuck in his windshield pointing out that he had parked in a forbidden zone, which constituted a trafic violation.

Writ Charges "Annoyances."

Undaunted, the congressman threw his car into gear and whacked into the rear of another machine. Policemen untangled Zioncheck's car and helped him maneuver to the middle of the street. Away he whizzed and soon was doing sixty miles an hour.

Superintendent of Police Brown called in his aids for a conference and it was decided that it was best for all concerned to arrest Zioncheck.

The police commitment was signed by A. P. Stump, sanitary officer of the police department. The information contained in the paper charged Zioncheck with driving "his automobile in a reckless manner" and annoying citizens and public officials.

LANDON RETAINS HIS LEAD IN POLL OF CHURCH VOTE

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Straw votes gathered at Chicago churches in THE TRIBUNE's preconvention presidential poll gave leads to Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas among the aspirants for the Republican nomination for the White House at the Cleveland convention which opens June 9. Straws from seven cities in central and southern Illinois favored the Kansas governor.

With a total of 24,562 votes now compiled for three days of polling Landon has about 51 per cent of the 10,690 straws cast for Republican candidates. Sole purpose of the poll is to gauge popular sentiment in Chicago and Illinois on the question "Who is your choice for nomination for President?" by the two great parties.

Results of Three Days' Poll.

"Vote for one only," says the straw ballot above the names of the Republican and Democratic candidates. The results of the poll to date are:

Candidate.	Previously reported.	Yesterday's totals.	Totals to date.	Pct. of Rep. vote.
REPUBLICANS.
Dickinson	184	46	230	2.2
Knox	1,761	462	2,223	20.8
Landon	4,280	1,187	5,467	51.1
Taft	174	30	204	1.9
Vandenberg	503	97	600	5.6
Others	183	24	207	1.9
DEMOCRATS.
Roosevelt	10,625	3,065	13,690
Grand total straw vote	19,197	5,365	24,562

The downstate vote compiled yesterday came largely from counties which were carried by Senator William E. Borah in the Republican preferential primaries last April. In the straw poll in Peoria Landon got more votes than all other Republican candidates combined. In the primaries Borah carried Peoria county by a large margin over Frank Knox.

Distribution of Landon Vote.

As the percentages stand on 10,690 Republican straws in the tabulation, Landon has more than 46 per cent of the downstate Republican straw votes and in Chicago over 52 per cent.

In Galesburg, home of Omer Custer, delegate at large to Cleveland, who is spoken of as possible chairman of the Illinois delegation, Gov. Landon had more straw votes than the other Republican candidates combined. Knox county, of which Galesburg is the county seat, gave Mr. Knox a vote of almost two to one over Borah in the preferential primaries. This G. O. P. county cast more votes for Knox and Borah combined than for President Roosevelt in the primaries.

In St. Clair County.

St. Clair county, a populous industrial area opposite St. Louis, gave Knox a margin over Borah in the primaries. Straw votes at East St. Louis and Belleville in this county gave Landon a margin. In the April primaries Roosevelt got twice as many votes in St. Clair county as did Borah and Knox combined, and this is reflected in the straw vote.

In the poll to date President Roosevelt has 56 per cent of the total 20,000 straw votes compiled in Chicago. This is a considerable drop from the ratio he held in the April primaries, when he had approximately 72 per cent of the Chicago vote cast for all candidates, Republican and Democrat. He has 53 per cent of the downstate straws—in the primaries he had 51.5 per cent of the total preferential vote cast in both parties downstate.

Trends in the Church Poll.

The straw vote taken among churchgoers of various denominations last Sunday showed some interesting tendencies. The politicians have been making much of trends in national origins groups. So the church straws were broken down into such groups as nearly as possible. In the church poll Gov. Landon had 52.7 per cent of the total Republican vote. President Roosevelt had 58.5 per cent of all votes cast.

Polls taken at eight churches in which the congregations are preponderantly of Irish origin gave Landon 48 per cent of the Republican straws and Roosevelt 70 per cent of all straws. In six Polish churches the Landon per cent of Republicans was 44.7 and the Roosevelt per cent of all was 74.5.

Straw votes from 17 churches with congregations of German origin showed a much smaller proportion for Roosevelt. He had 59.3 per cent of all straws; Landon had 45 per cent of all Republican straws.

Five polls of churches of predominantly Anglo-Saxon stock gave Landon 63.5 per cent of Republican straws and Roosevelt 47 per cent of the total. Polls at six Norwegian churches gave Landon 52 per cent of the Republican straws and Roosevelt 39 per cent of the total poll.

Some of these church polls will be added later to the church straws published today.

'SHRINKING MAN' GAINS ¼ INCH; FIGHTS MALADY

Minneapolis Minn., June 1.—(AP)—A quarter-inch gain in stature doesn't seem like a thing to become excited about, but to Hans Johnson it's the best news in years. Johnson, victim of a strange malady, lost 10½ inches in height over a period of years up to last July.

Now he has quit "shrinking" and believes he will regain some of the weight and height lost during a gradual contraction. Physicians attributed it to the sapping of calcium through an overactive parathyroid gland.

Originally 5 feet 10½ inches tall, he was only five feet last summer. Now, he says, he stands at 5 feet ¼ inch.

For nearly a year he has been under the care of University of Minnesota doctors. Part of the treatment consisted of a calcium diet. Now he is back home on an ordinary diet—plus a quart of milk a day and cod liver oil concentrate.

Evanston Folks Reminded That Brookfield Has a Zoo

The Evanston city council last night gave heed to a request by John T. McCutcheon, president of the Chicago Zoölogical society, that Evanstonians visit the zoo at Brookfield on July 12, which has been set aside as Evanston day. Mr. McCutcheon, in a letter to Mayor Charles H. Bartlett, pointed out that a survey showed only a small percentage of the residents of the suburb had visited the zoo.

Confesses Part in Street Fight Fatal to Bus Driver

Jerry Pyne, 37 years old, 7039 Dante avenue, an unemployed chauffeur, confessed last night to Deputy Chief of Detectives Walter Storms that he was one of the two men responsible for the death last Nov. 11 of John McNellis, 38 years old, 6335 Greenwood avenue, a bus driver. Pyne said he struck McNellis during a drunken brawl at 53d street and Dorchester avenue and then fled with a companion who was also in the fight.

Widow of Pres. Roosevelt Unable to See Convention

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 1.—(AP)—A friend said tonight that Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of former President Theodore Roosevelt, would be unable to attend the Republican national convention at Cleveland next week, as had been intimated. Convalescence from a hip fracture last fall had not proceeded to a point permitting her to leave the family home, Sagamore Hill, the announcement said.

Walter Morosco in Court on $364 Socks, Shirts Bill

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—[Special.]—Walter Morosco, one time millionaire theater operator, today was called before Municipal Court Referee Ned Mulville for examination as to nonpayment of a $364 bill for socks and shirts he ran up with a London haberdashery in 1932. Morosco asserted he expected a film studio job and promised to pay the bill when he went on salary. He said he was without funds at present.

Three Days' Results of The Tribune Pre-Convention Straw Vote

A total of 24,562 straw votes collected by the canvassers in Chicago and downstate gives the following results on the question: "Whom do you favor for nomination for President?"

WPA STAF GRABS RULE OF QUEENS, CHARGES HARVEY

Borough Head Scores Waste of Money.

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Telephone books, the city's official directory, and a postoffice department to the contrary, the Queens borough hall is not at 2110 49th avenue, Long Island City, but two blocks south in a seven story factory that is occupied by the Welfare Parks association Queens administrative staf, according to George U. Harvey, the borough head.

There a virtual duplicate borough government has been set up, reducing the ordinary governmental agencies to little more than advisory bureaus, he declared, continuing his criticism of the relief system which made him a constant thorn in the side of WPA.

Spends 14 Million Yearly.

This new government employs between 750 and 900 staf members in contrast with the 241 on Harvey's staf. It is spending at the rate of 14 million dollars a year, against his 5 million dollars, and it has built itself offices that seem luxurious beside the dingy cubicles where he and his staf carry on their duties.

"I wonder if the taxpayer realizes to what extent the federal government has taken control over local affairs," Harvey, who recently cast a bombshell in official Washington with his charges of waste and inefficiency in the WPA system, asked.

System Invalid, Says Harvey.

"This system, I am sure, is unconstitutional, because under section 338 of the city charter the borough president is specifically made responsible for highway and sewer construction.

"In theory we are the sponsors of the WPA projects here, but that right also is largely fictitious. For instance, we ask the WPA people to build us a garage. They do so at three times its fair cost.

"There was a time when we ran our own relief show," he explained. "The only administrative staf we needed was the one we have now of 241 persons plus fifty clerks from the relief rolls."

From Aug. 1, 1935, until April 1 of this year the Queens borough WPA government spent $8,689 for renting passenger motor cars for official business, Harvey said.

SPANGLER TAKES HIS STAF TO CLEVELAND FOR G. O. P. SESSIONS

Harrison E. Spangler, director of the western division for the Republican national committee, left yesterday for Cleveland with his staf to open a western division headquarters for the Republican national convention which is to begin June 9.

Mrs. Daisy Williams, in charge of farm women's activities in the western division, who has been in the divisional offices here, accompanied Mr. Spangler to Cleveland. There they will be joined by Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, Ohio national committeewoman and convention hostess to the women delegates.

BRYAN DAUGHTER TIES UP FUNDS OF EX-HUSBAND

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—[Special.]—Mrs. Grace Bryan Hargreaves, daughter of the late William J. Bryan, and divorced wife of Richard B. Hargreaves, today obtained a writ of execution tying up all bank accounts and holdings of Hargreaves, former president of the closed Beverly Hills National bank.

Hargreaves, who recently was pardoned after serving part of a federal sentence for misapplying bank funds, is now the husband of Helen Ferguson, former movie star.

During one court hearing in his long standing litigation with his ex-wife, he declared Miss Ferguson had been supplying the money with which he met prior alimony instalments. Mrs. Grace Hargreaves claims $6,100 support money is due her.

U. S. Grand Jury to Act Against Slayers June 11

The federal grand jury of the northern district of Indiana will be impaneled at South Bend on June 11 to act on murder charges against Harlan Crouch and James Jacobs, who have confessed the slaying of John R. Foster, federal alcohol tax agent, near Hammond on May 14.

GAVELS GIVEN TO SNELL FOR G.O.P.CONVENTION

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—While both sides of the house applauded, Representative Bertrand H. Snell [Rep., N. Y.] was presented today with two gavels and a board for use at the Republican convention.

The gift by his Republican colleagues was tendered by Representative Allen Treadway [Rep., Mass.], who greeted Snell as the chairman of the Republican convention and added he would have need of a sturdy gavel. The second gavel, of lighter construction, was a souvenir "to hand down to posterity."

Seven Sing Sing Convicts Slay a Fellow Prisoner

Ossining, N. Y., June 1.—[Special.]—A life term convict was injured fatally here late today in Sing Sing by seven other prisoners. The dead man was a musician in the prisoners' band. Officials expressed the belief that other members of the band considered him responsible for a recent cut in their small salary. The dead man was Frank Lopez, 44 years old, who formerly lived in the Bronx.

WPA 'SHANGHAIS' PUPILS FOR ITS FREE CLASSES

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

The difficulties of a recruiting agent for the adult educational classes of the Works Progress administration were described yesterday by one of the sixty men and women who are paid $55 and $65 a month for this work. Although the classes are free and they offer instruction in 477 subjects, it is found necessary to recruit constantly for this form of New Deal bounty.

"To remain in operation," the WPA recruiter explained, "each class must have at least ten students. Lots of classes are on the border line, so we have to continue recruiting to replace those who are dropping out.

Carrying Water in a Sieve.

"We work hard to get from thirty to fifty new students a week, but when we get them it doesn't mean they'll stay. Often it's hard to sell the idea, even though the classes are free.

"The worst part for us is that we have to pay our own car fare, about 50 cents a day, so we have practically nothing left to live on."

Five days a week, the sixty procurement specialists report at a school in the morning and are given lists of prospects in a certain territory in the manner of the highly organized sales campaigns of private business. The prospects are persons who formerly attended either WPA classes or public school evening classes.

"We tell them," continued the WPA salesman, "that the classes are better than those they previously attended and describe the subjects we think most interesting. After showing them how near the class is to their home, we try to get them to sign up."

Utility Is the Idea Stressed.

Comments M. R. Griggsby, the project superintendent:

"You've got to get out and sell them on the idea that the institution will do them good. We have got some exceptionally good people into classes by recruiting—those who need education the most.

"In the colored neighborhoods our recruiters talk to 'key people' who can furnish names of persons who might join. When students drop out, the recruiters call to find out what's the matter; we give them what they want providing we can justify it."

Mr. Griggsby said daily attendance at WPA schools has risen from 20,000 in January to 30,000 currently.

An increase in the board of education's naturalization classes to a total 1,000 greater than their enrollment ever attained before is credited by Miss Frances Wetmore to efforts of thirty-four foreign language speaking recruiters assigned by WPA to this special task. These procurement workers—not included in the sixty aiding regular WPA schools—have brought in 3,500 of the 6,000 now enrolled.

NYE RESERVES HIS OPINION OF LANDON PENDING PLATFORM

Salina, Kas., June 1.—(AP)—Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, stating he favored Senator W. E. Borah for the Republican presidential nomination, said today he would withhold his position on Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, in event of the latter's nomination, until adoption of a platform and announcement of Landon's position on controversial issues.

Controversial issues on which he said he would desire to know Landon's stand included farm and neutrality legislation.

Nye, here for a commencement address at Kansas Wesleyan college, said the Republican party "must have a liberal platform and candidate."

"A conservative candidate and platform would be suicide," he said.

ARCH NEW DEAL FOE, DICKINSON, LEADS IOWA VOTE

BULLETIN.

Des Moines, Ia., June 2 (Tuesday).—(Special.)—Latest returns from yesterday's Republican senatorial primary in 875 precincts of the state's 2,442 give:

Dickinson, 38,251.
Brookhart, 20,520.

In the same number of precincts Herring in the Democratic race for senator polled 25,255 votes and Utterback 19,002.

Des Moines, Ia., June 1.—[Special.]—Senator L. J. Dickinson, relentless foe of the New Deal, on early returns from today's Republican senatorial primary, led his nearest opponent, Smith W. Brookhart, by 10,000 votes.

Dickinson, called by Democratic National Committeeman James Farley the New Deal's "public enemy No. 1," had 23,110 votes to Brookhart's 13,478. Brookhart, former radical Republican senator from Iowa, recently resigned as Russian trade adviser under the New Deal.

Polls 37 Pct. of Total Vote.

Senator Dickinson, on the basis of early returns, was collecting 37 per cent of the total vote cast by Republicans. Mayor Edwin Manning of Ottumwa had 5,330 votes, Guy Linville of Cedar Rapids 4,707, Norman Baker of Muscatine 3,687, and George Chaney of Des Moines 2,018 in returns from 376 precincts.

The big question in the primary had been whether or not the large field of Republican senatorial candidates would keep Dickinson from winning the necessary 35 per cent of the total vote to keep the choice out of the convention.

On the Democratic side Gov. Clyde L. Herring was building up a lead over Congressman Hubert Utterback. Herring in 585 precincts had 16,494, Utterback 13,215. A third candidate for senator, Sam Whiting, trailed with 2,500.

Scattered returns indicated a victory for George Wilson of Des Moines in the Republican contest for governor. With 373 of the state's 2,442 precincts heard from, Wilson led his closest opponent, John Grimes of Osceola, 21,306 to 14,255.

Lieut. Gov. Nels Kraschel of Harlan was the probable Democratic candidate for governor. Kraschel in 392 precincts led Richard F. Mitchell of Fort Dodge, 12,146 to 7,485.

G. O. P. May Win House Seat.

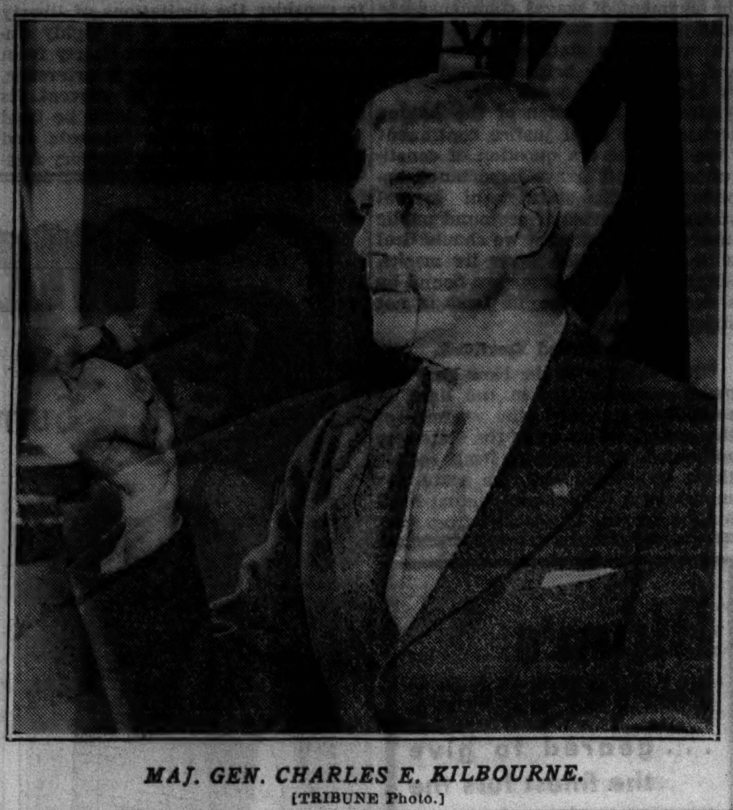
All of the incumbent Democrats in state office seeking renomination appeared certain of their goal. They include Mrs. Alex Miller, secretary of state, and C. W. Storms, auditor, who were opposed, and Leo J. Wegman, treasurer, who was not opposed.

Secretary of Agriculture Ray Murray abandoned his office to seek the Eighth district congressional nomination while Attorney General Edward L. O'Connor was not a candidate for renomination.

Based on early returns, Republicans appear likely to pick up a congressional seat in the Sixth district next fall. Each of four Republicans was polling more votes than the highest Democrat seeking nomination for the place vacated by Utterback. Former Congressman C. C. Dowell led with 99 of 215 precincts reported, followed in order by Dwight Lewis, Frank Hallagan, and O. E. Neal.

Two of the three incumbent Republican congressmen were leading challengers in the primary vote. The third, Fred Gilchrist, in the eighth, was unopposed. The others are Lloyd Thurston in the fifth and John W. Gwynne in the third.

Takes Command of Sixth Corps Area



MAJ. GEN. CHARLES E. KILBOURNE.

Succeeds Hagood

Maj. Gen. Charles E. Kilbourne, a veteran of campaigns in the Philippines, China, and France, yesterday assumed command of the Sixth corps area here, succeeding Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood, who retired shortly after taking command here.

Gen. Kilbourne said his only plan was to try to do as good a job as Maj. Gen. Frank McCoy, who was transferred after nearly a year here to command the Second corps area at New York. General and Mrs. Kilbourne, who arrived on Sunday from Fort Sam Houston, Tex., where he commanded the Second division, are living at the Whitehall Apartment hotel.

Since being commissioned a lieutenant in 1898 during the Spanish war, Gen. Kilbourne has been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, the American Distinguished Service Cross, the French Croix de Guerre with Palm, and the French Legion of Honor.

OAK PARK WATER LEAK HUNT SAVES TOWN $40 A DAY

Cary De Butts, Oak Park, commissioner of public works, disclosed last night in a letter to the village board that a partially completed survey of the village water system already has effected a saving of $40 a day.

Last winter village officials discovered that Oak Park was losing about 1,500,000 gallons of water daily in leakage after the water had been pumped into village mains from Chicago. This represented a daily loss of $105. The Pitometer company of New York was engaged on March 14 at a cost of $6,500 to make a survey.

After completing examination of one-third of the village De Butts said yesterday the company found a daily loss of 337,000 gallons, of which 173,000 gallons were lost in village mains and the rest in the pipes of fifteen property owners. As fast as the leaks were discovered, De Butts said, they were repaired.

Roosevelt's Mother Able to Sit Up for First Time

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today reported that her mother-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt, who recently suffered a hip injury, sat up yesterday for the first time. Mrs. Roosevelt saw the President's mother during a week-end trip to New York, and reported that she was very cheerful.

RAINS END SPRING DROUTH IN NORTH CENTRAL STATES

May Here Fifth Warmest on Record.

After a warm and dusty spring the first summer month started out yesterday with a general rainfall throughout most of the central west and the northern tier of states. The downpour proved a boon to farmers, whose crops have been retarded by the dry spell.

The precipitation in the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night was recorded as only .22 of an inch at the University of Chicago, but there were heavier downpours in other parts of the city and in the suburbs. Milwaukee had 1.38 inches.

The northern half of Illinois and Indiana benefited from the rain, as did most of Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Iowa, Oklahoma, Minnesota, Nebraska, and the Dakotas. Forecaster C. A. Donnell predicted showers would continue today, moving into the southern part of the state, Indiana, Missouri, and parts of Kansas.

A Third Below Normal.

Including the showers yesterday, there has been 8.80 inches of precipitation here since Jan. 1, 4¼ inches [almost a third] less than the normal amount of 13.09 inches.

Weather bureau records disclosed that the last three months were unusually dry and warm, although no records were set. Only eight other Aprils have been cooler, but March and May were warmer than normal. With a mean temperature of 64.4 degrees, May was the fifth warmest on record.

The sun shone for at least part of every day last month, giving May 74 per cent of the possible amount of sunshine, about 10 per cent above the normal.

River Forest Parade Delayed.

The rain which began at 3 p. m. in the Chicago area yesterday caused River Forest officials to postpone until this evening a parade which was scheduled to start observance of the village centennial celebration. Today will be devoted to the youth of the village, with organized drills and competitive exhibitions.

Lightning, which accompanied the rain, struck at Geneva, killing Victor Schrauth, 31 years old, a farmer, while he was returning from a pasture with some live stock.

ENGAGEMENT OF SON IS DENIED BY GOV. CURLEY

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Gov. James M. Curley of Massachusetts in a telephone conversation from Boston tonight, denied reports current here that his son, Paul, 22, was engaged to marry Lillian Duval, former artists' model and now a dancer in the Hollywood restaurant, one of the city's gayest night life spots.

"Paul certainly would have told me if he had become engaged," said Gov. Curley. "I doubt seriously the rumors from which have grown choice bits in the newspapers. I doubt that he is even thinking of being engaged, and know that if he got married now he would have no money with which to support a wife."

Miss Duval, whose real name is Lillian Phillips, lives with her mother in upper Manhattan. She referred all questioners today to the press agent of the Hollywood restaurant.

CHARGES WOMAN USED HIS CASH TO BUY NIGHT CLUB

Judge Ralph J. Dady of the Lake county Circuit court at Waukegan yesterday granted Richard L. Pearce, 54 years old, an injunction restraining Mrs. Mabel Brantman, 42 years old, from disposing of the Caliente night club in Waukegan, two cottages at Diamond lake, an automobile, and three promissory notes.

The bill, filed by Attorney Gerald C. Snyder, says Pearce met Mrs. Brantman two years ago when she lived at 4521 North Malden avenue, and since then has helped support her. Pearce charges she persuaded him to deposit the $17,538 he received recently from an English inheritance in a joint bank account, purchased the night club, the cottages, and the automobile with his money, and withdrew the notes from his safety deposit box.

When he sought a settlement from her she caused his arrest twice on disorderly conduct charges which were dismissed last Friday.

SECRET HEARING HELD ON BUEHLER ALIMONY BOOST

Judge Rudolph F. Desort of the Superior court conducted a secret hearing yesterday on the petition of Mrs. Goldie Buehler, 151 Abingdon avenue, Kenilworth, for an increase in temporary alimony from her husband, Albert C. Buehler, president of the Victor Adding Machine company.

Mrs. Buehler, who is 36 years old, was awarded $300 a month for her support and that of their four children, the oldest of whom is 15 years old, pending the trial of her divorce suit charging cruelty.

According to Vernon R. Loucks, attorney for Buehler, who now is living on his Barrington farm, Mrs. Buehler alleges that her husband has attempted to alienate the children by "impressing them with his supposed wealth." Mrs. Buehler's bill states her husband has an income of $15,000 and is worth $150,000. Judge Desort continued the hearing until next Monday.

ROOSEVELT'S KIN ENDS LIFE IN ARGENTINA AFTER GIRL SPURNS HIM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 1.—A telegram from Resistencia, Argentine Chaco, today reported the suicide of Robert B. Delano, a second cousin of President Roosevelt. He was submanager of the cotton firm of Anderson, Clayton & Co. Delano left a letter for President Roosevelt and another for a Washington society girl, the message stated.

The telegram said it was understood the suicide was motivated by unrequited love. Delano was in his early twenties.

Robert Delano was a son of Lyman Delano, chairman of the board of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad and a first cousin of President Roosevelt. He was a close associate of the President's sons. The Delano home is in New York City. The family also has a country home at Barrytown, N. Y.

Robert was the youngest son in a family of three boys and one girl. His grandfather, Warren Delano, was a brother of the President's mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

PHILIP ARMOURS' SON IS STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS

Philip D. Armour IV., great grandson of the founder of Armour & Co., is ill in Passavant hospital with infantile paralysis, it was learned last night. His parents, the Philip D. Armours of Lake Bluff, have taken an adjoining room to be near their son.

The young man, who is 19 years old, is under the care of Dr. Eugene S. Talbot Jr. Dr. Talbot would not comment on the condition of his patient, but Mr. Armour said his son had only a slight attack and was "coming along fine."

Young Armour became ill last Friday, it was learned, and was taken to the hospital on Sunday. He apparently contracted the disease at St. Marks' preparatory school in Southboro, Mass., which was quarantined May 20. He and his cousin, Charles, son of A. Watson Armour, returned home the next day.

The elder Mr. Armour said yesterday that he understood twelve other cases have been discovered among the students.

UNDERTAKER'S PLACE SET AFIRE; DAMAGE $1,000

Fire, apparently of incendiary origin, caused damage of about $1,000 early today in the garage and a rear room of the undertaking establishment of Boydston Brothers at 4227 Cottage Grove avenue.

The flames were discovered by Charles Dickinson, 4230 Cottage Grove avenue, an employé of the firm. He and J. A. Freeman, an embalmer, seized extinguishers and put out the fire after a brisk battle.

An investigation disclosed that gasoline had been tossed about the floor of the garage and that the tanks on a herse, an ambulance, and two automobiles had been opened. All of the cars were damaged. H. B. Haines, manager of the undertaking business, told the police that he knew of no reason for the vandalism.

ARREST SENATE VISITOR WHEN HE BLOCKS SPEAKER

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—A 40 year old resident of New Orleans stood in the senate gallery today, mumbled a few words, tossed some written material to the chamber floor, and was promptly arrested.

He gave his name as H. K. Balos and a naturalization certificate showed he came to the United States from Corfu, Greece, in 1925.

Senator Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] was making a speech when Balos interrupted. Balos talked for a minute or so in broken English after dropping an envelope to the floor. Then police dashed through the ailes, seized him, and took him to the guard room, where he was searched for weapons. None was found.

TAVERN KEEPER SHOOTS HIS WIFE AND KILLS SELF

James Webb, 38 years old, shot and killed himself early today in his home at 1824 North Park avenue after wounding his wife, Mary, 38 years old, during a quarrel. Mrs. Webb, who was taken to the Augustana hospital, said that her husband had been drinking heavily and that he became angry at her when she refused to dress and go out with him at 2 a. m. She was struck in both legs by bullets from his pistol. Webb was owner of a saloon at 1100 North Clark street.

Statute Held to Violate Free Contracts.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—In a 5 to 4 decision that may be far reaching in its political repercussions, the United States Supreme court today declared unconstitutional New York state's law providing minimum wages for women and minors.

The majority opinion, written by Associate Justice Pierce Butler, held that the minimum wage statute was repugnant to the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment in that it violated freedom of contract.

Chief Justice Dissents.

Chief Justice Hughes, however, dissented, holding that freedom of contract is a qualified right to which must be applied "in each case the test of reasonableness in the circumstances disclosed."

Associate Justice Harlan F. Stone, while agreeing with the chief justice, went still further in a separate dissenting opinion holding that "the vague and general pronouncement of the fourteenth amendment against deprivation of liberty without due process of law is a limitation of legislative power, not a formula for its exercise."

Associate Justices Van Devanter, McReynolds, Sutherland, and Roberts joined with Justice Butler in the majority opinion, while Associate Justices Brandeis, Cardozo, and Stone joined with the chief justice. Justices Brandeis and Cardozo also joined with the dissenting opinion of Justice Stone.

Brings Term to Close.

The case was the last of the Supreme court's unfinished business and brought to a close a term made memorable by the wiping out of New Deal legislation. The court will not meet again until October, and no other New Deal cases will be decided, or even argued, before the November election. During the present term the court has held unconstitutional the Agricultural Adjustment act, processing taxes collected under that act, the municipality bankruptcy act of 1934 and the Guffey coal regimentation act.

The court also has demolished a New Deal theory of administrative law that findings of the executive agencies are not subject to judicial review and severely condemned the securities and exchange commission for refusing to permit a respondent to withdraw a registration of new securities. Such procedure, the court declared, would lead to autocracy. It did not pass upon the validity of the securities act.

Wallace Given Rebuke.

The court at this term has rebuked Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for ordering a reduction in service charges at the Kansas City stock yards without a proper hearing. A lower court decision upholding Wallace was reversed.

In still another case the government suffered a setback when the court denied an injunction to prohibit the Elgin, Joliet, and Eastern railway from hauling products owned by the United States Steel corporation, which also owns the railroad. The court said there was no violation of the commodities clause of the Interstate Commerce act.

With decisions made at this term, the court has rebuffed the New Deal in 9 out of 11 constitutional test cases. At the previous term it held unconstitutional the hot oil section of the NRA, the NRA itself, the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage act, and the railway pension act. Only the TVA and the act abrogating the gold clause have been upheld, the latter being declared unconstitutional with respect to the government's own obligations.

New Dealers Comforted.

Following so closely as it does upon decisions holding the Guffey coal regimentation act and the municipal bankruptcy law unconstitutional—in each of which the invasion of state rights was denounced—today's ruling of the court dramatized the issue of federal versus state powers and gave aid and comfort to the New Dealers.

They see in this decision a pretext of justification of their assaults upon the court, which ruled in the Guffey case that the relationship between employer and employé was a local affair, beyond the reach of congressional power. Now the court holds that the states themselves cannot establish minimum wage laws, and the New Dealers ask what becomes of state rights.

The decision of the majority was based upon the celebrated Adkins case, in which the Supreme court, in 1923, held that congress had no authority to fix minimum wages for women and children of the District of Columbia. Chief Justice Hughes, however, pointed out that this decision was closely divided—5 to 3—and declared: "Such divisions are at times unavoidable, but they point to the desirability of fresh consideration when there are material differences in the cases presented."

Attributed to Frankfurter.

The New York statute, authorship of which was attributed to Prof. Felix Frankfurter of the Harvard law school, one of President Roosevelt's closest advisers, extended to women and minors not engaged in domestic service or agricultural work and defined oppressive and unreasonable wages as being both "less than the fair and reasonable value of the services rendered and less than sufficient to meet the minimum cost of living necessary for health."

The state industrial commissioner was empowered, after investigation, to issue "directory" orders and, after hearings, to issue mandatory orders fixing minimum wages. Violations were punishable by fines and imprisonment.

One Joseph Tipaldo, a laundry proprietor, was arrested and jailed for alleged violations of a mandatory order, but was released on a writ of habeas corpus. The New York Court of Appeals, highest tribunal in that state, held the act unconstitutional, citing the Adkins decision.

Compares Two Statutes.

Mr. Justice Butler's opinion stated that the District of Columbia minimum wage law provided for wages adaquate "to supply the necessary cost of living to any such women workers to maintain them in good health and to protect their morals." The New York statute, he pointed out, added the element of "the fair and reasonable value of the services rendered." The opinion found no distinction between the two statutes.

"The petitioner does not suggest, and reasonably it cannot be thought that, so far as concerns repugnancy to the due process clause, there is any difference between the minimum wage law for the District of Columbia and the clause of the New York act 'less than sufficient to meet the minimum wage cost of living necessary for health,'" the opinion stated.

"The State court rightly held that the Adkins case controls this one and requires that relator be discharged on the ground that legislation on which he was indicted and imprisoned is repugnant to the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment.

Holds Restrain Is Same.

"So far as concerns the validity of the enactment under consideration the restrain imposed by the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment upon legislative power of the state is the same as that imposed by the corresponding provision of the fifth amendment upon the legislative power of the United States.

"The right to make contracts about one's affairs is a part of that liberty protected by the due process clause. Within this liberty are provisions of contracts between employer and employé fixing the wages to be paid.

"In making contracts of employment, generally speaking, the parties have equal right to obtain from each other the best terms they can by private bargaining. Legislative abridgment of that freedom can only be justified by the existence of exceptional circumstances. Freedom of contract is the general rule and restrain the exception."

State's Power Lacking.

The opinion said the court had found not repugnant to the due process clause statutes fixing rates and charges to be exacted by business impressed with a public interest and declared that physical differences between men and women must be recognized in proper cases.

The opinion recalled that the New York legislature passed two laws, one to be permanent, affecting women and minors, and the other to be an emergency measure, affecting men also. The latter statute was vetoed by the governor.

The opinion stated that the "factual backgrounds" were the same in each case and added that it would be "fanciful to suppose that the regulation of women's wages would be useful to prevent or lessen the evils listed in the first section of the act."

"Men in need of work are as likely as women to accept the low wages offered by unscrupulous employers," the opinion continued. "Men in greater number than women support themselves and dependents and because of need will work for whatever wages they can get and that without regard to the value of the service and even though the pay is less than minima prescribed in accordance with this act."

Hughes' Dissenting Opinion.

Chief Justice Hughes declared in his dissenting opinion that the New York Court of Appeals erred in finding the case indistinguishable from the Adkins case despite the "fairly and reasonably commensurate with the value of the service rendered" clause.

The chief justice said the forcing of the payment of wages commensurate with services rendered was a federal and not a state question of law and one never before passed upon by the Supreme court.

After his discussion of the Adkins decision, the chief justice continued: "We have here a question of constitutional law of grave importance, applying to the statutes of several states in a matter of profound public interest. I think that we should deal with that question upon its merits, without feeling that we are bound by a decision which on its facts is not strictly in point.

Liberty Called Qualified.

"The validity of the New York act must be considered in the light of conditions to which the exercise of the protective power of the state was addressed. The statute itself recites these conditions and the state has submitted a voluminous factual brief for the purpose of showing from various official statistics that these recitals have abundant support.

"We have had frequent occasion to consider the limitations of liberty of contract. While it is highly important to preserve that liberty from arbitrary and capricious interference, it also is necessary to prevent its abuse, as otherwise it could be used to override all public interests and thus in the end destroy the very freedom of opportunity which it is designed to safeguard.

"We repeatedly have said that liberty of contract is a qualified and not an absolute right. The numerous restraints that have been sustained have often been recited."

WAGE LAW UPSET IS HAILED AS SAFEGUARD TO INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Arthur Levitt, counsel of Joseph Tipaldo, Brooklyn laundry owner, who brought the complaint in the courts against constitutionality of the New York minimum wage law, upset in today's decision of the Supreme court, hailed the decision as a victory for the constitution and individualism.

The decision "will give great comfort to those who recognize the august tribunal as the guard of inalienable rights of human beings," Levitt said.

"Recent years have brought a great popular demand for laws to control and direct the affairs of men," Levitt added. "A flood of so-called social legislation has resulted.

"But the government is confined within the boundaries of a written constitution. Most important among its restraints is the fourteenth amendment, providing, among other things, that no state shall 'deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law.'"

admits—Mrs. Sarah Sashweight

Mrs. Sashweight, nee Sadie Maguire, has often campaigned for the State Legislature, and will be remembered as one of the leaders of the pre-war fight for more leap years. Her frequent speeches before the "Tall Stories Club" are always eagerly awaited.

"ONE happy day last February (or was it January?—No, February—Well, anyway . . .) I decided to use Red Crown exclusive, for awhile—'stead of shoppin' around for gasoline. I'd heard tell it was the lastingest motor fuel you can buy. But I wasn't ready for the surprise I got.

"Why, I find I can't use up a tankful of Red Crown in a month—just can't do it! After 1000 miles the tank's still half full. So I've hit on just the thing to do about it!

"To keep my Red Crown always fresh—always full of that lively 'Live Power'—I drain it out every thousand miles and fill 'er up again!

"'Silly!' says my husband, Ted Sashweight. But that just shows you how 'silly' some men are! He drains out his oil every thousand miles from his car and I drain out my gasoline. . . . Could anything be more logical, I ask you?"

We like Mrs. Sashweight's independence but we don't believe a word of her story about Standard Red Crown.

We know that Standard Red Crown delivers fully as many miles per gallon as any other gasoline on the market, if not more . . . because this gasoline has "more live power per gallon," which means less waste power per gallon.

But, to dispose of fanciful ideas which may exist about gasoline mileage, Standard is now conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted.

A BULGE IN COAT BETRAYS GUNMAN BREAKING PAROLE

Now Wedding Is Off and He's in Jail.

Acting Lieutenant John Bradley of the North Damen avenue station noticed a bulge in the coat breast of a young man entering a tavern at 3525 Lincoln avenue Sunday night. The policeman yanked open the coat and found the bulge was caused by a sawed off shotgun.

The young man was identified as Frank Crowell, alias Davis, 25 years old, who was paroled from the Pontiac prison Feb. 15, after serving three years and three months on a robbery conviction.

Wedding Bells Silent.

"I don't remember having a gun," Crowell said last night at the detective bureau. "I admit I violated my parole by getting drunk and staying out after hours, but I don't know where I got the gun, if I had one. Why, I was going to be married today, but now I guess I won't be married."

The girl of his choice, he said, was Miss Leona Huisel, 2736 Sheffield avenue. Police went to Miss Huisel's home, but she was away. Her sister, Jessie, said Crowell was at their home Saturday night and what she later thought was a trigger from a shotgun fell from his pocket. Jessie said she would tell her sister about Crowell and she assured them that Leona would appear at the station and tell what she knows about the paroled convict.

Jessie didn't know about the proposed wedding, she declared. Parole officials said Crowell had no permission to get married, as is required by the parole regulation.

Identified as Robber.

Crowell said he had committed no robberies since his parole, but a letter in his pocket bore the name of Arno Lippoldt, 3158 North Clark street, and when police called upon Lippoldt he told them he was held up last week and had lost $60. At the station he identified Crowell as the robber.

The records at the bureau of identification showed Crowell was identified in five robberies which netted him $125 over a period of eleven days. Last February he was paroled to Arthur W. Hill, 1307 Belmont avenue, president of the Western Chain Products company.

PAROLEE FROM MICHIGAN SENT TO PRISON HERE

Andrew Sauer, 34 years old, was found guilty of robbery yesterday and was sentenced to prison for one year to life by Judge Cornelius Harrington in Criminal court.

Sauer said he was paroled two months ago from the Michigan penitentiary at Jackson to take a Salvation Army job in Chicago. He said the parole authorities of Michigan told him if he returned to Michigan before the expiration of his maximum sentence of 5 to 20 years for armed robbery he would be put back in prison as a parole violator.

Less than a month after coming here Sauer quit his job and robbed William Moeler, manager of the John J. Hayes Hat shop in the Palmer House arcade by threatening him with a knife.

START HEARING PAROLE PLEAS OF 259 FELONS

A subcommittee of the Illinois board of pardons and paroles yesterday began investigating 259 applications for paroles and pardons on the June and July docket. The subcommittee met at the old prison in Joliet. Its sessions are expected to continue through Thursday.

Yesterday was visitors' day at the prison and many relatives of convicts appeared before the subcommittee. State Senator Frank McDermott [Dem., 4th, Chicago] sought the release of George Ely, 60 years old, who has served 20 years of a life sentence for slaying Steve Zborel, a Chicago saloonkeeper, on Sept. 26, 1915. "Ely has served long enough. He should be freed," McDermott said.

Mrs. Helen Wiegert, 24 years old, 1836 Monroe street, sought the release of her husband, Edward, 25 years old, who has served eleven months of a one to five year sentence for bigamy. Edward deserted Helen, his first wife, in 1934 to marry Miss Lucille Prapone. "I have forgiven him. I need him to support our three children," Mrs. Wiegert told the subcommittee.

DAY AGGRESSOR IN LOEB KILLING, STATE CONTENDS

Hits Self-Defense Plea; 6 Convicts Testify.

Testimony to show that James Day was the aggressor in the furious battle in a Stateville penitentiary bathroom last Jan. 28, in which he killed his fellow convict, Richard Loeb, one of the slayers of Bobby Franks, was introduced by the state yesterday before Judge Edwin L. Wilson and a jury in the Will county Circuit court at Joliet.

Day, who is 22 years old, has confessed to slashing Loeb to death with a razor. He is on trial for the murder and the jury is qualified to inflict the death penalty if it finds him guilty. Day asserts that he acted in self-defense after Loeb had been annoying him for months.

Six Convicts Testify.

The state's witnesses yesterday included prison officials and six convicts. The substance of their testimony was that Day was nervous and depressed when he went to the bathroom to meet Loeb, while Loeb was in a gay mood.

The prosecution's version of the death battle was told in the opening statement of Assistant State's Attorney Walter Herschbach of Will county. He asserted that Day wielded the razor mercilessly and in a manner to preclude any idea of self-defense.

Today the state will attempt to introduce a purported confession made to investigators by Day after the slaying. This confession is supposed to contain an admission that Day was more aggressive in the razor slashing than was required for self-defense. In this respect the confession will differ from another one made by Day to the prison physician in which the convict told of his struggle to save his life.

Will Ask Directed Verdict.

The state is expected to rest late today. The defense will then make a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal, and if this is denied by Judge Wilson, Day will take the stand in his own behalf, probably tomorrow.

James Austin Humphrey, a guard captain, testified yesterday that he went to the bathroom after the dying Loeb was being carried to the prison emergency hospital.

"Day handed me the razor," Humphrey said, "and declared: 'This is what I did it with, cap.'"

Tells Claim of Assault.

On cross-examination by defense attorney Emmet F. Byrne, Humphrey told of further conversation with Day.

"He said Loeb tried to make an illegal assault on him," Humphrey testified. On the insistance of Byrne, Humphrey quoted Day's exact words.

"Day said he grabbed the razor from Loeb after kicking him," the guard captain added.

Joseph Ragen, warden of the penitentiary, testified Day had no right to enter the bathroom. He said Loeb had such right because he worked in the prison correspondence school, but admitted on cross-examination that Loeb should not have had possession of a key to the bathroom which was locked from the inside during the fatal battle.

Kidnaper on Stand.

The convict witnesses called yesterday were Edward Sklepkowski, Loeb's cellmate; Gail Swolley, Carl J. Mueller, James Kelly, Abe Rudsky, and Dr. Thomas J. Ney. All are serving sentences from Cook county. Dr. Ney was sentenced for performing an illegal operation in Chicago and Swolley is serving a one year to life sentence for the kidnaping of James Hackett, Blue Island gambler, in 1931. They told of Loeb's cheery attitude and Day's contrasting air of depression before the killing.

Loeb was serving sentences of 99 years and life for the kidnaping and murder of the Franks boy in 1924.

Assails Self-Defense Plea.

"Day had asked Loeb to meet him in the bathroom," Herschbach declared, "and made all the arrangements. Day was depressed all day; Loeb was very gay. When Loeb arrived at the bathroom Day was already there, and a combat ensued. Day wielded the razor.

"At one time Loeb was lying unconscious on the floor, helpless, motionless. Day deliberately took a shower and washed the blood from his body, and dried himself with a towel. He heard Loeb moan and saw him start staggering for the door. Day then slashed and slashed again with the razor. He took a second shower.

"The key was always in the door. As Day slipped on the floor on emerging from the shower, Loeb escaped, staggering from the room. About fifty feet away he fell.

"Day's only injury was a black eye he had received in a fist fight with another prison inmate a few days before."

Defense attorneys waived opening statements and the state then began its case. The first witness, Bert Staehely, superintendent of identification at Stateville, identified pictures of Loeb's body taken in the prison hospital after Loeb had died. The pictures, disclosing 53 razor cuts on the body, were admitted in evidence over strenuous defense objections.

Judge Wilson then overruled the state's motion to call its convict witnesses as court witnesses. Had this motion been granted the state would not have been bound by the testimony of these convicts and would have been allowed to cross-examine them.

Surly in Replies.

Sklepkowski, a slight, sallow faced youth of 23, answered questions of Assistant State's Attorney Charles McKeown in a low, surly tone.

Q.—You were Loeb's cellmate. A.—Yes.

Q.—On the morning of Jan. 28 did you see Day? A.—Yes. He came to our cell and said to Loeb: "I'll see you this afternoon." Loeb said all right.

Q.—What was their attitude? A.—It seemed friendly.

Serving 1 to 10 Years.

On cross examination Attorney Harold Levy brought out that Sklepkowski had been in Stateville for two years, serving a 1 to 10 year sentence for larceny from Chicago. He said he first met Loeb on a handball court at the prison a year and a half ago and they had played handball together frequently. Sklepkowski denied he was Loeb's "runner" in the prison correspondence school, but said he worked in the grade school.

Q.—You became Loeb's cellmate about a year and a half ago. Who was in the cell beside you two? A.—Just us two.

"And a couple of birds," Levy remarked. He referred to two canaries Loeb kept in the cell.

Q.—Did Loeb recommend you for your job in the school? A.—No. I asked for it.

Did Loeb's Typing.

Q.—You didn't have to do anything for Loeb if you didn't want to, did you? A.—No.

Q.—But you did his typing? A.—Yes.

Levy then attempted to bring out that the state offered to aid Sklepkowski in winning parole if he testified as a prosecution witness.

"I don't remember anything like that," Sklepkowski said. "I don't want to go before the parole board for another year."

U. S. APPEALS COURT STUDIES ATTACK ON LABOR RELATIONS ACT

New Orleans, La., June 1.—(AP)—The United States Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals today took under advisement an attack on the constitutionality of the national labor relations act in a case involving discharge of 12 employés of the Aliquippa, Pa., plant of the Jones and Laughlin Steel corporation.

The act's constitutionality was attacked by the corporation on grounds that it took away the right of trial by jury, that it purported to confer judicial power upon the federal labor relations board, and that it constituted arbitrary and unreasonable interference with freedom of contract.

The act was assailed by Earl F. Reed of Pittsburgh, counsel for the corporation, and was defended by Robert B. Watts, Washington, associate general counsel for the labor board, and Thomas I. Emerson of New York City.

AIRLINER CRASH IN CITY LAID TO FAULTY ENGINES

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

Failure of one engine and the loss of essential power in the other were accepted last evening as the cause of the forced landing Sunday night of a Transcontinental and Western Air liner in a small vacant lot at 61st street and Kilbourn avenue. Miraculously none of the twelve passengers was seriously hurt.

According to an unofficial version of the near tragedy, one of the two 735 horse power Cyclone engines on the big transport ceased to function when the ship was still 75 or 80 miles east of Chicago airport on its way here from New York. The pilot, Wesley L. Smith of Crawford N. J., presumably acting on radio orders from the company's ground station at the airport here, then attempted to make the rest of the flight on the remaining engine.

Trouble in Second Motor.

The second motor is reported to have given trouble as the plane was passing over rooftops of Chicago's south side. Rapidly the 18,500 pound plane, which is capable of flying on one motor only when that one delivers full power, began to lose altitude.

Ultimately when Pilot Smith realized he would not be able to stretch his glide to the airport's runways—and the margin by which he missed was less than a half a mile—he headed for the vacant lot. Skill and amazing luck played a part in his dropping the airplane, which has a 90 foot wing spread and a 65 foot fuselage, into the lot 60 feet wide by 150 feet deep, surrounded by houses, wires, and trees.

Three Inquiries Are Begun.

Three investigations into the accident have been begun, one by TWA itself, another by the federal bureau of air commerce, and a third by the aviation committee of the city council. Ald. Bryan Hartnett [12th], chairman of the council committee, said a hearing would be held in the city hall at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

TWA officials refused to comment on the accident, but the story of the two motors related above came from the airways trafic control clerks and the airport control tower dispatchers who were on duty as Pilot Smith's plane was approaching the Chicago field. During the afternoon C. B. Reed, maintenance supervisor for the bureau of air commerce here, questioned these men.

Story of Trafic Clerk.

Bernard McGourty, trafic clerk at the airport control tower, said he had been notified by telephone from the TWA hangar on the field that Smith had reported one of his motors had failed. Later, McGourty said, he had a direct radio message from the plane reporting this same fact. McGourty told Reed that the TWA plane was at that time at least 75 miles east of Chicago.

The TWA radio men on the field also notified Jack Tighe, airways trafic control clerk who was responsible for keeping airplanes flying the same routes in the vicinty of Chicago at safe distances from each other. Tighe told Reed that Smith's plane had been given "clearance and right of way" into Chicago airport at 9:18 Sunday evening.

Emergency Fields Passed Up.

At the time these reports were being made to the trafic clerks Smith's airplane was east of Goshen, Ind., where the air commerce bureau has a radio range beacon, a large emergency landing field, and lights outlining the boundaries of the field. Smith did not try to land at Goshen.

He also passed up an emergency landing field at McCool, Ind., where there is a radio beacon, a low powered broadcasting unit, and field lights; and another emergency field at Lansing, in southeastern Cook county, where the Ford-Lansing airport is equipped for night landings.

When Smith arrived in sight of the control tower at the Chicago airport, according to McGourty, his airplane was very low, skimming just over buildings. By radio Smith was informed that the ground wind was from eight to ten miles an hour and directly from the west. He was directed to head straight for the runway, without circling the field.

Goes Down Behind Trees.

"Smith's plane never did get close enough to circle," McGourty told Supervisor Reed. "The last I saw of him he went down behind some trees just east of the Chicago Belt line tracks. The ship seemed to be listing slightly. When it disappeared I telephoned for the police and for airport emergency trucks."

Tighe told Reed that in the meantime a Boeing 247D of United Air Lines coming in from Cleveland and an Electra of Northwest Airlines arriving from Minneapolis had been ordered to stay away from the airport temporarily. These ships had been ordered to circle at different altitudes until Smith's plane could land. Their pilots obeyed orders.

Six of the fifteen persons aboard the ship remained at Holy Cross hospital last evening, although their injuries were not considered critical. They are: Pilot Smith, Miss Grace Davidson, stewardess of the plane; George Houle, Columbus, O., co-pilot; Daniel Mahoney of New York, R. W. Marshall of New York, and Miss Marie Ziolkowski, 3008 Cheltenham place, Chicago.

View of One Passenger.

From his bed Marshall, an executive of the Utilities Equipment company, asserted that when the plane was near South Bend he had realized there was motor trouble.

"I still wonder why we were not landed at South Bend, or some of the other emergency fields on the way instead of trying to get into Chicago airport," he said. "I want to know what the company says to that.

"Regardless of anything else, however, I want to pay tribute to Pilot Smith, who made a wonderful landing. I'm flying constantly, and I know a superb pilot when I see one in action."

Airport Manager Censured.

As the TWA investigation went on, Deputy Coroner Louis J. Nadherny, conducting an inquest into the deaths of Anthony A. Otradovec and Barney Bertino in the crash of their airplane at the Westchester airport on Saturday, censured Fred J. Bouchard, 202 Clinton street, Elmhurst, the airport manager.

Nadherny's criticism came after Bouchard admitted that he saw the crash from the air, yet made five more trips with passengers before going to investigate. The county highway police said that they were not notified until two hours after the fatal crash, and the Westchester police reported that they were not notified at all.

The deputy coroner criticized Bouchard for putting the commercial aspects of his work above humanitarianism and for not producing at the inquest all the possible witnesses. The inquest was continued until June 11 to hear the testimony of Mayor Edmond Thiele of Hillside, who was on the field when the plane fell and who took charge of the situation.

FILES NEW SUIT TO RENEW 1898 COURT MARTIAL

Capt. Carter Asks Court to Clear Name.

Oberlin Carter, 80 years old, a consulting engineer who wants his good name restored before he dies, filed a new action yesterday in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia asking a review of the court martial of 1898 which found him guilty, as an army captain, of defrauding the government of nearly $3,000,000.

Mr. Carter, who lives at 2947 Wilson avenue, said he acted as his own lawyer in filing the Washington action. His fight for vindication has been going on ever since 1903 when he was released from Leavenworth penitentiary, where he served a five year sentence.

Committee Fails to Act.

Last October he was given a hearing here by United States Senator F. Ryan Duffy of Wisconsin, acting as a one man subcommittee of the military affairs committee of the senate, to investigate Carter's case. This hearing was obtained through Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

"The senate committee has not acted," Mr. Carter said yesterday, "and I don't know what the status of my case is with the committee. Recently I learned the Supreme court of the District of Columbia has jurisdiction to review a court martial verdict.

"I spoke to Senator Morris Sheppard, chairman of the military affairs committee, and asked if there would be any objection to my appealing to the courts as well as to the senate for justice. Senator Sheppard advised me that his committee could only recommend that the President set aside the finding of the court martial in my case, whereas the court itself could set it aside.

Educates Self in Law.

"I have been studying law in recent years, so I filed my own petition. I want to show that the members of the court martial had been instructed to find me guilty no matter what the evidence was. It was assumed I was stealing money because I was living beyond the means of an army officer, but I was living on money given me as a wedding present by my wealthy father-in-law. The courts can't give me back the time I spent in prison, but they can give me back the good name the army took from me."

CAFFERY LEAVES FOR CAPITAL.

HAVANA, June 1.—(AP)—United States ambassador Jefferson Caffery left today by plane for Miami en route to Washington, D. C. He made no statements as to the reason for the trip, but it was understood it was merely a routine visit to the state department. The Ambassador said he would return to Havana June 9.

JUDGE JAILS 17, RECORD NUMBER IN SAFETY DRIVE

Terms from 3 to 40 Days After Week-end.

Seventeen defendants received jail sentences yesterday from Judge Gibson E. Gorman of the Safety court as an aftermath to the double holiday on the week-end. It was the largest number of jail terms imposed by Judge Gorman since he started his safety drive on May 1. Motorists charged with drunken driving, recklessness, or leaving the scene of an accident were sentenced. Most of them had denials or excuses, but the judge was not a credulous listener.

"This is a large number of citizens to send to jail," said Judge Gorman, "but as long as severe punishments continue to curb deaths on the street I'll continue to impose jail sentences. This enforcement campaign is showing desirable results, but the benefits could be multiplied if there were a drivers' license law so we could catch the repeaters."

Gets 40 Day Term.

A colored WPA worker, Elmer Hammond, 4123 Wabash avenue, received the heaviest penalty, 40 days in the Bridewell, 30 of them for leaving the scene of an accident plus ten for driving a car without the owner's consent. On Saturday he drove into a horse and wagon at 41st street and Wabash avenue and did not stop until caught.

A taxicab driver, Mike Neydlik, 31 years old, 6227 23d street, received a 30 day sentence. His cab zigzagged through a red light at Archer and California avenues, hitting another machine. He was charged with driving while intoxicated.

"Your crime is worse than that of a private car operator," said the judge, "because the public trusts its safety to you."

Hit-Run Driver Jailed.

John Komperda, 27 years old, 5430 Montclare avenue, a cooper, was sentenced to 20 days for driving while intoxicated and with leaving the scene of the accident. He was arrested after a collision at Higgins road and Milwaukee avenue.

William Nelson, 48, a laborer, 2441 North Maplewood avenue, received ten days on a drunken driving charge. His car collided with another at Coyle street and Western avenue on Sunday.

Aaron Anderson, 40, a laborer, 531 East 41st street, received five days for reckless driving. He was involved in a collision at 44th street and St. Lawrence avenue.

Drinking Drivers Punished.

Earl Lyons, 49, of 4618 Kenmore avenue also received five days. His car bumped into the rear of another at Byron street and Western avenue. He told the judge it was a pure accident, that his foot slipped from the brake pedal. The judge was influenced by testimony that Lyons, while not intoxicated, had been drinking.

A breath that told of drinking also resulted in a five day sentence for Melvin Koch, 24 years old, 4632 North Lamon avenue. He was arrested after driving into a parked car and was convicted on a reckless driving charge.

Carl Larson, 29 years old, 10035 Perry avenue, drove into a concrete mixer in the middle of the street at 99th street and South Park avenue. He was jailed for five days for reckless driving. There was testimony that he had been drinking.

The same type of testimony convicted Robert Stangel, 22 years old, 4526 North St. Louis avenue. The sentence was five days for recklessness. He drove into the rear of a car at Montrose avenue and Ridgeway street.

Dodging Holes, His Defense.

Roy Brownsfield, 46 years old, 3135 South Union avenue, said he was merely dodging holes when he zigzagged in Union avenue near 30th street. He received three days for reckless driving.

Harry Southerland, 43 years old, 4830 Calumet avenue, heard a 30 day sentence for drunk driving. Police arrested him Saturday at 45th street and Indiana avenue after following his weaving car.

A. M. Anderson, 43 years old, 3927 Irving Park boulevard, in jail since Friday, and Frank Addigo, 910 North 23d avenue, Maywood, in jail since Saturday, were given jail sentences for reckless driving that expired with their appearance in court.

Ten for Drunk Driving.

On a drunk driving charge, James O'Donoghue, 34 years old, a printer, 7043 South Wood street, was sentenced to ten days in jail. The same penalty on the same charge was imposed upon John Kowalske, 53 years old, a mechanic, 5505 Elston avenue. Godfried Danks, 41 years old, 1119 South Francisco avenue, another mechanic, also received 10 days for driving while intoxicated.

Lee White, 38 years old, 1902 Milwaukee avenue, was given thirty days on a drunken driving charge after police testified he had driven three-quarters of a block on the sidewalk of Logan boulevard at Palmer square.

DRAFT ROTATION PLAN FOR JUDGES ON RECEIVERSHIPS

Five chancery judges of the Superior court will each give up two weeks of his vacation this year in order that a judge experienced in the new receivership system will be on the bench all summer, Judge Walter T. Stanton said yesterday. The judges will rotate.

The five judges, Walter P. Steffen, Stanton, Harry B. Miller, Francis Allegretti, and Grover C. Niemeyer, will begin calling all pending foreclosure cases on June 22, Judge Steffen, head of the chancery division of the court, announced. The judges will attempt to speed up the cases which are lagging.

Receivers will be summoned to court and asked for an accounting of the property under their control. In some instances reports have not been filed for more than five years.

WOMAN IS KILLED BY RESTAURANT TRUCK NEAR LOOP

Mrs. Mary Lorden, 50 years old, 6635 North Ashland avenue, was killed yesterday at Madison and Franklin streets by a John P. Harding Restaurant company truck, driven by Ralph Petersen, 35 years old, 5432 Cortland street.

Petersen told the police that he could not avoid striking the woman. He was not held.

A man who died Sunday in the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, from skull fracture incurred a few hours earlier when he was struck by a car at Milwaukee avenue and Dempster street, was identified as John Novak, 65 years old, an itinerant farm laborer. Earl Kriss, 35 years old, 3763 Wilton avenue, the driver of the car, is to appear tomorrow before Justice of the Peace Albert L. Engstock of Morton Grove on charges of driving while drunk and leaving the scene of an accident.

Between Jan. 1 and 4 p. m. yesterday 415 persons were killed in automobile accidents in Cook county. In the same period 326 were killed and 6,762 injured in Chicago.

Coroner Frank J. Walsh said yesterday that 98 persons were killed in trafic accidents in Cook county in May of this year. Last year the month took 65 victims.

Improvement Reported in C.H.M'Cormick's Condition

Cyrus H. McCormick, former chairman of the board of the International Harvester company, who was reported seriously ill Sunday night at his estate, Walden, 1100 East Ringwood drive, Lake Forest, was considerably improved yesterday, it was said at his home. "Mr. McCormick suffered a heart attack, but he is much improved and he is doing nicely," said a statement issued by a secretary.

PARIS HORSEBACK RIDERS STONED IN PARK BY REDS

Smartly Dressed Men and Women Terrorized.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, June 1.—Horseback riding in the Bois de Boulogne—one of the last surviving public manifestations of Parisian fashionable life—is becoming a dangerous pastime even on the quietest nags.

This is due to the aggressive tactics of the Paris Reds, who throw stones at the riders, set dogs on the horses, and otherwise manifest their disapproval of the equestrian sport which they have been taught to regard as an exclusive pleasure of the idle rich.

Red Cyclists Alarm Riders.

Elated by their victories in strikes and spurred on by class hatred, swarms of cyclists in the communist field uniform—caps and red sweaters—swooped down on the Bois de Boulogne from the surrounding proletarian suburbs of Boulogne, Suresnes, and Puteaux during the Whitsun holidays. They spread terror among the smartly dressed women and men on horseback across whose paths they speeded with jeers and ironical cries.

Several riders, including the wife of a well known Paris banker, were injured by stones thrown by Reds hidden behind trees and bushes. Others were thrown from terrified horses. The police usually detailed to regulate trafic in the Bois de Boulogne on holidays were noticeably absent and the mob apparently was assured immunity.

Socialists Denounce Hunts.

Populaire, the organ of Leon Blum, the Socialist premier-to-be, a few days ago published a violent denunciation of horse shows, hunts, and other fashionable equestrian sports which can "be practiced only by the wealthy classes."

The Paris riding clubs, many of whose members belong to the Croix de Feu and other Fascist organizations, are planning to take their own measures to protect horseback riders in the Bois de Boulogne against aggression if the police fail to act.

The radical controlled chamber of deputies met today and heard Edouard Herriot, who lost his job as premier four years ago because he advocated paying the war debt to the United States, again bring up the debt question.

Herriot, who is a candidate for president of the chamber, said he was eager and willing to make another visit to the United States on a war debt mission.

"I consider it necessary to make an effort to pay the debt, which is the keystone between the two nations," he said.

Political observers said it is doubtful that Blum shares this belief. Blum did not attend the session. He is expected to take office Thursday.

The government announced that the wave of strikes is rapidly being settled and that the thousands of workers will be back on their jobs by the end of the week.

YANK IN CHINA, FREED OF POISONING CHARGE, IS VICTIM OF ASSAULT

TIENTSIN, June 1.—(AP)—Dr. John Colbert, his bandaged head resting in the lap of the wife he was accused of poisoning, told police today he had been knocked senseless by an unknown assailant.

The former St. Louis physician, cleared of the charges by a judge who said there was "reasonable doubt" of his guilt, declared a foreigner attacked him last night after forcing his way into the doctor's office.

The attacker, wearing his hat pulled down over his face and with a handkerchief over his mouth, attempted to stab him, the doctor said. Colbert resisted the assault and warded off the knife thrust, he declared. Then the intruder pulled a heavy object from his pocket, Colbert related, and knocked him unconscious.

CHAS. DOUGHERTY TAKES OFFICE AS MUNICIPAL JUDGE

Charles S. Dougherty, former assistant state's attorney, was sworn in as a judge of the Municipal court yesterday in the Criminal Courts building. Judge Dougherty fills the vacancy left by the death on April 28 of Judge J. William Brooks. He will be assigned to jury cases in the Safety court today.

Various speakers at yesterday's ceremony praised Judge Dougherty's qualifications for the bench and paid tribute to his mother, Mrs. Anna Dougherty, 76 years old, who was present, as the greatest influence contributing to his success. Other members of his family who witnessed the ceremony were his wife, Agnes; his sisters, Katherine and Patricia, and his brothers, the Rev. P. Gerald Dougherty and James T. Dougherty of Detroit.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' 35,651 DIPLOMAS TO SET RECORD

Chicago public schools will graduate 35,651 pupils June 11 and 12, the largest number in the system's history, according to figures released yesterday by William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools. The previous largest class was that of last June when 34,442 received diplomas.

Four year high schools will graduate 12,191 students this year as compared with 11,209 in 1935. Elementary school graduates will total 21,663, or a decrease of 16 students from last June's. The three junior colleges, with 114 graduates last year, increased to 633 for 1936. This is the first full class to complete work in the junior colleges since they were opened three years ago.

Two year vocational high school graduates dropped from 1,028 to 771 in keeping with the school board's plan to encourage students to attend four years, Dr. Johnson said. The Chicago Normal college, with 110 graduates last year, will award diplomas to 133 this year. The number finishing accredited evening high school courses has dropped from 302 to 260.

Edward Heinrichs, 19 years old, 1676 Bryn Mawr avenue, was drowned and his two companions, Victor Hill, 21 years old, 2707 North Lawndale avenue, and George Pladis, 20 years old, 4015 North Albany avenue, were rescued yesterday when a canoe in which they were spending the afternoon capsized in Lake Michigan a quarter of a mile off Foster avenue. Donald Beery, 20 years old, 922 Galt street, and A. J. Semlak, 33 years old, 940 Winona avenue, observed the accident and rowed to the rescue. They brought the two youths to shore, then joined police in a futile search for the body of Heinrichs.

Watermelons

"OF COURSE there's a market for bigger watermelons—better ones," the visitor said.

The Illinois Central agricultural man was thinking. He knew a section of the country his railroad served that needed diversification of crops and that would be ideally suited to these super-watermelons the visitor recommended.

So the Illinois Central talked bigger and better watermelons to the people in that district. It showed how to raise fine watermelons—pointed out the markets.

One hundred carloads were shipped the first year; twice that the second. Tens of thousands of dollars were added to the community's income! And more money is on the way.

RUNNING a railroad is more than merely operating trains. A good railroad labors constantly to build up its territory. The information that the Illinois Central's agricultural representatives have gathered is available to all.

of more than 30 knots. Among them were many notables.

The official reception committee first saw the faint outline of the ship through the spindrift from the bow of the Riverside, aboard which nearly 100 top-hatted dignitaries journeyed to quarantine. Her three orange colored funnels loomed higher than the Staten Island hills behind her as she lay limned against the haze-obscured shore.

As the vessel reached quarantine four coast guard cutters, loaded to capacity, met her.

Tons of radio and sound reel equipment were carried aboard the liner from the cutters. Details of the ship's progress up the bay were broadcast from airplanes, which picked her up off Ambrose channel at 7:52 a. m., and announcers aboard the ship described her appointments and the formalities of the welcome she received. Those who didn't see the big new ship could sit at home and hear all about her.

Top Speed Kept Secret.

Sir Edgar Britten, proud master of the Queen Mary, said the fog that closed in upon his ship two days ago had delayed him somewhat, but he would not say that he was disappointed in the new liner's failure to recapture the pennant that once flew from the Mauretania. Sir Edgar said he was not at liberty to reveal the Queen Mary's top speed.

Sir Edgar asserted that the Queen Mary, despite her 80,000 gross tons, was as maneuverable as any 30,000 ton vessel, and he declared that vibration was not the problem it has been on other express liners. The Queen Mary, he said, was a "wonderful ship to handle." Then he added: "But there really is nothing outstanding about her, because everything is outstanding."

Resembles a Theater Crowd.

Although the Queen Mary struck her yellow quarantine pennant before noon, she lay at anchor off Rosebank until 2:35 p. m., when, with a deep bass growl from her siren, she weighed anchor and proceeded upstream, past the throngs along the shore road in Brooklyn, at the Battery, and along the Hudson river waterfront.

Behind her and abeam were nearly 100 smaller craft shrieking the news of her arrival.

With the river near 50th street clogged with trafic as Times square at theater time the huge liner proceeded under her own power until she was in midstream with her bow opposite the new 1,100 foot pier where she was berthed.

Harbor officials said that at no time in their recollection had there been greater activity in New York harbor, nor greater crowds gaping from all vantage points to get a glimpse of a new ocean speed arrival.

Thousands witnessed the liner's early arrival in the lower bay from the beaches at Rockaway point and Seagate and from the Staten Island shore and Sandy Hook. They lined the waterfront on both sides of the narrows. People dotted the piers from St. George to quarrantine on the west and formed a two mile long automobile line on Shore road in Brooklyn.

Battery Park began to fill up early and by noon the police estimated that 30,000 persons were jamming the walks and spilling over onto the grass.

Boats Ply to and Fro.

Eight excursion boats made trip after trip from the Battery to quarrantine and the two Statue of Liberty boats shuttled back and forth to Bedloes Island throughout the morning and the early afternoon with their decks crowded. Even the Staten island ferries had their share of the sightseers carrying full loads in both directions until after the huge liner had passed the Battery on the way to her pier.

On the Jersey shore were many more thousands.

BRITAIN TO ADVANCE $25,000,000 FOR SHIP TO MATCH QUEEN MARY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, June 2.—[Tuesday.]—A total of $25,000,000 of public money is to be advanced to Cunard-White Star, Ltd., for building a sister ship to the Queen Mary, it was reported this morning in London.

Under the terms of the North Atlantic shipping act of 1934, provision of this money was left to the government's discretion. A decision now has been made and the official announcement is expected soon after Sir Percy Bates, chairman of the company, who sailed with the Queen Mary on her maiden trip to the United States, returns to England. The sister ship, it was indicated, will be named King George.

London dailies devoted columns of front page space to the news of the Queen Mary's welcome in New York, which was described as "the greatest reception in the history of shipping." Many papers published special radio pictures of the ship's arrival. Disappointment was expressed at the failure to break the Normandie's record for the crossing, but it is generally believed the Queen Mary may attempt the feat on her homeward journey.

French Happy; Normandie Still Holds Speed Record

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, June 1.—The Normandie returned to Havre this afternoon with her blue ribbon flying and general content aboard and ashore that the Queen Mary had not on her first trip deprived her of her Atlantic speed record. On Friday, May 29, an average speed of 29.43 knots was maintained, and even at 30 knots, it is claimed, the vessel is steady and, with the new propellers, the vibration which marked last year's trips has been overcome. There is confidence here that the Normandie has an extra turn of speed in her boilers which will be forthcoming if and when the blue ribbon is endangered.

SENATE HANDS FRESH BILLION TO ROOSEVELT

President Given Control of New Works Relief.

Hopkins and said he was convinced that responsibility should be fixed upon the authority which puts up the larger share of the money. He said he could not believe that Senator Vandenberg's substitute was in the interest of economy, holding that "politics does not stop at state lines."

Senator Vandenberg then offered another amendment providing a fine of $2,000 or a year in jail for any person "who solicits or receives any political contributions from persons for whom any portion of the foregoing appropriation is intended." The Democrats were more vociferous in shouting down this amendment than they had been on the substitute.

Senator James F. Byrnes [Dem., S. C.], asked Senator Vandenberg whether he thought the treasurer of the Republican national committee should be sent to jail if he accepted $200 from a contractor who was paid for his work out of the relief appropriation.

Accept "Solicits" Penalty.

"The answer is yes," declared Senator Vandenberg. The Michigan senator later amended his amendment by inserting "knowingly" before "receives," but the Democrats still objected. They made him eliminate "receives" altogether, retaining only "solicits" before finally accepting the amendment.

By a senate amendment, adopted Saturday, the bill authorizes the President to order a restudy of reports on the 200 million dollar Florida ship canal and allocate another 10 million dollars to carry on work upon it during the coming fiscal year. Senator Hastings today moved to reconsider this amendment, but a motion of Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas to table the Hastings motion was carried, 35 to 32.

After prolonged discussion an amendment by Senator Alben W. Barkley [Dem., Ky.] increasing the percentage of grants that the PWA may make to states and political subdivisions to 45, instead of 30 per cent of the construction cost, was adopted.

Under the terms of the bill PWA Administrator Ickes may use a maximum of 300 millions in grants and a maximum of 450 millions in loans or grants from the revolving fund created by selling securities held as collateral for loans to the RFC.

The 1 billion 425 million dollars appropriated for relief is to be "used in the discretion and under the direction of the President," but limitations are placed upon the classes of work that may be undertaken and the President may not increase any allocation by more than 15 per cent.

The classifications are: Highways, roads, and streets, $413,250,000; public buildings, $156,750,000; parks and other recreational facilities, $156,750,000; public utilities, including sewers and water systems, airports and other transportation facilities, $171,000,000; flood control and other conservation, $128,250,000; assistance for education, professional, and clerical persons, $85,500,000; women's projects, $85,500,000; miscellaneous work projects, $71,250,000; national youth administration, $71,250,000; rural rehabilitation, loans, and relief to farmers, $85,500,000.

Approval for Tugwell's Schemes.

Under the heading "Rural Rehabilitation," which the senate reinstated after the appropriations committee had taken it out, President Roosevelt may, if he chooses, designate Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell to spend up to $85,500,000 for his resettlement activities, the moving of populations, and the building of suburban Utopias. Presumably, however, virtually the entire appropriation will go to Mr. Hopkins and his WPA, as the house bill proposed.

The blank check form of the appropriation, using the same language as the 4 billion 880 million dollar relief act of 1935, which a federal Circuit Court of Appeals has held unconstitutional, was denounced by Senator Hastings as the sort of thing that leads to dictatorship.

"Much has been said in the press, on the floor of the senate, in the house of representatives and in other places about how easy it is to raise sufficient funds to meet these so-called necessary expenses—necessary from the point of view of the present administration," said Senator Hastings.

"We are told by certain members of the senate finance committee that the way to raise additional revenue is to raise it from those who have the ability to pay, namely, those who are in the upper brackets of the income taxes and the wealthy corporations which have large surpluses. The President himself has referred to these persons with large fortunes as industrial autocrats.

Confiscation Not Enough.

"The testimony before the finance committee during the pendency of the present revenue measure showed that the treasury department itself estimated that the statutory income subject to taxation of all the corporations in the United States during the year 1936 would amount to only 7 billion 2 hundred million dollars.

"If we took all that the corporations earned and applied it to the demands of the President for the coming fiscal year we would be short the sum of 1 billion 72 million dollars.

"If we deducted from that sum [1 billion 72 million dollars] all the money that is received from individual income taxes, amounting to 936 million dollars, we still would be short something like 136 million dollars."

Senator Hastings said these figures should demonstrate the necessity of meeting expenses by some other method than by taxation and suggested that a good way to start would be the cutting down of government expenditures. Recalling his prediction that the 4 billion 880 million dollar appropriation of 1935 would result in unprecedented waste and extravagance, Senator Hastings declared that "we are called upon again to appropriate 1 billion 425 million dollars.

Step Toward Dictatorship.

"No such thing as that ever happened until this administration came into power," he continued. "No such thing as that ever was done because congress remembered how the people of England fought to get control and get away from the king the right to levy the tax. But bear in mind that that is only one important part of our freedom. The expenditure of the tax is just as important.

"We have destroyed all the precedents that have built up America. We have done the one thing which puts us nearer to a dictatorship than any other suggestion that could be made.

"Whenever the congress loses control of the purse, that minute we start on our way; that minute we start to imitate some great country in Europe which thinks it is getting along well under a dictatorship; that minute we start to destroy America."

● This high-speed, light-weight, smooth-riding California Streamliner, Diesel-powered, operates on a 39¾ hour schedule, similar to that established a year ago by the pace-making Streamliner "City of Portland" when it cut a day from regular train schedules between Chicago and the Pacific Coast.

All cars are of standard width, roomy, completely air-conditioned—equipped with specially designed resilient trucks insuring an exceptionally smooth and comfortable ride at high speed. There are four Pullman sleeping cars of unique design; a smart diner-lounge; and two de luxe coaches. In addition to its many refinements in comfort, convenience and service, the "City of Los Angeles" provides:

These Exclusive Features

- BED ROOM CAR—North Western-Union Pacific is the only line providing Pullman bed-room accommodations to and from California.
- WINDOWS IN UPPER BERTHS—In the three 11-section Pullmans on this train, all upper berths have windows—a unique new feature of sleeping car design.
- STEWARDESS SERVICE—A stewardess, who is a Registered Nurse, is provided to look after the welfare of all passengers.
- COACH-BUFFET—Passengers in the coaches may take advantage of economy meals, served them at their seats from the coach-buffet kitchen.

You get much more for your money on the "City of Los Angeles"! There will be an extra fare charge on this train.

CHINA MUSTERS DEFENSE AS NEW JAP PUSH IS SEEN

Tokio Generals Prepare Set of Demands.

Spurred by officers of the valiant 29th route army, defenders of Great Wall passes during the Japanese invasion of 1933, the leader of the Hopei-Chahar military council was believed ready to adopt a sterner stand against the armed expansion of Nippon. This was the reported decision of Gen. Sung Cheh-yuan after lengthy conferences in Peiping.

Students in both Peiping and Tientsin, declaring a three day strike, forced complete suspension of public and private schools and colleges. Young members of the National Salvation association met in convention to weigh their action in the face of heavy Japanese troop reinforcements for North China garrisons, bringing the total of Japanese soldiers in the area to an estimated 10,000 or more.

Japs Rush New Barracks.

But Japan gave no indication of retreating. Her soldiers rushed completion of new barracks for 800 men at Fengtai, vital communications center ten miles southwest of Peiping.

All the highest Japanese officers on the mainland converged on Tientsin to consider last week's mysterious railroad bombings, which menaced Japanese troop trains. New and drastic demands on China; perhaps even greater Japanese military occupation, were feared by the Chinese.

Some of Japan's demands on China were disclosed frankly by the Japanese military leaders. They included the right to build railroads, military and civil air bases, and army barracks in China; establishment of regular aerial communications between Japan and China and a paramount economic, political and military position for Japan on the mainland.

Britain Drawn In.

A Japanese official at Peiping said it was "clear to the Japanese embassy" that the soldier, Kisaku Sasaki, was killed "by a foreign soldier wearing a British uniform."

The British embassy stated it was "investigating." Sasaki was injured fatally in a fight May 26.

Smuggling, blamed by the Chinese on widespread Japanese operations in the north, caused the withdrawal from service of seven Chinese costal vessels and had a grave effect on American and other foreign commerce.

Americans Cable Report.

The secretary of the American Chamber of Commerce here cabled the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington, declaring Japanese smuggling had cost the Chinese government eight million Shanghai dollars [about $2,400,000] during April alone, and that the illicit trade was increasing enormously. A similar message was sent by the British Chamber of Commerce, to London.

The government, its revenues depleted, was reported having trouble raising the June installment on foreign loans and other obligations secured by customs returns.

Dismisses Protest.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tokio, June 2.—[Tuesday.]—The protest from the Nanking government, conveyed by Hsu Shih-ying, Chinese ambassador to Tokio, against the increased strength of Japanese garrisons in north China was dismissed as without warant yesterday by Hachiro Arita, the Japanese foreign minister.

Hsu is reported to have declared that, as north China is not in a state of restlessness, there seems to be no reason for Japan's increasing the garrison.

Arita replied:

"China may not consider the situation uneasy, but it is beyond dispute that communists are intensely and clandestinely active in the area, even though surface indications are lacking.

"Moreover, China may be sending expeditions against communists in Shansi province as a purely domestic matter, but the effects of their activities cannot be ignored. The increase in strength has been necessitated by unavoidable circumstances."

Nippon Dempo ceased to exist as a news agancy but will continue to operate as an advertising organization into which Domei's advertising department was merged.

Ex-SpeakerD.E.Shanahan's Condition Reported Fair

The condition of David E. Shanahan, state representative and former speaker of the house, was reported "fair" yesterday at Mercy hospital whither he was taken a week ago. According to his physician, Dr. C. F. Sawyer, Mr. Shanahan is in the hospital for a rest. Shanahan is 73 years old and lives at 2722 South Throop avenue. He has served as a member of the house of representatives at Springfield for more than 40 years.

Park Zoo's $500 Antelope Dies; Blame Chase by Dog

An American prong-horned antelope, valued at $500, was found dead in its yard at Lincoln park zoo yesterday. According to Floyd S. Young, director, the animal died of fright and exhaustion. He said an attendant noticed a couple enter the grounds with a dog after hours Sunday night. Apparently, Young said, the dog reached the antelope's enclosure and chased the animal.

NICARAGUA HEAD TRAPPED; REBELS WAIT SURRENDER

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, June 1.—(AP)—The president of Nicaragua and a few loyal followers, hemmed about by a ring of rebel machine guns and troops, were trapped tonight in the new palace overlooking the city.

A press bulletin issued by the rebel national guard [regular army] declared forces opposing Anastasio Somoza, holding the palace, were expected to surrender tomorrow as they had been besieged for three days and were short of food.

An armistice arranged yesterday by foreign diplomats, the national guard statement said, expired today, but was continued by order of Gen. Somoza.

The bulletin blamed the revolt on "bad advisers" of president Juan B. Sacasa, saying he himself was not responsible for the trouble.

"Let Us Shed Our Blood."

Alejandro Arguello Montiel, spokesman for Gen. Somoza, declared in a broadcast at noon that the "Somozistas" would resent any foreign intervention in the country.

"Let us solve our own problem, let us shed our own blood," he said.

He declared that Somoza does not wish to overthrow Sacasa, who he believes should continue in the presidency until expiration of his term. Gen. Somoza was represented as demanding, however, that the president give the people absolute freedom in electing their own chief executive, and that Sacasa was attempting to impose the candidacy of Leonardo Arguello on the voters.

Civilians Victims.

Several civilians, including women and children, were killed yesterday in fighting which centered around the palace.

A fierce encounter also occurred at the important west coast city of Leon, where 2,000 Somozistas attacked Acosasco fortress. Gen. Somoza declared the garrison had rebelled against his authority as chief of the army.

Citizens of the United States were warned by Boaz W. Long, United States minister, to seek a place of safety until the trouble is over. Members of the diplomatic corps met today.

Col. Reyes, commanding the national army forces in Camp De Marte, said he would guarantee safety for noncombatants.

RED DOCTOR REVIVES CHILDREN'S HEARTS 28 HOURS AFTER DEATH

MOSCOW, June 1.—(AP)—Successful experiments in the revival of children's hearts after death were reported today by Dr. N. Ostipovsky of the Moscow Medical institute.

He said in a published statement he had succeeded in reviving 50 out of 70 hearts removed from youthful bodies, some as long as 28 hours after death.

Using a nutritive liquid containing adrenaline made the revived hearts function for as much as five hours, the statement added. The doctor will soon make experiments without removing the heart from the body.

RUSSIAN COURTS WILL GIVE CRIME VICTIM MORE AID

MOSCOW, June 1.—(AP)—The rôle of the soviet court as a protector of the "rights and dignity" of individuals is to be increased under the new constitution, Attorney General A. J. Vyshinsky announced today.

Vyshinsky explained that the courts have been too greatly occupied with crimes against the state to give sufficient attention to crimes against persons.

Emphasis is to be placed on punishment of crimes against motherhood. All judges are to be elected by popular vote as compared to the present system of election by the soviet executive committee.

ITALIANS DIVIDE AFRICAN 'EMPIRE' INTO FIVE PARTS

Generals Named Governors of Colonies.

ROME, June 1.—(AP)—Rases, or native chieftains, were eliminated from the government of Ethiopia except in a consultative capacity today by a comprehensive administrative degree approved by the cabinet.

Italian East Africa was divided into five autonomous colonies. The Ethiopian Coptic church was again brought under the jurisdiction of the patriarch of Alexandria.

The division of Premier Mussolini's "empire," including the colonies of Eritrea and Somaliland, was made in this fashion:

Eritrea—Capital, Asmara.
Amhara—Capital, Gondar.
Galla and Sidamo—Capital, Jimma.
Harrar—Capital, Harrar.
Somaliland—Capital, Mogadishu.

Viceroy in Charge.

A viceroy will rule Ethiopia, with Addis Ababa as the capital. The viceroy, Pietro Badoglo, will have a consultative council composed of six Italian resident merchants, farmers and manufacturers and six native chieftains.

A cabinet announcement said the division creates five homogeneous organisms "ethnically, geographically, historically, and politically."

In addition to the consultative council, there will be a governor's council, made up of leading officials in East Africa. The viceroy will be aided in Ethiopia by a vice governor general and the chief of the general staf, who will direct the army.

Makes Gesture Toward Egypt.

"The greatest guarantees" were declared for the Mohammedan religion.

A gesture toward Egypt was seen in the restoration of the Coptic church of Ethiopia to the patriarchal see of Alexandria and the Egyptian Coptic church.

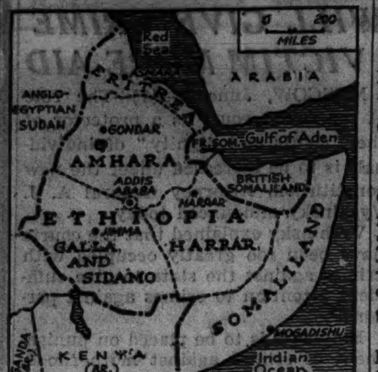
A communique describing the cabinet decree said an agreement was reached with Coptic leaders in Ethiopia "so that the greatest development may be given the religious institutions of the Christian lands of Italian East Africa and so that the bonds which unite the religious populations of Ethiopia with the Coptic church of Egypt shall be given cultural effect."

Generals Made Governors.

Victorious generals of the African armies were nominated as governors of the new colonies. Marshal Rudolfo Graziani was named regent.

Gen. Guzzoni was made governor of Eritrea, Gen. Alessandro Pirzio-Biroli, governor of Amhara; Gen. Nasi, governor of Harrar; Gen. Geloso, governor of Galla and Sidamo, and Gen. Ruggiero Santini, governor of Italian Somaliland.

SPLITS UP 'EMPIRE'



Italy yesterday divided its East African "empire" into five autonomous colonies—Eritrea, Amhara, Galla and Sidamo, Harrar and Somaliland. Victorious generals in the Ethiopian war were nominated as governors. A viceroy will rule all the colonies, with Addis Ababa as the capital. Eritrea and Italian Somaliland originally were parts of Ethiopia, but were acquired by Italy in the latter part of the nineteenth century.

REPORTS BRITISH NAVY MINISTER HAS QUIT POST

LONDON, June 2.—[Tuesday].—(AP)—The Daily Mail said today Viscount Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, has resigned. The paper stated that Sir Samuel Hoare, former foreign secretary, "is confidently expected to be his successor."

Hoare withdrew from the cabinet of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin in the midst of popular disapproval of the plan for dividing Ethiopia which was formulated by himself and former Premier Pierre Laval of France.

Viscount Monsell, the Daily Mail said, has handed his resignation to Baldwin, who probably will make the official announcement of it Tuesday. Inquiries at the residence of Viscount Monsell drew only the reply that he was away from London and that nothing was known of his reported resignation. He long ago expressed a desire to retire.

Heads of 5 British African Colonies to Study Defense

NAIROBI, Kenya, East Africa, June 1.—(AP)—The governors of five British colonies of East Africa will gather tomorrow at Dar Es Salaam, Tanganyika, to discuss the defense of East Africa. The governors of Kenya, Uganda, Tanganyika, Nyasaland, and Zanzibar will be present. It is understood they also will consider plans for the unification of civil aviation in East Africa.

World Office Created to Guide Catholic Action

VATICAN CITY, June 1.—(AP)—An international office for Catholic Action, an organization embracing lay activities of the Roman Catholic church, was created today. The office will be headed by a high prelate to be appointed by the pope.

REFUSES KING'S BID TO FORM NEW BELGIAN CABINET

BRUSSELS, June 1.—(AP)—King Leopold today asked Paul van Zeeland to reconstitute a cabinet, but the coalition premier declined.

The results of last week's chamber elections, by which Socialists won a major representation, caused Van Zeeland's coalition cabinet to resign. Emile Vandervelde, 70 year old Socialist leader, has been mentioned as the possible new premier.

A new "rexist" party composed largely of dissident Catholics under "the peacock," Paul Degrelle, won 21 seats in the new parliament with a program intended to "sweep the bankers and politico-financiers out of office." Vandervelde termed the rexists a "fascist danger."

SCHOOL PRINCIPAL DIES.

Evansville, Ind., June 1.—[Special.]—Ralph A. Gilmore, 24, principal of Vincennes Consolidated school No. 3, died last night of heart disease at Terre Haute.

HEAD OF AUSTRIA GOES TO ITALY TO SEE MUSSOLINI

VIENNA, June 1.—(AP)—Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg of Austria left by train tonight to spend the remainder of the week in Italy, ostensibly for a vacation, unofficially to discuss international events with Premier Mussolini. The chancellor departed for Rome by way of Venice.

"A conference with Premier Mussolini is not scheduled," a government spokesman said, "but since Chancellor Schuschnigg will be in Italy for almost a week it is assumable that the two will meet."

The impression prevailed among foreign observers that Il Duce is not satisfied with Austrian developments and wants Schuschnigg's account of them. Some observers also link the trip to reports here of an Anglo-German loan agreement.

DIES AT 90 AFTER FALL.

Injuries suffered in a fall in his home on Thursday caused the death in the county hospital yesterday of Michael Dombrowski, 90 years old, 1615 South Jefferson street.

HOFFMAN NAMES KIMBERLING TO HEAD N. J. POLICE

Schwarzkopf Is Dropped After 15 Years.

Trenton, N. J., June 1.—(AP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who called the Lindbergh kidnap-murder case the "most bungled" in police history, tonight refused to reappoint Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf superintendent of the New Jersey state police, who headed the long investigation of the crime.

The chief executive sent to the senate the name of Col. Mark O. Kimberling, who as state prison keeper supervised the execution of Bruno Richard Hauptmann—the man Schwarzkopf and his men helped track down as the Lindbergh baby slayer.

Schwarzkopf, state police superintendent since its organization in 1921, had been reappointed for five year terms by Democratic and Republican governors. The position pays $9,000 annually.

Relations Cool for Year.

Relations between Hoffman and Schwarzkopf have been cool for more than a year, and seldom did the governor confer with Schwarzkopf during the Hauptmann case inquiry. The governor initiated an investigation of the crime.

Col. Schwarzkopf and Col. Kimberling both declined tonight to comment on the governor's action. Schwarzkopf said he had no future plans.

Col. Kimberling said he had not been informed of the appointment. He reserved comment, pending the senate's consideration of his confirmation. He declined to discuss assumption of duties of the office for the same reason and, when asked if he expected the appointment, said he had not been "sure."

Post Vacant Sunday.

The governor as late as today said he had not decided whether to reappoint Col. Schwartzkopf, in whose behalf a number of petitions signed by well known citizens of the state had been prepared.

The position will become vacant next Sunday and prompt senate confirmation of the Kimberling appointment was indicated.

Col. Schwartzkopf had spent considerable time the last year developing sound motion pictures to aid in the identification of criminals. A public demonstration, held last Wednesday, attracted police officials from many parts of the country, many of whom hailed it as a "distinct contribution" to police science.

Col. Kimberling served under Col. Schwartzkopf as deputy superintendent of the state police from 1921 to 1929, when he became directing head of the state reformatory at Rahway. In 1935 he was appointed to the state prison position.

URGES MUNCIPAL JUDGES BE NAMED BY CHIEF JUSTICE

The appointment of Municipal court judges by the court's chief justice from a list of candidates provided by a commission representing the Chicago Bar was suggested before the City club at the Hotel Sherman yesterday. The plan was offered by Edward M. Martin, secretary of the committee on judicial selection of the National Municipal league and the American Judicature society, and also secretary of the public affairs committee of the Union League club.

According to Martin's proposal, a chief justice of the Municipal court would be elected for a six year term at a special judicial election. The associate judges appointed by him would hold office for an indefinite period but each would be subjected to removal every six years by an adverse vote of the people as to whether to continue him in office.

Other means of removing them under Martin's plan would be by legislative recall, by compulsory retirement at the age of 70, and by removal from office by a majority decision of the Illinois Supreme court.

ARREST 2 MORE IN BLACK LEGION SLAYING INQUIRY

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—(AP)—Police detained two employés of the public lighting commission tonight for questioning about a Black Legion meeting which preceded the "execution" of Charles A. Poole.

Registration of the prisoners, Louis Womack, 28, and Michael Layton, 26, brought to 17 the number of persons in custody in connection with the investigation that unmasked the night riding terrorists ten days ago.

The other 15, accused formally of murder and kidnaping, will be given court examinations tomorrow before Common Pleas Judge Ralph W. Liddy.

Two of them, Virgil Morrow and Albert Stevens, arrested over the week-end, stood mute at their arraignment today and pleas of not guilty were entered for them.

Twelve others were arraigned last week and stood mute. A thirteenth, George C. Johnson, 73, has recovered from an illness that postponed his court appearance and probably will appear in court with his fellow defendants tomorrow.

Early Risers Get First June Marriage License

Attorney William W. Hartman, 25 years old, 17 North Latrobe avenue, and his fiancée, Miss Blossom Krassner, 19, of 3861 Fillmore street, waited a half hour for the county clerk's office to open yesterday and achieved the distinction of being the first couple to obtain a marriage license in this year's month of weddings. There were several other couples on hand when the marriage license bureau of the clerk's office opened for business, and before closing time 284 permits were issued. Last year 299 were given out on June 1, but it was a Saturday.

POLAND TRIES 56 RIOTERS TODAY FOR RACIAL CLASH

Jews Beaten by Peasants in Market Place.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

WARSAW, June 1—Forty-two Polish peasants and 14 young Jews will be tried tomorrow in the District court at Radom, in central Poland, for manslaughter during the rioting in the town of Przytyk on March 9, when one gentile and two Jews were killed. Hundreds of Jews were beaten and their homes and shops demolished.

Przytyk is a town of 3,000 inhabitants, 90 per cent of whom are Jewish. It has been the center of the nationalist party's anti-Semitic propaganda.

Police Put to Flight.

The official indictment charges the peasants boycotted Jewish traders. Peasants who bought from Jews were beaten, it is charged, and the Jewish stands were demolished.

On March 9, the great annual spring market day, 2,000 peasants arrived on 600 wagons. When, at midday the police tried to arrest a young man picketing Jewish-owned stalls, stones and chairs were hurled with the result that the police retired and the man fled.

The anti-Semitic ringleaders gave the signal for general attacks. The mob rushed toward the Jewish-owned stands—young Jews defended their property and a regular battle ensued. The police were overwhelmed by the mob.

Attack Second Time.

The indictment asserts that shots were fired in the battle and that three men were wounded, all Christians. Many peasants were already on their way home when a mob again invaded the market place. One was killed by shots fired from a window.

The frenzied mob began a systematic stoning and plundering of the homes of Jews. Forty houses were demolished, furnishings, clothing and jewelry stolen.

POPULARITY SEEN FOR SQUARE TOED WOMEN'S SHOES

Women's shoes with square toes and square heels will be popular for next fall and winter, and monks' shoes, patterned after the comfortable shoes attributed to monks in a former age, will be increasingly worn, according to displays at the Hotel Sherman. The National Volume Shoe Manufacturers' association opened a four-day convention there yesterday.

In the Morrison hotel, 200 manufacturers from different parts of the country, members of the Shoe Travelers' association of Chicago, are displaying wares to buyers expected to number 2,000 before the end of the week.

SUPREME COURT REFUSES REVIEW OF DORRANCE TAX

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—Executors of the estate of the late John T. Dorrance, multi-millionaire president of the Campbell Soup company, were denied a rehearing by the Supreme court today in their unsuccessful attempt to keep from paying New Jersey $16,768,477 of transfer inheritance taxes in addition to more than $17,000,000 already paid Pennsylvania.

Last Monday the high tribunal refused to review a decision by the New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals upholding the levy. The executors contended it would be unconstitutional for both states to collect such a tax.

JOHN BARRYMORE NAMED BY EX-AID IN SLANDER SUIT

Seeks $50,000; Reveals "Courting," Drinking.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—(AP)—John Barrymore's former confidential secretary filed a $50,000 slander suit against the actor today, charging Barrymore falsely and maliciously accused the secretary of embezzling $30,000 worth of bonds.

The secretary, Emmett D. Camomile, declared in another court document that once, at his employer's request, he removed the actor from the "custody" of Elaine Barrie, who was pursuing Barrymore across the continent westward from New York.

Acting on Barrymore's complaint that his protégé was harassing and embarrassing him with her persistent attentions, Camomile flew from Los Angeles to Chicago and whisked the actor away from her, Camomile said.

Tells of Actor's Dissipations.

The assertions were made in an answer filed in Superior court to Barrymore's suit to recover certain records and papers he charges his secretary retained after his discharge last Jan. 7.

Barrymore has been seen frequently in the film colony with Miss Barrie, who has said she and the actor are in love.

Camomile, in his answer, said he cared for Barrymore for long periods while the actor was under the influence of liquor and unable to carry on with his motion picture work.

Under his care, Camomile said, Barrymore recovered sufficiently to obtain radio and film contracts at $5,000 or more a week.

Camomile quoted Barrymore as telling him:

"My dear Camomile, you are to me like the net is to the trapeze performer—when I fall, you are there to catch me."

Barrymore fired him, Camomile said, on the advice of Miss Barrie and others who accompanied her from New York to Hollywood.

The former secretary in his answer said he had retained certain documents which were in his custody as private secretary, but did so for the benefit of Barrymore.

Rehabilitates His Employer.

Concerning his ministrations to Barrymore, Camomile said he spent "great amounts of time and at most unusual hours with the plaintiff in an effort to restore and rehabilitate the plaintiff's physical and general condition to the end that he might again become employed in some gainful and useful occupation."

"That throughout the year," the answer continued, "plaintiff was substantially unemployed through his physical and general disability to adapt himself to gainful employment, and that defendant, subsequent to his return from said trip to the canal zone, spent many weeks in a personal endeavor to restore plaintif to an improved condition, which had been greatly impaired through excessive and long continued use of alcoholic stimulants and other detrimental personal habits.

Finally Gets "On Wagon."

"That as a result of said extraordinary personal services, the plaintiff was brought to a point where, in or about November, 1935, he had gone for many weeks without the use of any liquor and had, through the result of said defendant's efforts, obtained valuable radio and motion picture contracts, wherein and whereby plaintiff was to, and did, receive extended employment at a salary and earnings of $5,000 or more per week."

The documents he kept later were turned over to the district attorney for auditing, Camomile asserted, so when Barrymore gets them he will be fully protected against charges that anything was missing or not accounted for.

Camomile denied Barrymore's accusation that the signature on a check involved in the controversy was obtained through fraud or that Barrymore did not know its amount.

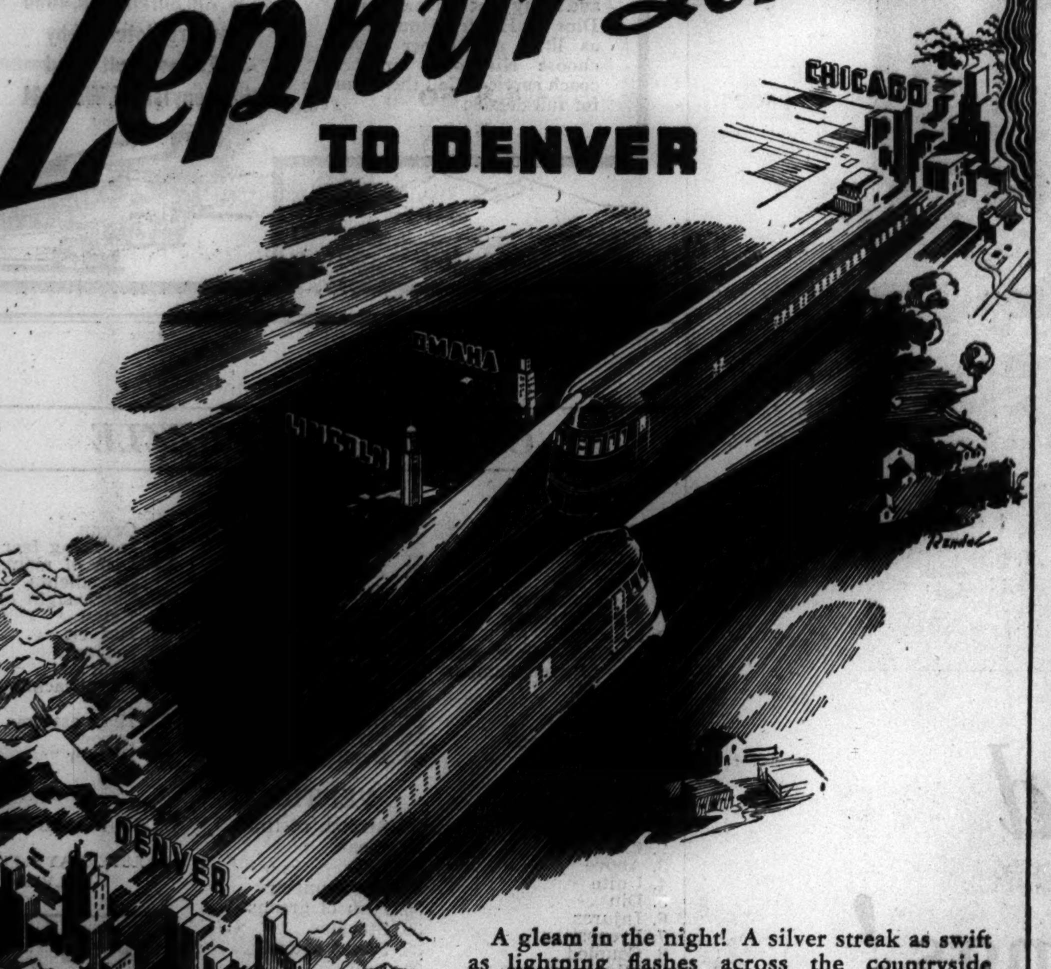
Zephyr Service TO DENVER



A gleam in the night! A silver streak as swift as lightning flashes across the countryside momentarily and is gone!

The Zephyr has passed by on its thrilling flight to Denver ; ; ; more than a thousand miles from the towers of Chicago to Denver and the Rocky Mountains — just overnight.

Its schedule of 16 hours cuts the previous westbound running time by almost 12 hours. It maintains an average speed of 65 miles an hour ; ; . runs for hundreds of miles at better than 80 . . . sometimes 90.

Ar. Omaha..........12:55 am
Ar. Chicago.......... 9:00 am

Last Sunday the Burlington Railroad inaugurated the first streamline train service between Chicago and Denver . . . the first 16-hour schedule — utilizing for this purpose its two great champions of the rail—the Mark Twain Zephyr and the Original Zephyr (which ran this course in 13 hours 5 minutes 2 years ago for a world non-stop record).

At the outset there will be coach accommodations only, with all seats subject to advance reservation. Free Pillows. Economy meals (35c supper and 25c breakfast). Hostesses. Radio. No extra fare. Tickets at the lowest coach fare of less than 2c a mile will be honored. Both trains completely air-conditioned, of course.

All Classes of Tickets are Good on the ADVANCE ZEPHYRS

By midsummer these ADVANCE ZEPHYRS will be replaced by wonderful new 12-car, 3000 horse-power DENVER ZEPHYRS designed especially for overnight service between Chicago and Colorado.

Built of stainless steel and Diesel-powered, their wider-than-standard equipment will include full-size commodious sleeping cars, full-length dining car, glass-encased lounging car, a cocktail lounge, and many other remarkable travel innovations.

IDEALS

With the barrage of political ballyhoo bursting upon the voting public, the average citizen needs some source of real, concrete facts. The Sun recognizes that fact and is now presenting in its Saturday issues special articles covering the entire field of politics.

Not content merely to publish routine news of parties, candidates, platforms and the approaching conventions, The Sun has trained reporters and investigators in the political storm centers of the United States to probe and question and observe. And they consistently bring back amazing and unusual facts and figures about relief and unemployment, about Federal works projects and industrial conditions, about boon-doggling and farm experiments. They obtain exclusive interviews with party leaders and potential candidates as well as exponents of widely heralded stunts and plans and panaceas.

This special material is not available from any other source. It appears only in the Saturday issues of The Sun. A 6-months' subscription to The Saturday Sun for $.75 will keep you fully informed on political issues and developments until after the coming presidential election. KING'S MISTRESS DEFIES EDICT TO QUIT RUMANIA

Army of 500,000 Peasants Fails to Daunt Her.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 1.—(AP)—A red-headed woman defied an army of 500,000 peasants tonight demanding her banishment.

Mme. Magda Lupescu remained adamant and cool in the face of the huge peasant demonstration against her influence with King Carol and the Rumanian throne.

The belief persisted, however, that she would eventually make another trip out of the country to allow agrarian resentment to cool. She has done that before.

Refuses to Leave at Once.

But, meanwhile, it was believed that intimates who advised her to leave at once met her flat refusal. She is said to have refused to be intimidated by Ion Mihalache's powerful but peaceful army, or to admit that her presence is the cause of growing unrest.

Should she flee the country it is believed she may choose southern France as her destination while traveling incognito. Her opponents said there were signs she would make another of her periodic pilgrimages for political purposes.

Bucharest itself was calm following the entry of the huge protest army yesterday, although all circles were buzzing anew with gossip about the situation.

Violence Is Prevented.

The sturdy farmers, wearing the national costume with a white cross on the sleeve, prevented any violence as Mihalache pledged his loyalty to King Carol, but declared:

"The roads between the king and the peasants shall no longer be barricaded by the court camarilla [clique]."

Two Are Hurt as Glass Falls from Loop Window

William Moseson, 25 years old, 3308 Division street, incurred severe scalp wounds, and the left hand of Otto Blaha, 45 years old, 5112 Bernard street, was lacerated when a pane of glass fell from a sixth floor window at 100 North La Salle street yesterday and struck the men as they were walking in the street. The victims were treated at Henrotin hospital. The office of the building was closed, but police said that a wind squall had loosed the window pane.

FINED AFTER TAVERN BRAWL.

Samuel Brayne, 30 years old, 850 Irving Park boulevard, a photographer and X-ray helper at the American hospital, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Justin F. McCarthy in the Town Hall court yesterday for assault with a deadly weapon in a tavern brawn Saturday night.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Among the pictures of 13 Illinois graduates from West Point published yesterday was that of John E. Kelly of New Jersey, who was mistakenly identified as John Richard Kelly, 7653 Bosworth avenue, Chicago. Cadet Kelly of Chicago is to be commissioned in the air corps, and assigned to Randolph field, Texas.

An item yesterday said that the false fire alarm that Fireman Hodd Bond was answering when he met his death in a collision of fire apparatus was turned in from 3827 Ellis avenue. Fire department records show the call originated at 3845 Ellis avenue.

The alumnæ reunion of the St. Mary of Nazareth hospital school of nursing will be next Sunday instead of Thursday as reported in the northwest Metropolitan section last Sunday.

An Associated Press dispatch from Pittsburgh said that Congressman Marion Zioncheck would address the Chicago Henry George club on June 8. Nathan Hillman, president of the club, said yesterday Zioncheck has never been asked to address it.

An obituary item in yesterday's TRIBUNE erroneously told of the death in Los Angeles on Tuesday of Charles S. Clark. The person to whom the information applied was Zalmon D. Root, 93 years old, retired hay and grain broker who left the Chicago area fourteen years ago.

Seeks Court Aid to Regain Son, 6, from Foster Parents

Mrs. Josephine Meucci, 25 years old, of Milwaukee, Wis., sought the custody of her son, Raymond Jr., 6 years old, in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed yesterday in the Circuit court. The petition is directed against Aldo Bachini, 35 years old, and his wife, Florence, 33 years old, of 1614 South 51st street, Cicero, who, Mrs. Meucci alleges, fraudulently adopted the boy here a year ago. A hearing on the writ will be held by Judge Michael Feinberg today.

FIND SUICIDE'S BODY.

Moline, Ill., June 1.—[Special.]—The body of William J. Dunker, 53, credit manager of the Crescent Electric Supply company of Davenport, Ia. who was seen to leap from the Roller gate dam of the Mississippi river at Rock Island Friday was found in the main channel of the stream by fishermen today.

BOMBS MENACE BRITISH CHIEF IN PALESTINE HOME

CAIRO, June 1.—(AP)—Two bombs exploded outside the government house in Jerusalem where Gen. Sir Arthur Grenfell Wauchope, British Palestine high commissioner, lives, but caused no damage, reports from Jerusalem said tonight.

Call on Arabs to Revolt.

JERUSALEM, June 1.—[Jewish Telegraphic Agency.]—A call to armed revolt was issued in Jaffa, Nablus, and numerous other Arab cities tonight.

A proclamation with the slogan "beat the drums of revolt" was posted in Jaffa, calling Arab youths to arms for an uprising. Thousands of leaflets were distributed at Nablus urging rebellion.

A joint meeting of representatives of seventeen Arab villages near Jaffa proclaimed a strike, a revolt, and a boycott of Jews.

Jewish Student Killed.

Rahman Kalantaroff, 29, student of the Hebrew university in Jerusalem, was fatally wounded by rifle fire as he rode in a bus just outside Jerusalem today.

Eleven shots were fired at the bus, which was on its way to Tel Aviv from Jerusalem, by attackers in ambush just outside of Jerusalem. Two other passengers in the bus were also wounded, but not seriously.

Abraham Fisch of Tel Aviv, formerly an auditor in Brooklyn, was set upon by Arabs who stoned him. At a hospital he said the Arabs believed he was the 75 year old mayor, Meier Dizengoff, of the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv.

Fire on Police Patrol.

Arab snipers fired upon a police patrol in Jerusalem, but there were no casualties. Three passengers were hurt when a Jewish bus, en route to Tiberias, met with an accident. Bombs burst in a Jewish stable in Tiberias and in a workers' home at Haifa. No one was hurt. An attempt to fire the Hatikvah quarter between Jaffa and Tel Aviv was repulsed after an exchange of shots.

The government imposed a collective fine of $1,000, payable within 24 hours, upon two Arab streets in Safed. The residents were accused of sabotaging public property.

Disorders over the week-end accounted for six deaths, bringing the total to nearly 70 since the smoldering resentment of Arabs over the influx of Jews flamed into the open. Announcement that four more towns were suspending municipal services caused fears for the health of citizens.

DIES OF INJURY FROM FALL.

Druggan to Seek Delay in $600,000 Tax Case Today

Terry Druggan, beer baron of the prohibition area, through his attorney, Mark D. Yellon, yesterday notified the office of the United States district attorney that he will seek a continuance of his case involving $600,000 in income taxes when it comes up for hearing before Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward today. Yellon told David Bazelon, assistant United States attorney, that Druggan still denies owing the money for the years 1922, 1923, and 1924, but that he will continue his efforts to make a compromise settlement. Druggan served two and one-half years in federal prison for evading his income tax payments.

Firestone
THE MASTERPIECE OF TIRE CONSTRUCTION

WHEN LIFE HANGS BY A THREAD-

Firestone GUM-DIPPED TIRES WIN INDIANAPOLIS 500 MILE RACE

Last Saturday Louis Meyer broke the track record at 109 miles per hour, driving the entire race without tire trouble of any kind. He is the only driver ever to win the race three times and has always used Firestone tires.

No tires except Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires could have resisted the terrific heat generated at such high sustained speeds on the hot brick track, lap after lap, hour after hour. You can have no greater proof of blowout protection and safety.

Not one of the thirty-three drivers would risk his life on any other tire, for each driver knows that heat is the chief cause of tire failure and blowouts. Firestone cords are soaked in liquid rubber, which saturates and coats every cotton fiber, preventing friction and heat and adding great strength. This is the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, that gives you greatest blowout protection.

Profit by the experience of race drivers. Equip your car today with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires—it costs so little to protect lives worth so much.

MR. VANDENBERG'S SOUND ADVICE.

Senator Vandenberg's activities in Washington, especially in recent months, have been of great usefulness to the country. It was he who forced the publication of the list of the larger beneficiaries of the AAA, against the protests of Secretary Wallace and despite the wishes of the overwhelming Democratic majority in the senate. It was he, too, who took the lead in exposing the fallacies of the Florida ship canal and the 'Quoddy power project. He almost defeated the Florida grant and he did succeed in defeating the other. It is a record of which he may well be proud.

Now, in an interview with Arthur Henning in which the problems facing the Cleveland convention were discussed, Mr. Vandenberg has disclosed once more his capacity for thinking clearly on national questions. Mr. Vandenberg is not a standpatter. He does not desire a changeless world. He recognizes that the government can and should play an important part in bringing about better conditions of life for the ordinary citizen. But he does not believe in adopting means to this end which will do far more harm than good. He would not, for example, support legislation like the Guffey bill, which he knew to be unconstitutional.

"The man on the street may not know it yet," he told Mr. Henning, "but the constitution and the Supreme court are all that finally stand between him and the loss of free speech, free press, free assembly, free petition, free elections, free religious worship, and a thousand other precious liberties which still distinguish America from old world dictatorships."

Mr. Vandenberg would have the government persuade, wherever possible, rather than coerce the citizen. He believes in the largest measure of social security, but, like many others who have studied the existing act, he finds it "full of flaws, obviously unworkable." He sees in this situation an opportunity to employ the tactics of persuasion, through use of the taxing power. Instead of penalizing thrift, as the present tax bill contemplates, he would grant a measure of tax exemption to those business houses which voluntarily make provision for their employés' old age, unemployment, etc. He believes that such a system of social security would be more easily administered and more serviceable to the country and to the individuals concerned.

"Reward private industry for voluntary social progress," he says, "by lifting all taxation from all funds dedicated to unemployment benefits, retirement wages, or profit sharing. . . . Make social progress profitable and you will make it popular."

Mr. Vandenberg properly describes himself as a liberal. He believes in freedom and in the encouragement of wholesome initiative. He is hopeful regarding the outcome of the election in November. If the Republican party chooses a candidate who is aggressive and knows how to fight, and if it presents a platform "to fit our traditions and necessities," the Republicans will win. They will win, he argues, because the common sense of the American people will prefer such a candidate and such a program to the blundering, coercive administration which has been in power these last four years.

We share Mr. Vandenberg's optimism. If the candidate and platform meet his specifications, as there is every reason to hope they will, the victory will be won. There are millions of citizens in this country who share Mr. Vandenberg's belief that the forthcoming election is the most important which has faced this country since 1860. If they are given a ticket and a body of principles which they can support they will carry the Republican party to success despite all handicaps.

HEART BALM.

By a 4 to 1 vote of the judges, the Appellate division in New York has sustained the constitutionality of a statute outlawing suits for alienation of affections, seduction, and breach of promise to marry. The New York court seems to have taken much the line followed by the Illinois court in its recent decision upholding a similar Illinois statute. The marriage contract, in the view of the majority of the judges, was held to be no ordinary business agreement regarding goods and services; accordingly the legislature could deny remedies for breach of the marriage contract, which could not be denied for failure to carry out other kinds of agreements.

As time went on, the suits for cash to assuage broken hearts became more outrageous and more absurd. It was absurd to suppose that the anguish, however genuine, suffered by a jilted woman could be stilled with a money payment. It was outrageous to permit the courts to be used for legalized blackmail by gold diggers. The use of the courts in this fashion had become a national scandal. This newspaper was among the first, if it was not the first, to demand that the so-called heart-balm type of damage suit be forbidden. Laws to that effect were passed a few years ago by half a dozen or more legislatures and have now been generally sustained in the higher courts of the states concerned.

The action of the court illustrates once more that the law can be altered within our constitutional framework to meet changing circumstances. When woman was property and when marriages were commonly arranged with a view to property settlements, the breach of a contract to marry was scarcely distinguishable from any other kind of contract regarding property. Changing customs have made the distinction an obvious one and the legislatures and courts have had no difficulty recognizing it.

THE EXPECTED HAPPENS.

News from Nicaragua of a military uprising against the constitutional government will astonish no one acquainted with fundamental conditions in that country and pretty generally in the isthmian republics. The constitutional régime was established through the influence of the United States, expressed practically by the marines and the firm but tactful authority of Gen. Frank McCoy, who supervised the election of the present government. When this influence was withdrawn it was only a matter of time when the old order would reassert itself.

A government spokesman at the capital, Managua, calls the uprising fictitious, which it is so far as it claims to be a popular movement. But it represents the normal proceedings of politics and government in Nicaragua and it may be suggested that it is less fictitious than the so-called constitutional régime it seems likely to overthrow. There is nothing very fictitious about an uprising which already has control of the principal port on the Caribbean and other important towns and is acknowledged to be in the interest of the chief of the national army, Gen. Somoza.

Perhaps the revolt will fail, but if it does we shall be ingenuous if we ascribe it to the sudden growth of constitutionalism in the nation. It will fail because the régime in office retains enough control over the military to overpower the rebels. In short, the situation will be essentially the same. The issue will be determined by partisan force.

The arrival of real constitutionalism must wait for the education of the people in the meaning of law. Until that comes, and it must be a long way off, government by generals will continue. The essentials of republican government are absent and the self-styled republics are not republics. American intervention, so passionately protested by our anti-imperialists, is often an important if not necessary factor in the progress of an isthmian people toward stability and civil liberty. But the instances in which it has ended a cruel and destructive personal tyranny have not reconciled even the people of the nations benefited to our interference, much less the politicians whose interests and ambitions it interrupts or defeats who have exploited it to their own profit with the aid of our anti-imperialist propaganda.

The best policy for us is to let nature take its course and never to intervene until conditions clearly threaten us with international complications. With them we are compelled to deal, but our interventions intended to alleviate domestic wrongs and establish a political and social order for which a people are not prepared have produced no permanent results except to earn suspicion and resentment throughout Latin America. A policy of hands off except when we are clearly entitled to act on behalf of our international responsibilities and our legitimate national interests should be adopted and strictly followed.

A NEW ELIZA TAKES TO THE WATER.

Miss Ann Harding of the movies has made it known that she is on her way to Europe. Whoever wrote the sequences of her trip with her daughter must have recalled the scene in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" where Eliza takes to the ice in her dash for freedom. The ice is out of the St. Lawrence, but otherwise Miss Harding's escape from the writs of the pursuing father of her child was in the best Eliza manner. The piece is as good now as it was in the older day. The modern touch was given by the Europe bound ocean liner which Miss Harding must catch in midstream to escape from the jurisdiction of the courts with the child who is also to be a part time daughter of the former husband.

The escape was of first page quality. A news editor would be more, or less, than human if he could resist it.

Editorial of the Day

A MORMON EXAMPLE.

[Des Moines Tribune.]

The Mormon church has announced its intention of taking from public relief rolls all its members who are on them and of assuming itself the responsibility of caring for its needy.

This will affect some 88,000 Mormons now on relief.

The announcement was made Sunday by J. Reuben Clark, a high official of the church—a man who, incidentally, has played an important and highly useful rôle in national public affairs.

The decision of the Mormon church is bold, public spirited, and exemplary.

It means taking on a very considerable burden. Since there are but 750,000 Mormons in the country, the ratio of total membership to needy members is less than 9 to 1.

Of course it does not follow that all relief from the national government could be immediately dispensed with.

Least of all does it follow that relief by the national government was a mistake in the first place.

The point now is that, having necessarily got the national government involved in relief, it is going to be no easy matter to get it out again. The principle will remain for all future time that, whenever the emergency is great enough, Washington must shoulder the load. That is inevitable and as it should be. But it is essential also to get the other principle reëstablished that, up to the stage of real inability, local governments and local nongovernmental agencies must carry the load first.

Every sound consideration counsels that.

Even the citizen who believes that much centralization of power is necessary should be willing to concede that, unless he is an extremist who would junk our whole American theory.

So, let it be repeated, the Mormon church has taken a stand that should be of distinct national value.

Its leadership is to be commended for having the courage to do it.

"CIGARET LIGHT by Steam; New Cleveland Invention."—Headline. Pooh, I don't see why there should be so much excitement over that. I lighted a cigaret with my patent cigaret lighter yesterday.

NEWS OF MARVELOUS INVENTIONS leave me cold, anyhow. The inventors produce machines that will do the work of two hundred men, and they'll guide a crewless ship at sea for a point three hundred miles away, and they'll produce a clanking robot that can talk and sing and write your letters for you, seal 'em up in an envelope, address 'em, put a stamp on, and then clump down to the mail box on the corner and drop 'em in. And after reading about all these inventions I go out to the pantry and have an awful fight with a can of tomatoes that I am trying to open with a can opener and always cut my hand and throw the can opener into the alley and just miss the organ grinder who is filling the air with "O Solo Mio." And it makes the organ grinder mad and he comes up and says, "Whatta for you try to killa me, you pay." And that costs a quarter. And I am still waiting for the perfect can opener.

THE OPEN GRAVE.

There is no chasm in all the world so deep
As this six feet of waiting emptiness:
Not where the death-green dungeons of the sea
Glow with the wealth of crewless galleons,
And luminous fishes in the liquid night
Trundle the bones of admirals where they lie:
Not where the arrowy river ages old
Burns out a canyon in the granite hills
Ten epochs deep, and placards high above
The sprawling fossils of the pristine world;
Not where the miner in his coaly gloam
Follows the twisted arteries of earth,
With little birds to die and little lamps
And weight of continents pressing down above.
Ocean and cleft and mine are not so deep,
Having their grandeur and profundity
Only in the appraising mind of man
That is the measure and the life of all,
Whose dominant soul enfolds the caverned earth
Yet mighty man whose dream contains the world
Gives over now, himself to be contained
In this six feet of waiting emptiness,
This prison and this penance and this hope,
This little shaft of midnight and of dawn,
Reaching to nothing—and infinity.

PEOPLE are said to be moving from the U. S. A. to the Bahamas because they find living conditions impossible in America. But if they discover that living conditions are intolerable in the Bahamas, then where do they trek to? Possibly to an uninhabited isle far down in the South seas. But they wouldn't be happy there because there are no movie shows and no filling stations every mile or two along the road. And gee gosh! no morning papers and no place to buy fresh tubes for the radio. It just does seem that life has its little drawbacks wherever one goes.

ANOTHER OLD QUESTION bobs up in this month's Scribner's: "When is a man drunk?" The magazine doesn't put it in just that blunt form; its title for the thing is "The Danger Line of Drink," but it's the same old question. The answer used to be: "When he kisses the bartender good-night." Now he tries to kiss the motor cop good-night.

WHY SHOULDN'T BOTH the Republicans and the Democrats put a treadmill at the front of their convention halls so that those desiring to show their contempt for the proceedings by taking a walk could jump in and walk as long as they wanted in the treadmill? They could walk as briskly as they wanted to, but they would still be inside the convention and see all that was going on. Of course they wouldn't get anywhere by walking in the treadmill, but they wouldn't get anywhere by taking a walk out into Cleveland or Philadelphia, so it's fifty-fifty, and besides if they stay inside the conventions they can listen to the cheering and the band playing and offer amusement and entertainment to the other delegates.

ZIONCHECK.

The goings on of Zioncheck.
At least, I think his silly capers
Might be excluded from the papers.
I like to read about the G-Men
And other bold and doughty he men;
Also, I contemplate quintuplets
With equanimity; quadruplets
Are quite okey with me, though rabbits
I think are suited to such habits
Of super multiplicity
Better than human beings be.
But, as an innocent spectator,
I see no earthly raison d'etre
For Zioncheck. Pray, try an' check

LYMPH GLANDS ON A RAMPAGE.

OCCASIONALLY medical science indulges in a little prideful boasting, justified perhaps when we consider that many aforetime epidemics have been "cabin'd, cribb'd, confined," if not scotched entirely. But there are so many distressing afflictions that still baffle physicians that the garb of humility must be worn for many years to come.

One of these unconquered diseases is named after Thomas Hodgkin [Hodgkin's disease], who first described the condition more than a hundred years ago. It is characterized by painless enlargement of the lymph glands and is often accompanied by fever. It occurs more frequently in the young, although older individuals are sometimes affected.

Most patients will relate that prior to its onset they were troubled with infections about the teeth or of the tonsils. Then comes a gradual overgrowth of the lymph tissue in the neck, at first on one side and later on the other. This state of affairs differs from the type of gland swelling that follows an acute infection inasmuch as the nodes are neither painful nor tender; nor is the skin reddened.

The tumors increase slowly in size and for many months there may be no general symptoms other than a severe itching. As a rule, the situation progresses until most of the lymph tissue in the body is affected. The irregular shaped masses appear beneath the skin in many parts of the body. The duration varies from one month to three years, although careful management may prolong life seven to eight years.

Because of pressure other structures may be involved. In fact, an early symptom may be difficulty in breathing. Swallowing may be interfered with, as well as the function of speech. Sometimes nerves will be pressed upon, giving rise to pain. If the tumors compress blood vessels and prevent the return of venous circulation to the heart, there may be considerable swelling in one or both extremities.

The temperature, as a rule, is not high, rarely rising above 101 degrees F. It is often of the stepladder type, dropping each day or each two or three days to normal. In severe cases that proceed to a rapid termination, however, a violent fever is observed.

Patches of pigment may become visible on the skin or there may be a general browning of the entire body. As soon as the disease is well established constitutional symptoms develop—loss of weight, weakness, and anemia.

No treatment thus far discovered seems to influence the course of the disease for more than a short time. In fact, some of these patients will show periods of improvement regardless of what is done. Nevertheless, the use of radium or X-ray has been followed by spectacular decrease in the size of the glands. Exposures may be repeated from time to time with good effect and many of the uncomfortable symptoms caused by pressure can thus be relieved or prevented. This plan spares the patient much suffering, although cure does not result.

The drug of greatest value is arsenic. This has been employed in various forms and apparently gives beneficial though not permanent results. Surgical removal of the glands has been tried, but has been without avail in checking the progress of the malady.

Because of the possible relationship with some unknown infection which enters the lymph system via the mouth, it behooves young people particularly to observe good mouth hygiene. Decayed teeth, badly fitting crowns, pyorrhea, etc., can pour every day an appreciable amount of infected material into the lymph channels. Tonsils known to harbor the streptococcus and other organisms may afford good feeding ground for some unknown responsible bacterium.

Science some day will conquer Hodgkin's disease, which a few authorities now believe to be a second or third cousin to cancer.

PHLEBITIS.

Mrs. G. writes: A year ago we went to Florida for the winter and drove back very fast by automobile. I developed phlebitis in the right leg above the knee on our return. I remained quiet for a few weeks and got over it. This year we went away again and all winter both legs seemed to increase in size. After returning home the left leg became very large and turned black. I have been in bed since, and the color has become normal with decrease in the amount of swelling. What causes this condition? Is it serious?

REPLY.

Phlebitis is inflammation of a vein. Sometimes this is acute in character, the vein becoming wholly or partially blocked by a clot of blood. More often phlebitis is chronic, requiring several weeks before the blood can find new channels back to the heart via the deep veins.

Inflammation generally arises in veins that are varicosed. It may develop in consequence of a bruise or a wound or appear in those who are gouty or rheumatic. Sometimes it will follow infectious disease, or affect the veins of those with poor circulation.

Treatment of uncomplicated phlebitis consists of rest in bed for several weeks, elevation of the leg, and applications of heat or cold. Some danger attends the condition, but under careful management recovery is the rule. Proper rest and building resistance will aid in preventing recurrence.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS.

W. T. K. writes:

1. Is infantile paralysis contagious?
2. Do adults ever contract the disease?
3. At what ages is the disease most prevalent?

REPLY.

1. Yes. From our meager knowledge of the disease it appears that infantile paralysis may, like typhoid fever, be spread in more than one way. Contact with known cases should be avoided.
2. Yes.
3. Infantile paralysis is essentially a disease of childhood, probably because the young are more susceptible to the infection. Sixty-five per cent of all cases occur in children under 5 years of age and 95 per cent in those under ten. Any age may be affected, however.

TEETH GRINDER.

C. M. S. writes: What is the cause of a 1 year old grinding his teeth at night?

REPLY.

Teeth grinding is observed chiefly during sleep as a manifestation of some form of nervous irritability. A popular but erroneous belief is that it is a sure sign of intestinal worms. A light late afternoon feeding, followed by a quiet period, then bed—if adhered to—will probably abate the symptom.

LUXURY LINERS AND WAR DEBTS.

Forest Park, Ill., May 29.—How very interesting to read in your paper of the maiden voyage of the Queen Mary as it races to our shores. If I recall the figures correctly, this ship was built at a cost of about 30 millions of dollars, and no doubt financed by the British government [at least in part], helped to give employment to thousands of workmen, thus helping England in a small way to relieve their unemployment situation. On the next page you write that Britain is about ready to inform the United States that she will not pay her war debts at this time [perhaps never]. France finished just such an ocean palace a year ago. Both ships ply between their home ports and the United States. Isn't it about time that we Americans realize that there is just as much scenery and as many points of interest here in the good old United States as abroad? We shouldn't have to go abroad and spend our hard earned American dollars with countries that deliberately default on their debts to us. We can enjoy ourselves at home where we all speak the same language and do not need guides to help take some more dough away from us every time we turn around.

★ DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION ★

BY JAMES MADISON.

[Father of the Constitution and Fourth President of the United States.]

The Electoral College Is Invented

Philadelphia, Saturday, June 2, 1787.—In committee of the whole. The mode of appointing the executive was resumed. Mr. Wilson of Pennsylvania made the following motion: [Mr. Wilson had been invited the day before by Mr. Mason of Virginia to digest his plan for the election of the magistrate by the people.] That the executive magistracy shall be elected in the following manner: That the states be divided into districts and that the persons qualified to vote in each district for members of the first branch of the national legislature elect members for their respective districts to be electors of the executive magistracy, that the electors meet and proceed to elect by ballot, but not of their own number [one or more persons], in whom the executive authority of the national government shall be vested. Mr. Wilson repeated his arguments in favor of an election without the intervention of the states.

Mr. Gerry of Massachusetts opposed election by the national legislature. There would be a constant intrigue kept up for the appointment. The legislature and the candidates would bargain and play into one another's hands. He liked the principle of Mr. Wilson's motion but feared it would alarm state partisans. He was not clear that the people ought to act directly even in the choice of electors, being too little informed. On the question of agreeing to Mr. Wilson's motion it was negatived. On the question of electing the national executive by the national legislature for a term of seven years it was agree to; Pennsylvania and Maryland, no.

Mr. Sherman of Connecticut contended that the national legislature should have the power to remove the executive at pleasure. Mr. Dickinson of Delaware went into a discourse of some length the sum of which was that the legislative, executive, and judiciary departments ought to be made as independent as possible. One source of stability is the double branch of the legislature, the other the division of the country into states. This was the ground of his consolation for the future fate of his country. The motion for making the national executive removable by the national legislature at the request of a majority of the states was rejected; Delaware, ay.

A VISIT TO THE ZOO.

Des Plaines, Ill., May 28.—After reading the reaction of the Kinsie family to their visit to the Brookfield zoo I would like to relate our experience while visiting there last Saturday for the fourth or fifth time.

Arriving there about noon, we ate our lunch in the forest preserve opposite the zoo. We then returned all baggage to the car and parked it in the huge parking lot across the street.

Upon entering the park we paid 10 cents for a map of the grounds, which gives the location of all exhibits and buildings. This we found very helpful in locating exhibits in which we were most interested.

There are wheelchairs at the gate for adults and children, but, although the youngest in our party was 8 years of age and the eldest 70, we preferred to walk.

We found drinking fountains in every building and many outside.

There are also many, many benches. In some buildings, the monkey house for instance, there are more visitors than in others, but not even on the opening day have we ever seen a crowd thick enough to trample children.

If one has patience to wait a few minutes there will always be a chance to see even the baby orang-utan.

In three hours we had walked leisurely around the park and had seen practically all of the exhibits. We particularly enjoyed the lovely peacocks strolling about among the tables where we stopped for ice cream.

If one lives within easy driving distance of the park and wishes to spend more time with some of the exhibits it would be wiser not to try to cover the entire park at one visit.

FOR GOV. LANDON.

Chicago Heights, Ill., May 27.—Senator Borah keeps hinting that Gov. Landon, just because he is in the oil business, has done something terribly wrong. Well, just as a reminder to Senator Borah, there probably has been lots of worthless silver mining stock sold as well as oil stock. Besides, he might want some of the oil to pour over his four bushels of potatoes. You sometimes hear sly hints through the papers that Gov. Landon is lacking in knowledge of national affairs and that he is hardly smart enough to run the affairs of the United States. That may be a mighty good qualification, as some of the late occupants of the White House have been too smart. They want to do the thinking for every one in the United States and have been doing it, and see the results. We are pretty well fed up on it.

Give us a man with both feet on the ground and good horse sense. That is what we want, and we believe we have those qualifications along with others in Gov. Landon of Kansas. A gentleman in every sense of the word and a man who has always lived up to his word. You never hear him casting slurs at his opponents.

BOOKS ON THE CONSTITUTION.

Chicago, May 29.—It may interest you to know that a class in American constitutional history is being held at the People's Junior college, 3500 Douglas boulevard, Chicago.

As a member of this class I called at the Legler, Douglas, John Toman, and the Lewis institute branches of the public library, but was unable to get any book on the American constitution. The other members of our class had the same experience and many tried other branches of the public library in the city but could not get any book on American constitutional history whatsoever.

We then tried the main branch in the loop and were told that there are about three or four books in circulation on this subject but there were no books on the shelves and, after trying to get one from the library for the last four months, we are still without the books.

Isn't the library board interested in obtaining books on the American constitution for the ones who do wish to read and study it, especially during this presidential administration? What about the state appropriation fund for the buying of new books? Don't they think a book on the American constitution for Americans is essential?

TITLE TO PROPERTY.

Chicago, May 30.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A widow died intestate, leaving an adult son and daughter. The estate consisted of only a lot valued at a few hundred dollars. This did not seem to justify probate. The brother, wishing his sister to have the lot, gave her a quitclaim deed. This and an affidavit reciting the fact have been filed for record. 1. Has the sister a merchantable title? 2. If not, how can it be made so?

M. E. M.

1. No, but if the value is small it seems probable that you could induce a purchaser to accept the title. If seven years have gone by, so as to bar claims, then the title might be made merchantable by simple proceedings to establish heirship under a special statute for that purpose.

2. Depends on facts that are not before us.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

TO CLAIM INHERITANCE.

Chicago, May 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Where should I inquire about inheritance left by an uncle who died in the year 1916 in Illinois, leaving no direct descendants? Even the town or place where he died is unknown to the would-be heirs. 2. After how many years does the inheritance forfeit and is turned over to the state?

F. B.

1. Follow up clews in your possession.

2. The estate would escheat to the state of Illinois only if it appeared that there were no heirs. If there were heirs, but they failed to assert their claims, the limitation period would depend upon the nature of the assets, upon the facts as to adverse possession, and on other facts that are not before us.

WIFE TELLS HER EFFORT TO SELL SUING HUSBAND

Asked Woman Employer $20,000, Court Hears.

Worcester, Mass., June 1.—(AP)—The divorce suit of Mitchell A. Bercume, Oxford constable, against his wife, Mrs. Helen L. Bercume, was enlivened today by Mrs. Bercume's story of how she tried to sell him for $20,000 to a woman for whom he worked as a chauffeur.

The middle aged housewife readily admitted in Probate court she had offered to sell her husband to a "Mrs. Jones of Millbury," but said she got no reply to her offer.

She said, however, her husband lost his job of chauffeuring for "Mrs. Jones" two or three days later.

Spurns Reconciliation Notes.

Bercume, she testified, had been working at the chauffeuring job during a slack time in his factory work and frequently did not return home until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning.

Finally she wrote a letter, she said, making the offer. When her husband heard of the letter he became angry and used profanity, she testified.

Mrs. Bercume accused her husband of being unduly friendly with several Oxford women. Once when he returned home after living apart from her for a long period he slipped notes under her door asking forgiveness, she said, but she never read the notes, although other members of the family did.

Co-respondent Denies Charges.

She admitted hitting Bercume with a chair once when he dared her to.

Mrs. Esther Leblanc of Oxford, named by the wife, denied giving the constable a handkerchief for Christmas or calling him "little boy blue," referring to his uniform.

Judge Harry H. Atwood reserved decision after the testimony was completed.

3 TO 150 YEARS GIVEN TO WIFE KILLING SUSPECT

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—(AP)—A sentence of from 3 to 150 years was imposed today upon Robert S. James, five times married barber, convicted of a morals offense involving his 21 year old niece, Lois Wright.

The trial and conviction of James was a prelude to his trial set for June 22 on a charge of having murdered his fifth wife, Mary Bush James.

Police allege he held his wife's foot in a box of rattlesnakes so they could poison her, and, that failing, drowned her in a bath tub.

GERMAN POLICE BANISH PASTORS IN CHURCH FEUD

Nazis Force Rebel Clergy Out of Parishes.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BERLIN, June 1.—The vigor with which the government has gone to work to suppress every outward sign of lack of harmony within the third reich until after the Olympic games threatens to involve it again in open war with the independent protestant clergy of confessional synods. In order to silence the troublesome confessional clergy, who continue to protest publicly against the principle of totalitarianism as applied to the church, the government has again had recourse with increasing frequency to police action.

During the last two months various pastors in a number of districts of the reich have been expelled from their parishes by police. When the widely read protestant organ, Reich Messenger, carried an article last week exposing the growth of the national church movement in Thuringia, where both the existing Christian confessions are being violently attacked by the extreme Nazis, the propaganda ministry suppressed the paper.

Hushes Nazi Attacks.

On the other hand the government has also forced various Nordic pagan groups and German Christians to be circumspect in their attacks on Catholic and Protestant Christianity. Hans Kerrl, minister of church affairs, has adopted the standpoint that differences between totalitarian and anti-totalitarian elements within the Protestant church are not to be taken too seriously. He has allied himself with the party compromise now led by Bishop Marahrens.

The continued recalcitrance of a large body of the clergy and laity who refuse to make any compromise with the Nazi principle of totalitarianism as far as it effects the church has shocked the exasperated minister. Continued protests and the agitation of fighting pastors against encroachments of the Nazi doctrin's methods in religious fields is regarded by the minister and his associates as unreasonable in this Olympic year when the whole nation is expected to unite in giving foreign visitors the impression that the Nazi system is a striking success.

The church minister's real difficulty is that he is unable to take action against such Nazi extremists within the church administration, who have strong party friends. In order to suppress the resulting religious warfare in certain districts he is compelled to ask police aid in silencing not only the local Nazi bishop or superintendent, but the protesting spokesmen of independent clergy as well.

Pastors Are Banished.

This situation has resulted in a series of police orders banishing pastors from Hesse, where Bishop Dietrich and his associates have kept control with the aid of party leaders in spite of the reform church administration by Kerrl and the reich church commission. The Nazi superintendent, for example, ordered Pastor Hechler of Heppenheim to take cognizance of the new change or retire from the active ministry. Hechler is one of the confessional church leaders. He refused the request of diocesan authorities and called in police, who banished him.

Herr Furth of the parish of Heecheisms was allowed to return to Hesse after the general amnesty was issued by Reichfuehrer Hitler after the march into the Rhineland. Secret political police, however, expelled him again at the request of diocesan authorities. The case is of the same sort which occurred in Wiesbaden, Dotzheim, and a number of other parishes.

Nowhere else in the reich do the same conditions exist as in Hesse, but in Thuringia the confessional clergy is being slowly forced out of their parishes. In this case a good part of the laity is devoted to the ideal of a national church on the basis of semi-Fascist teaching so that any protest by an orthodox spokesman has little effect.

Pastors Put in Jail.

In Saxony police of several cities have demanded that lists of members of confessional synods be placed in their hands. Many Saxon pastors already have spent periods in prison for disobeying the local Nazi bishop.

Two pastors in the province of Brandenburg were expelled from their parishes in May. Pastor Pecina of Seelow is now in prison charged with refusing to surrender to the German Christian superintendent the books of the parish.

LIEUT. FARRELL, POLICE SLEUTH, TO RETIRE TODAY

FARRELL, LIEUT. JOHN J.

Lieut. John Joseph Farrell, detective who has received creditable mention 21 times during his 30 years on the police force, will be retired today, his 63d birthday, as provided by law.

Lieut. Farrell, who lives at 8240 St. Lawrence avenue, joined the police department on April 9, 1906. He was soon detailed to the detective bureau, and in 1913 was promoted to sergeant. Eight years later he became a lieutenant. For several years he has been assigned to the Deering street station.

Among the murders Farrell is credited with solving was that of Louis Lichtenstein in 1916. He received extra compensation on three occasions for particularly brilliant detective ability.

CHICAGO INFANT DEATH RATE IS EARTH'S LOWEST

Million Size Cities' Data Show Melbourne 2d.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Statistics compiled from all corners of the earth reveal that Chicago for the fourth consecutive year is "the healthiest place in the world in which a baby can be born," said Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen yesterday.

Dr. Bundesen's statement is based on records from cities of more than 1,000,000 population showing that Chicago's record of 40.1 infant deaths per 1,000 births established in 1935 is the lowest, with Melbourne, Australia, next. Deaths include those of all infants less than one year of age. The ranking follows:

CITY—	INFANT DEATH RATE.	CITY—	INFANT DEATH RATE.
Chicago	40.1	Birmingham	64.8
Melbourne	43	Vienna	75.3
Detroit	44.4	Milan	89.8
New York	47.6	Glasgow	98.1
Philadelphia	48.2	Madrid	100.4
Hamburg	49.4	Warsaw	107.3
Los Angeles	52	Budapest	122.1
Buenos Aires	52.1	Sao Paulo	147.8
London	57.7	Cairo	190.5
Barcelona	62.6	Bombay	245.6
Berlin	63.7

Dr. Bundesen listed some reasons for Chicago's low infant mortality.

It is the only city in the world, he says, where only grade A milk is sold.

It is the only city to his knowledge where a free breast milk station is operated by the city. This was made possible through Mayor Kelly's interest. It was breast milk obtained after an all night search years ago by Dr. Bundesen which saved the lives of the two babies Mayor Kelly adopted, his only child, by a previous marriage, having died.

Personal Visits Help Babies.

Two hundred women wearing blue uniforms, round hats and a star on their uniform pocket labeled "City Health Department," travel about their individual territories, making 300 calls a week on babies.

"Out of every ten babies who die nine are bottle fed," said Dr. Bundesen. "There is no reason why a mother can't nurse her baby, with patience, in any normal case."

ARNOLD B. HALL, WIDELY KNOWN EDUCATOR, DIES

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—Arnold Bennett Hall, 55, director of government research for Brookings institution since January, 1933, died here tonight after a long illness.

Before joining the Brookings staf, Mr. Hall had been president of the Univeristy of Oregon for six years and had taught political science and law at the University of Wisconsin and at Northwestern university.

Born in Franklin, Ind., July 22, 1881, Dr. Hall obtained his A.B. degree at Franklin college in 1904 workhis way through college. He received the doctor of jurisprudence degree cum laude from the University of Chicago in 1907.

He became an assistant instructor in political science and international law at the University of Chicago in 1907 and an instructor in public law and politics at Northwestern university in 1909. In 1910, he became an instructor in political science at the Univeristy of Wisconsin.

HOLD RITES FOR PETER PHILLIP, RETIRED BANKER

Funeral services were held yesterday for Peter Phillip, 83 years old, veteran Chicago banker, from St. Jerome church, Lunt and Paulina avenues. Burial was in St. Henry cemetery. Mr. Phillip died Friday in his home at 1808 Lunt avenue.

Mr. Phillip was born in Chicago and educated in the public schools here. He began his business career as operator of a planing mill at Ravenswood and Greenleaf avenues, and in 1880 entered the feed, grain, and coal business. In 1895 Mr. Phillip organized the Phillip State bank at 7001 North Clark street, and he was president and chairman of the board until he retired five years ago.

Mr. Phillip was a member of the Knights of Columbus, and the Luxembourger Brutter lund. He is survived by his widow, Catherine, two daughters, Mrs. Charles F. Bunte and Mrs. J. F. Nolan, and three sons, Frank J., George P., all of Chicago, and Philip J. of Detroit.

W. BUTTERWORTH FUNERAL RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Moline, Ill., June 1.—[Special.]—Funeral services for William Butterworth, chairman of the board of directors of Deere & Co., and a past president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, who died yesterday of a heart attack while watching a golf match near Atlantic City, N. J., will be conducted here Wednesday afternoon.

Services at the family estate will be private, but public rites will be conducted in the First Congregational Church of Moline of which Mr. Butterworth was a member, at 3:30 p. m.

The Rev. William Hodgson of the First Congregational church will officiate. Burial will be in the Deere family lot in Riverside cemetery. Active pallbearers will be business associates.

The Moline Association of Commerce this afternoon voted to ask all stores to close at 3:15 p. m. Wednesday in honor of Mr. Butterworth, and Dr. A. Henry Arp, mayor, announced that city departments will close at that time. Deere & Co. officials announced that their factories here and at East Moline will close at noon.

A delegation of directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, headed by Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, association president, will attend the services.

LATHROP ESTATE INVENTORY LISTS $275,000 TOTAL

A $275,000 estate was left by Mrs. Helen Lynde Aldis Lathrop, according to an inventory of the estate filed yesterday with August Urbanski, assistant to the probate judge. The widow of Byron Lathrop, Chicago realty operator, she died last Aug. 3 in her summer home in York Harbor, Me., at the age of 86. HOLD FUNERAL TOMORROW FOR CHAS. F. CLARK

Funeral services for Charles F. Clark, 70 years old, former superintendent of transportation for the Commonwealth Edison company, will be held at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow from the residence at 652 Sheridan road, to St. Mary of the Lake church. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Clark was stricken with a heart attack Sunday as he and his wife were visiting graves of relatives in Calvary cemetery. Mr. Clark resigned from the Edison company three years ago after 40 years of service. He was born in Chicago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Julia A. Clark; two sons, Corning and Lyman, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert W. Carmody. Mr. Clark was a member of the Chicago Athletic club.

REV. A. F. CLARK, 71, RETIRED M. E. MINISTER, DIES

The Rev. Allison F. Clark, 71 years old, 1122 South Oak Park avenue, Oak Park, retired minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, died yesterday in Wesley hospital. Funeral services will be held tomorrow in the Euclid Methodist church in Oak Park and burial will be made at Lena, Ill., his birthplace. The Rev. Mr. Clark, a graduate of Northwestern university, ended 41 years of service in the church with his retirement as pastor of Grace church, Elgin, in 1929. He formerly was superintendent of the North Chicago district of the Rock River conference and was pastor of churches in nine different cities.

Joseph Corkery, World War Veteran of Aurora, Is Dead

Joseph Corkery, 64 years old, of Aurora, died in the Billings Memorial hospital here yesterday after an operation for an ailment resulting from his army service in France. He served overseas with the 112th field artillery brigade, taking part in several major engagements. Mr. Corkery was employed in the bridge department of the Burlington railroad. His widow, Loretta, and two sons survive.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Charging the federal communications commission with trying to set up a censorship over broadcasting, the Shore Wave Institute of America has filed a formal protest with FCC against an order, effective July 1, providing that no licensed broadcaster may rebroadcast a program of any foreign station without written permission from the commission.

In a letter to FCC, Oswald F. Schuette, president of the institute, maintains that this is censorship of foreign programs in violation of the communications act and that it is a step toward the constriction of domestic programs.

"Any attempt by the federal government to impose similar peace time censorship on press dispatches, containing the same news, would be condemned as a violation of the freedom of the press," Mr. Schuette asserted. Such restrictions would tend to embroil us in foreign disputes rather than to guard us from foreign influence, he declared.

"Many of these broadcasts relate to controversies among foreign governments," he added. "Grants of official permission for rebroadcasts of this nature might be construed to imply government approval of these programs and involve us in European disputes."

Weirton, W. Va., June 1.—[Special.]—John C. Williams, 60, president of the Weirton Steel company, died at his summer lodge here today of heart disease. He resided in Steubenville, O.

Williams was one of the organizers of the Weirton Steel company and was a pioneer in modern steel operations in the upper Ohio river valley. In 1905 he and E. T. and E. M. Weir, brothers, founded the Phillips Sheet and Tinplate company and later purchased the plant of the Jackson Iron and Steel works in Clarksburg, W. Va.

From that beginning, Williams and the Weir brothers expanded their interests throughout the upper Ohio valley. They later brought their holdings under the name of the Weirton Steel company which became a subsidiary of the National Steel corporation. When E. T. Weir was named chairman of the National five years ago, Williams succeeded him as president of the Weirton company.

JOHN KUCHINSKAS FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for John Kuchinskas, 53 years old, 2221 Cermak road, prominent Lithuanian lawyer who died at home Saturday after an operation, will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in Our Lady of Vilna's church. Burial will be in St. Casimir's cemetery.

Mr. Kuchinskas was born in Lithuania, and his parents brought him to America when he was 3 years old. He worked in the coal mines in southern Illinois to earn money for his law course at Chicago Kent College of Law, from which he was graduated in 1912. He entered practice in Chicago in the same year. For two years he was secretary of the United States Building and Loan league. Mr. Kuchinskas also served two years as an assistant state's attorney under Robert E. Crowe.

Mr. Kuchinskas is survived by his widow, Eleanor, and two children, Irene, an attorney, and John Jr., both of Chicago.

LEADERSHIP
Service, Quality and Price

● Receiving twenty times as many calls as the average concern enables Lain & Son to furnish complete funerals at prices often from one-third to one-half less than any other concern in Chicago. ● There is no sacrifice of quality, or prestige, for Lain & Son standards of service are the highest possible. ● Every Chapel service includes the Imperial Quartet, Organ and Organist, when desired, at no additional cost. ● Lain & Son prices are not only the lowest in Chicago — but are not equalled in eight other large cities. ● Over 65% of Lain & Son services cost less than $300—35% under $200 — many as low as $110.

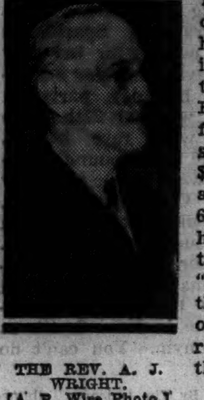
SAY TOWNSEND PLAN IN HANDS OF RACKETEERS

Leaders Must Get Out, Committee Told.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—A number of backers of the Townsend old age pension movement declared today before a house investigating committee that Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the scheme to pay $200 monthly to all persons over 60, apparently had fallen into the hands of "racketeers" and that he and other officials must be removed from their positions.



THE REV. A. J. WRIGHT.

Just how the California doctor and his associates are to be ousted was a problem, the witnesses admitted. Members of the committee who are lawyers said there was no legal manner in which the present leaders can be discharged.

"Obscene" Letters Shown.

Committee Counsel James R. Sullivan introduced into the record several letters written by the Rev. Clinton Wunder, eastern director of the Townsend organization, to John B. Kiefer, Chicago Townsendite. Wunder and Kiefer, with Townsend, have been cited for contempt of the committee and the cases against them are in the hands of the federal district attorney.

Some of the letters contained matter of a pornographic nature and Sullivan did not read them, he said, because of their "obscene" nature. Copies of the missives were read eagerly by the committee members who expressed their horror at some of the phrases used.

Sees Townsend in Fear.

Frank L. McWade, who resigned a week ago as Rochester, N. Y., area manager of the Townsendites, was the emphatic of the witnesses. He pounded the table as he declared:

"The movement is in the hands of racketeers. Dr. Townsend wouldn't have walked out on this committee if he had not had something to fear. Dr. Wunder is an extraordinary man. He must be a Jekyll and Hyde. These letters were written by a degenerate."

The Rev. Alfred J. Wright, Cleveland pastor and Ohio state manager of the Townsendites, was another who declared a reorganization of the movement was necessary.

"Must End Dictatorship."

"The dictatorship of the movement by Dr. Townsend must be ended," he said. "We are going to set up a new board. When the organization has its convention in July in Cleveland we will do something. The movement will go on despite Dr. Townsend."

Charles M. Hawks, father of the flyer, Frank Hawks, who resigned May 29 from the movement as Massachusetts director, testified that not a single original leader still is associated with Dr. Townsend.

Hawks was advised by Dr. Townsend, he said, not to answer the committee's subpena, but upon reflection decided that he would not join in a general defiance of the committee.

HELD BY POLICE

A young woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Charlotte Brainard, 26 years old, of New York City, sat in a cell at the detective bureau last night. Sergt. William Hosna had arrested her on charges of passing bogus checks for $168 on two loop hotels and a department store.

"I wrote the checks because I was broke," explained the prisoner. "My father is Brig. Gen. Harcourt of the regular army, who is stationed in the Philippines. But don't bring him into it. I don't want him to know about my shame."

The young woman was personable and Sergt. Hosna was impressed, but an examination of the army register failed to show any officer named Harcourt on the list. So he sent his prisoner through the bureau of identification. This disclosed that under the names of Helen Carrico, Helen Hayes, and Sherry Harcourt, she had been arrested here, in Los Angeles, and in San Francisco for passing bad checks, burglary, and stealing an automobile. In each case she won probation.

SPANISH STRIKES SPREAD TO MORE THAN 60 TOWNS

MADRID, June 1.—(AP)—Strikes spread to more than sixty towns tonight despite government efforts to check them.

The governor of Malaga province announced the general strikes of agricultural workers who demanded higher wages. The strikes added to that of 40,000 building workers in the capital who peacefully quit their jobs.

Dispatches from Vitoria said a general strike which Gov. Ramon Navarro declared "revolutionary" in character had ended. The employers, the account said, complied with the workers' demands for a 44 hour week. The railroad between La Linea, Algeciras, and Ronda was not operating because of strikes.

KILLS HIS WIFE, 4 CHILDREN AND SELF; SPARES 2

Gives Sons Choice of Life or Death; Long Idle.

Dayton, O., June 1.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, 42 years old, met four of his seven children as they came home from school today, took them to upstairs bedrooms and killed them near where he had choked their mother to death 48 hours earlier. Then he shot and killed himself.

Two sons escaped a similar fate by pleading for their lives. The seventh child arrived home soon after the tragedy was discovered.

Police said Johnson, who recently returned to work after a long period of unemployment, choked his wife, Louetta, 41, to death Saturday in the bedroom where she lay.

Bars Family from Death Chamber.

He forbade the children to enter their mother's bedroom, telling them she was ill. She had returned home recently from a hospital.

This afternoon, as Marietta, 8 years old; Elsie May, 10; Walter, 12, and Rose Marie, 15, came home from school, their father met them at the door.

One by one he took them upstairs. He slashed the throats of the first three and choked Rose Marie to death.

The tragedy was discovered late today when Horace, 18, and Wilbur, 16, returned home. They found their father standing in the doorway of the house with a shotgun in his hands.

Two Sons Choose to Live.

"I've just killed your mother, your three sisters, and your brother," the crazed Johnson told the two youths. "Do you want to live or do you want to go with them?"

Horrified, the two sons assured him they wanted to live. Then the father entered the house, went upstairs, and killed himself, they said.

Leave Dummies in Bed to Go for Boat Ride

Madison, Ind., June 1.—[Special.]—The Hanover college student body today protested against suspension of two co-eds, Jane Gear, Huntington, and Mary Beck, Plymouth, for going on a boat excursion over the weekend. College authorities said they warned the girls May 21 against going on the excursion, but learned Saturday night they had left after placing dummies in their beds.

NEW GUN BLASTS MARK ALABAMA MINE WALKOUT

Truck Bearing Workers Reported Target.

Birmingham, Ala., June 1.—[Special.]—The roar of more gunfire reverberated through the Alabama red ore fields today, but no new casualties were added to the list of five men wounded yesterday in two battles which inaugurated a strike and brought complete shutdown of the mines.

A truck bearing miners to their homes was said to have been fired upon this morning. It also was reported that intermittent bursts of gunfire were heard in the hills.

Although the affected mines, owned by the Tennessee Coal, Iron, and Railroad company, subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, supply Birmingham's big steel mills, John L. Perry, president of the company, said the shutdown will not affect the Birmingham steel output.

Supply May Last Year.

He estimated ore on hand would supply the mills, now at 69 per cent of capacity, for six months or a year.

Perry said the mines were closed to prevent injury to employés who want to work. About 2,500 men are employed in the company's pits. He said the mines would stay closed "just as long as the union men want to make trouble."

George Googe, southern representative of the American Federation of Labor, said the strike was voted by the international union because the TCI, largest southern steel unit, was putting into effect a plan "similar to the Russian stretchout system which will result in elimination of 400 or 500 jobs."

Guards Called in Strike.

Forrest City, Ark., June 1.—[Special.]—National Guardsmen were on duty in this area for a few hours today to prevent disorders in a strike of eastern Arkansas cotton hands. The troops were withdrawn, however, when no trouble developed.

Sherif J. M. Campbell requested the milita after he arrested two colored strikers, who had high power rifles and dum dum bullets in their cabins, and following the circulation of reports striking cotton choppers planned a march on plantations to force a halt in field labor.

Typewriter Strike Deadlocked.

Syracuse, N. Y., June 1.—[Special.]—Strike leaders and officials of the Remington-Rand company remained deadlocked today as strikers continued to picket closed factories of the concern here and at Tonawanda and Ilion, N. Y. Several hundred pickets kept up their march around the Syracuse factory under a police guard.

IDENTIFY BODY FOUND UNDER PORCH.

The body of a man found Sunday under the porch of a vacant building at 814 Bowen avenue was identified yesterday as that of Melvin B. Westerfield, 56 years old, 819 Bowen avenue, a barber.

Find Kidnaped Illinois Farm Tenant Tied; Home Destroyed

Sterling, Ill., June 1.—[Special.]—Authorities of two counties were puzzled tonight over the kidnaping and "pants hanging" a young tenant farmer of near Chadwick and the burning of his home during his absence.

Tonight Spellman was in voluntary custody of Sherif E. D. Shephérd who was investigating his story. The sherif said certain parts of the strange tale did not jibe. The sherif said that while reputed methods of the kidnapers were the same as employed by the Black Legion, he doubted that there was any connection.

The victim, Rees Spellman, 21, was alone in his home last midnight when he heard a knock at the door. His young wife had been staying at her mother's since the birth of her baby two weeks ago. Spellman admitted a stranger who asked for road directions.

Masked Men Outside.

Suddenly the man produced a revolver and ordered the farmer to accompany him. Outside two masked men stood beside Spellman's car. They forced him to get in and drive through Sterling and Rock Falls to a point in Whiteside county, about thirty miles from his Carroll county home.

There he was ordered out of the car and his pants removed. Using the garment as a sling, the men fastened the upper part around his body under his arms and tied the legs to a tree limb. His feet, bound with his belt, swung several inches off the ground. His red handkerchief was poked into his mouth as a gag, and his hands were tied behind his back. Then the men drove away.

Otto Von Holton, Whiteside county farmer, passed near the place this morning and heard Spellman's cries. He unfastened the pants and let the exhausted victim down. Spellman collapsed from shock and exposure, but was revived a short time later.

Thought Victim of Fire.

An hour or so after the farmer was kidnaped his house burned to the ground. Neighbors, who arrived on the scene after the building was enveloped in flames, believed Spellman had died in the fire. They searched the ruins for his body before learning that he had spent the night tied to a tree.

Spellman said he could advance no motive for the act. He said the men hardly said a word to him and offered no hint as to their reason for kidnaping him. Authorities working on the case also declared they were unable to offer a theory for the attack other than that it was done by a secret band of self-appointed vigilantes.

Answer: In The Case Of a Motor Car, When The Buyer Is Unable To Secure Satisfactory Service On The Car.

DODGE Approved SERVICE PLYMOUTH

The great system of Dodge "approved" service stations, built up over a period of 22 years, and now one of the largest service organizations in the world, is maintained for only one purpose—to cement the friendship between Dodge and its millions of passenger car and truck owners.

On delivery of your new Dodge, you get an owner's service policy and identification card to assure uniform and dependable service no matter where you may be. And remember, Dodge dealers' service men are instructed in factory methods and know Dodge better than anyone else could possibly know it.

When you buy a Dodge, you can be confident that its nationwide organization is always ready to make your ownership one of lasting friendship . . . Dodge dealers realize that after a new Dodge has been delivered to you the "sale" is by no means complete unless they maintain your goodwill and your complete satisfaction with your car . . . so it is that Dodge service has achieved such a high standard that it wins the friendship of Dodge passenger car and truck owners everywhere.

WHY DO MORE PEOPLE BUY DODGE CARS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE . . .

EXCEPTING THE 3 LOWEST-PRICED CARS?

Here's why:—They say Dodge gives them 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gas . . . saves up to 20% on oil . . . and can be bought for not much more than $25 a month

With thousands of owners, all over America, reporting Dodge as giving them from 18 to 24 miles to the gallon of gas and saving up to 20% on oil, it's easy to see why more people are buying this big, money-saving car than any other make, with the exception of the three lowest-priced cars!

But those are only two of the reasons! The great popularity of Dodge, which made it the fastest-selling car in its field, has also made possible the low prices of only $640 and up, list prices at factory, Detroit. And at these low prices, Dodge is continually providing new thousands with big-car luxury, at an operating cost which owners themselves say is actually less than small, competitive cars!

Consider, too, the many extra-value features Dodge gives you! Safety-steel body . . . genuine hydraulic brakes . . . safety-beam headlights . . . equalized weight distribution . . . longer, more flexible springs . . . Chair-Height seats . . . patented Floating Power engine mountings . . . and many other advancements! And, now, under the new Commercial Credit Company low-cost terms, Dodge is so easy to pay for!

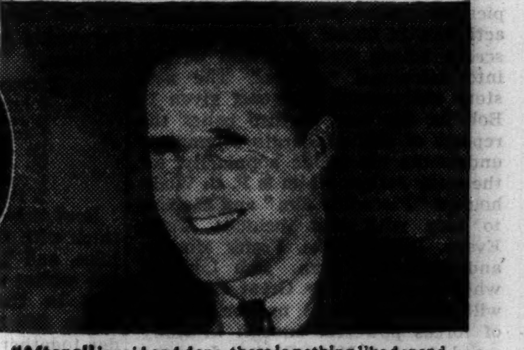
"Dependability was always just a new word in the dictionary with me—until I bought my big, new 1936 Dodge. It's the most dependable, best-performing car I ever owned—it's big, roomy and luxurious—yet it's an amazing money-saver, too. Actually, I'm getting nearly 23 miles to a gallon of gasoline!"—Ed. L. Schuessler, Chicago.

"My new Dodge is certainly a 'Beauty Winner' as far as I'm concerned. I'm more sold on my Dodge now than ever before. I was certainly surprised how little it costs to operate—I get 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline and never add any oil between drains. It actually costs much less to run than a small car—and it handles easier, is more responsive, and really looks better than the expensive car I had before I got my Dodge."—Edna K. Bertelsen, San Mateo, Cal.

"I don't think anybody can blame me for being enthusiastic about my Dodge. It's got real Dodge dependability—it's got many expensive car features—yet it's actually costing me less to own and operate than the small car I was going to buy. I'm getting over 21 miles to a gallon of gas."—Mrs. Marion Carbery, Chicago.

"I bought Dodge because it topped them all this year for smartness and beauty," writes Frank Roeder, St. Louis. "I never thought I would get economy too—but my big, new Dodge is actually costing me less, on gas, oil and upkeep, than a small car. You can't laugh off mileage like 20 miles to a gallon."



"After all is said and done, there is nothing like dependability in a motor car," says Andrew P. Fisher, Bronx, New York. "Everybody knows Dodge has that. What's more, my Dodge is so big, roomy and comfortable and has so many safety provisions; and above all, how it saves money on gas, oil and upkeep! I am getting close to 23 miles to the gallon."

Film Director Insists Rain Must Be Wet

Gives French Actress Real American Downpour.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., June 1.—[Special.]—Everything had been going fine with Simone Simon, recently imported French star, including getting her own way in one or two differences with Twentieth Century-Fox studio, but then Simone was cast in "Girls' Dormitory," being directed by Irving Cummings. This story, which has Ruth Chatterton, Constance Collier, Herbert Marshall, Peggy Montgomery [famous movie baby, now 18], and others, had one scene which was supposed to show Simone coming indoors from a rainstorm.

The first time it was shot mademoiselle scrambled in the door happily, having, by agile dodging and good fortune, escaped most of the water which 350 feet of overhead pipe was spurting down through pinholes to look like rain.

"Go back and get wet," Cummings shouted.

Miss Simone went reluctantly back into the storm. Again she popped in breathlessly, not much more marked by the deluge than before.

Cummings grabbed a hose. He turned it on the astonished actress and held it there, despite her squeal and rush for a corner. Then Cummings splashed her head with a pail of water.

"Now come in again," the director yelled, and she did, looking unhappy and half drowned. Cummings beamed. "Go take your wet clothes off and get warm," he counselled. "That was a fine shot."

The one time Baby Peggy, who once dominated the sentimental movies of the Shirley Temple style, just as Shirley herself does now, reached her juvenile zenith in the silent version of "Captain January," with Hobart Bosworth and Lincoln Stedman. Shirley recently made the same story with Slim Summerville and Guy Kibbe. Miss Montgomery, now down for her bit in "Girl's Dormitory" as Margaret Montgomery, says "Baby Peggy is of the past. My chief obstacle in trying to get a new start in Hollywood is the impression I am trying to capitalize that old name and fame. But most of the years I have been out of pictures I have been studying dramatics. I appeared in Pasadena Community theater and played four years in vaudeville. So far I have had nothing but bits to do, and many of them came to me through sentiment, but some time I know I'll get a real chance to test my acting ability. If I can't make good in talking pictures, I'll be the first to sense it and take up something else."

Warner and Mrs. Oland had a big party for the ninetieth birthday of Mrs. Oland's mother. Mrs. Oland's brother, Judge Clarence Shearn of New York state, flew here to attend the birthday dinner.

Larry Weingarten, who was Jackie Coogan's press agent ten years ago, is the producer in charge of "His Brother's Wife," featuring Barbara Stanwyck as a woman scientist in a South American jungle expedition, and Robert Taylor. W. S. Van Dyke is directing it for M. G. M.

There was a story, circulated by word of mouth, that Metro studio had decided to discipline Robert Montgomery, one of its stars, by reducing him to rôles in comparatively unimportant pictures, following Montgomery's activities in behalf of unionizing the screen actors, directors, and writers into associated "guilds." The new story assignment, and cast given to Bob for his next picture belies the reports of this deliberate attempt to undermine his public popularity, for the story assigned him is P. G. Wodehouse's "Piccadilly Jim" and the cast to play with him includes Madge Evans, Billie Burke, Frank Morgan, and Reginald Owen. Bob Leonard, who directed "The Great Ziegfeld," will direct. There's no combination of forces powerful enough in Hollywood to get Miss Burke, Leonard, Morgan, and Reginald Owen to work in an unimportant picture.

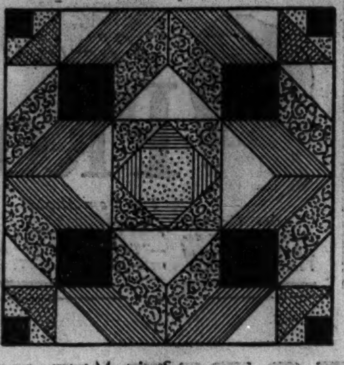
"Mosaic Square" Favorite Among the Pieced Quilts



Mosaic Squares.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

A popular favoriate among the pieced patterns from 1841 to the present time is the quaint and charming "Mosaic Square." The clever use of prints set together to resemble the exquisite mosaics created by the ancients has been skilfully reproduced by the artists of quiltdom. The blocks measure 15 inches square when completed, and only 30 pieced blocks are required for a coverlet to be used on a single bed. The over-all measurement of the quilt is 75 by 90 inches.

Pineapple Is Highlight of Clever Cakes

BY MARY MEADE.

The "bake a cake" urge is no respecter of persons. It's just as likely to overtake the hardworking business woman as it is her cozily domestic sister. Teen-age amateurs and beflustered brides respond to its pull just as surely as kitchen retired grandmothers who have vowed time and again that their baking days are over.

When that overpowering need arises to put together and bake a fragrant, feathery cake, it's well to be forearmed with something new and pleasantly exciting in the way of a different recipe. These two cakes, newly favored at our house, impressed us from the first as just that sort. When you crave the outlet for womanly self expression or the feeling of comfortable achievement that cake baking provides for most of us occasionally, we'd suggest something as rather special as one of these.

Pineapple Feather Cake.

6 eggs
½ cup pineapple juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1½ cups sugar
1½ cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt

Beat the egg yolks until light and thick with the pineapple juice, lemon juice, and ¾ cup of the sugar. Beat the whites and salt until stiff, then fold in the remaining ¾ cup of sugar. Sift the flour and baking powder together 4 times. Fold the whites into the yolks. Fold in the flour, a third of it at a time, folding only enough to mix evenly. Bake in an ungreased angel food pan for 60 minutes at 300 to 325 degrees F., or in a large spring pan for 75 minutes. When cool, frost with a pineapple or orange confectioner's icing.

Pineapple Spice Cake.

1 cup light brown sugar
½ cup margaine
1 egg
1 cup well drained, crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon soda
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup raisins

Cream sugar and margarine together until light. Add the well beaten egg and pineapple, and mix well. Sift the dry ingredients together and add the raisins. Beat into the first mixture. Turn into a loaf pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 55 to 60 minutes. When cooled, cover with a lemon flavored, fluffy, boiled frosting.

Orderliness Is Perfection to Some Mothers

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I always like to get letters from people who are independent enough to question accepted standards toward which parents are supposed to strive. Many mothers will, I believe, be interested in this question:

"Perhaps you would be good enough to answer a question that has concerned me for a long time: How valuable is the trait of orderliness?

"In child training, it seems to me, one has to make choices, and stress the most desirable traits that should be cultivated. I have always found it easier to pick up after the children than argue. Won't children later develop a sense of order because of the convenience it affords? If my attitude is wrong, I would welcome any suggestions or criticism, for I do not want the easiest way if it is not right."

Well, I'm afraid I'm not orthodox on the subject of child training, so I don't believe that character suffers seriously if a child is not orderly. But I do think that some measure of orderliness should exist, partly as a training, and partly as a form of considerateness. Development of this quality—like a lot of other attempts that parents make—depends upon many things. One of these things, most certainly, is the native endowment or temperament of a child, and the other is the age through which he happens to be passing. I've seen a child a paragon of orderliness at five, and a whirlwind of heedless disorderliness at the age of eleven. [Having just gone around the house gathering up sweaters, rubbers, etc., dropped in enthusiasm and interest over an anticipated jaunt, I don't feel on much of a pedestal at the moment!]

After all, each parent should, as this mother says, make her own choices, and cultivate what, in her estimation, are the most desirable traits. This particular mother spends her energy on other aspects of character or habit training, because to her they seem more important.

The subject of being orderly is discussed in our fully written booklet, "Helping Your Child to Be Orderly," which is sent out on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

According to CULBERTSON

HAIRLINE DOUBLE.

One of the most humiliating experiences that can befall a contract player is to defeat an adverse contract four, five, or even six tricks undoubled!

Yet, strangely enough, that very thing happens even to experts from time to time. The cards may be so divided between the two defenders that there is no accurate way for either to foretell that the contract can be defeated at all, let alone by a staggering number of tricks. But in order to anticipate such an eventuality it is sound bridge to double many contracts on a "hairline" basis, using the previous bidding, plus one's own distribution, as the only available yardstick. Consider how grieved East and West would have been had they allowed the four spade contract, on the hand shown below, to go undoubled.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	Double	2 dimds.	Pass
Pass	4 spades	Double	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's bid of four spades was, of course, much too aggressive on a five card suit, regardless of the great strength of his hand. Having shown partner a good hand by his take-out double, there was no necessity—and great danger—in leaping to game all by himself.

West, however, was in somewhat of a dilemma over the four spade bid. He hardly could know that South was bidding so strongly on a comparatively short suit and therefore, while he decided to double largely on the basis of his singleton in partner's bid, he did not feel a bit happy about the double, and breathed much more freely when a redouble failed to materialize.

What a slaughter ensued! West opened the heart deuce, East won the ace and laid down the ace of diamonds. A second heart lead was ruffed by West, who returned a diamond. East ruffed and led another heart. West ruffed and led the third round of diamonds for partner to ruff. Now, although dummy was out of hearts, East realized that West must be able to overruff the miserable deuce of trumps in dummy and therefore led the fourth heart. West ruffed with the six of spades and, counting that declarer as well as East now was out of diamonds, led a club which was taken by East's ace. The unkindest cut of all followed: a fifth round of hearts established West's lone king of trumps as a good trick!

Thus, declarer actually was held to four tricks on his doubled contract for ten! Without the double, the defenders would have received the insignificant total of 200 points [South had 100 honors]; with it, their score was enriched to the extent of 1,000 points. Quite a difference, and determined only by the closest sort of double on West's part!

Large Woman Must Be Quiet in Conduct, Says Kate Smith

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Kate Smith offers a formula for large women, which may not promote them to Miss America candidacy but which will insure them a dignity, charm, and wholesale admiration which may serve them better in the long run than the figure and trophy common to the contest winner.

"If you're large, be quiet, refined, friendly, and sweet!" the formula runs.

A slender thing, Kate Smith explains, may make a perfect idiot of herself by flourishing a cigaret in one hand, a highball in the other, ejecting cuss words betimes. Observers will dismiss her as a nuisance. BUT a large woman trying to go gay and giddy, following the same pattern of behavior, becomes hatefully obnoxious. A large woman wielding a schooner of beer is one of the sights Kate Smith can't contemplate without nausea.

There are just some things that a large woman cannot do, Kate repeats. However, by being quiet she does not mean any of your shrinking violet stuff for the woman of more than average girth. She has no patience with women who let their excess weight interfere with useful activities, sports, and the like. Special censure is directed at the oversized one who says: "Oh, I can't do that. I'm too big!"

Kate Smith swims with the best of them, dives, plays golf and tennis, skis, and skates. Tap dancing is one of her specialties, as you know. "And I've been taken on weight steadily for ten years," she tells you.

That isn't the half of it. Give the Smith girl an apartment or a house, turn her loose with mop and broom, and watch the dirt fly! I interrupted one such session the other afternoon.

The radio hour on which you tune in is virtually a pause in the day's occupation. And enthusiasm! Mrs. Smith's grand big girl, Kate, bristles with it. She vibrates it. Sparkles it for her job, for people, for her now pending Alaskan vacation, for her recent wonderful birthday party in Washington. It was her 27th. She was showered with rare honors, flowers, gifts, and a 400 pound birthday cake which went intact next day to the Crippled Children's hospital. If you ever are looking for a synonym for enthusiasm, just say Kate Smith. It will do! Or, for that warm friendliness which wins hands down and which the gods bestow too grudgingly, again write in Kate Smith as the perfect synonym. You can't do better.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Baby Clothes Badly Needed.

Mrs. M. M. is greatly in need of help. She is the mother of seven children, boys 10, 8, 5, 3 and 2 years old, and girls 12 and 7 years old. Another baby is expected soon, and the mother is in need of clothing for it. Three of the youngsters attend a local welfare clinic. The family now is living on relief because Mr. M. broke both legs in a recent accident. He still is unable to work. All the children need clothing and shoes. Mrs. M. also requires apparel, size 44. The address is on the near north side.

SKINNY? TIRED? RUN-DOWN? THIS NEW 3 WAY TREATMENT HAS GIVEN THOUSANDS 10 TO 25 POUNDS

Normal Attractive Curves Often Gained Triple-Quick With New Discovery

THERE'S no need any longer for thousands to be skinny, rundown, nervous, always tired, with very few friends on that account. For this new 3-way treatment is giving hosts of "beanpoles" pounds of solid, naturally attractive flesh—in just a few weeks! Not only that, but also normally clear skin, freedom from indigestion, constipation and nervousness, glorious new pep.

Scientists recently discovered that thousands are thin and rundown for the single reason that they do not get enough Vitamin B and iron in their daily food. Now the richest known source of this marvelous body-building, digestion-strengthening Vitamin B is cultured ale yeast. By a new process the finest imported cultured ale yeast is now concentrated 7 times, making it 7 times more powerful. Then it is combined with 3 kinds of blood-building iron in pleasant little tablets known as Ironized Yeast tablets.

If you, too, need these elements to build you up, get Ironized Yeast tablets from your druggist today. Then watch flat chest develop and skinny limbs round out to natural attractiveness. Constipation and indigestion from the same cause vanish, skin clears to normal beauty—you're a new person.

Money-back guarantee

No matter how skinny and rundown you may be, try these new Ironized Yeast tablets just a short time, and note the marvelous change. See if they don't build you up in just a few weeks, as they have thousands of others. If not delighted with results of very first package, your money instantly refunded.

Special FREE offer!

To start you building up your health right away, we make this absolutely FREE offer. Purchase a package of Ironized Yeast tablets at once, cut out the seal on the box and mail it to us with a clipping of this offer. We will send you a fascinating new book on health, "New Facts About Your Body." Remember, results with the very first package—or money refunded. At all druggists. Ironized Yeast Co., Inc., Dept. A-30, Atlanta, Ga.

1 Rich red blood, to properly nourish and build up the body, is especially promoted by the iron in this new discovery.

2 A healthy digestion which gets ALL the good out of food requires adequate Vitamin B. This new discovery supplies this element.

3 Normal, regular elimination to remove poisons and promote good health requires adequate Vitamin B. This is the third purpose.

Women Open Golf Season at Clubs Today

Special Events Planned by Committees.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE feminine golfers of the Onwentsia club are hoping the weather forecast of "rain probable in the morning" will not be fulfilled, for this is the opening day of the women's golf season at the Lake Forest club. Mrs. Charles Dennehy, who as Virginia Wilson made a name as a golfer when she still was a young girl, is chairman of the golf committee and her chief assistant is Mrs. John T. Pirie Jr., who as Daisiana Smith also became an excellent golfer when she was in her teens.

The tennis committee, which consists of Mrs. Conway H. Olmsted, Mrs. Charles S. Garland, and Miss Cornelia Ranney, arranges tennis events on Tuesdays for those who prefer that sport to golf.

Tuesday is ladies' day at the Glen View club, too, and also at the Exmoor club in Highland Park. Mrs. James B. Westcott will direct the golfing activities of the women at the Glen View this summer and Mrs. Harold Moore is golf chairman at the Exmoor club, which has a bridge party every Friday. Mrs. George Dovenmuehle has assumed the duty of women's golf chairman for the Sunset Ridge club this season, which is having its first ladies' day today.

Season Opens Today at Other Clubs.

The women golfers of the Indian Hill club will tee off for the first time this season, that is for the first time officially, today. Luncheon will be served in the apple orchard if the weather permits. Mrs. Warren W. Shoemaker is golf chairman with Mrs. Chester F. Sargent as co-chairman and among those working with them are Mrs. Charles H. Hammond, Miss Marie Louise Gardner, Miss Jean Milsted, and Miss Eleanor Sherman. Tennis events at this club will start next Monday when there will be an invitation tournament for women.

Wednesday is ladies' golf day at the Evanston Golf club and the Barrington Hills club, also, with Mrs. Robert W. Keeton in charge of events at the former and Mrs. M. C. Beymer of those at the latter. The sporty golf course of the Chicago Golf club in Wheaton is turned over to feminine golfers on Thursdays with Mrs. Paul Walker planning the events. Friday is ladies' day at the Shoreacres club, with Mrs. Donald B. Douglas in charge, and that also is the day when special events are planned by Mrs. Adlor J. Petit Jr., for the feminine golfers of the Knollwood club. This week, however, Friday will not be ladies' day at the Knollwood, for the women's golf season at this club is opening tomorrow.

Daweses to Attend Wedding at Marietta.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Cutler Dawes are not making any plans to celebrate their 43d wedding anniversary tomorrow with a party of any sort, for they are busy getting ready to leave Friday for a motor trip. They will go first to Crawfordsville, Ind., where Mr. Dawes will receive a degree from Wabash college, and then will go on to Marietta, O., where the large Dawes clan is gathering on the 13th for the wedding of Miss Betsy Beach and Edward Dempsey. Miss Beach is the daughter of the late Dr. Arthur Beach of Marietta and Mrs. Beach, a sister of Rufus, Charles, Henry, and Beman Dawes.

The commencement exercises at Marietta college, where all four of the Dawes brothers were graduated and where Dr. Beach was the head of the English department, always attract the Daweses to their home town in the early part of June. Last year was the 100th birthday of the college and all of the Daweses and their children went down for the celebration, just as they will this year for the Dempsey-Beach wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Robinson, who will have been married forty-five years tomorrow, are not planning anything in the way of an anniversary party either, for Mrs. Robinson is not well. She is at home in Lake Forest after four weeks in the Passavant hospital and is getting along nicely, but is not feeling equal to a party yet. The Daweses and Robinsons have celebrated their wedding anniversaries together several times.

Mary Melville Clow Back from Honolulu.

Surprising every one, even the junior William E. Clows, who did not expect their daughter, Miss Mary Melville Clow, until late this month, Miss Clow and Mrs. Henry Field flew

Mrs. John V. A. Hasbrook is in charge of parking and general admission for the Hinsdale horse show to be held at the Oak Brook Polo club Saturday and Sunday for the benefit of the Infant Welfare society. The show will open promptly at noon Saturday, and events will be held that afternoon, and on the following morning and afternoon. Members of the junior Hinsdale infant welfare center are assisting the Hinsdale Horse Show association. Mrs. James A. Hannah and Mrs. James S. Knowlson are chairmen of the show. Mrs. William B. McIlvaine Jr. will act as judge in the children's classes, and will show her own hunters. Miss Gwendolyn Bowen also will be an exhibitor.

Front Views and Profiles

Sculptor—
Route—
Red Hot Mamma.

THE seventh child of a seventh child, born in Minneapolis some fifty years ago and destined to become a sculptor of international fame, stopped off in Chicago the other day to visit old friends and to inquire the best motoring route to Seattle. He was Paul Manship, whose bust of his baby daughter Pauline is one of the treasures of the Metropolitan museum; whose "Diana" and "Acteon" and "Europa" are internationally famous; who is represented in a dozen museums, and more recently in Rockefeller center; whose sculptured portraits, the first of which was that of John D. Rockefeller, command prices as high as did the painted portraits of Sargent at the time the painter recommended Manship to the old man, and who labors constantly at memorial pieces, portraits, garden statuary, and plaques.

* *

IT IS not only the esthetes of the world to whom Manship's sculptures appeal. When Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank gathered some friends in his honor, Louis Skidmore related to him a little incident of their stay in London last year. They had driven to the Tate gallery to see an exhibit of his work, and when they drew up at the gallery the old cabby pointed out to them an immense sculpture that stood outside the gallery entrance, obviously too large to get through the doors.

"By an American, Paul Manship," he told them. "I come here every now and then to look at it."

WHEN Mr. Manship inquired the route to Seattle a local motorist was helpful.

"You go by way of Niles Center," she said, obviously thinking of the story of the Bostonian who motored to the west coast and, asked by a friend by what way he had come, replied, "Ah, through Dedham."

* *

SOPHIE TUCKER, the last of the red hot mammas, in gray crêpe accented with sapphires, drinking three cups of tea one after another, poured from her hostess' Chinese wicker tea cozy with the pot inside, discussed the songs of her career. For some women measure their lives by love affairs, and some by operations, and some geographically, but Miss Tucker does it by songs. She has, in fact, a complete file of the songs she has popularized in a quarter of a century of song singing. The very first was "Good-by, Mr. Greenback, Good-by," at an amateur performance at Hartford. The latest favorite is "The Duchess Threw Her Crutches Away." There have been altogether some twenty-five hundred, including the one she is most identified with, perhaps, "Some of These Days," and the most talked of in her prodigious répertoire, "Life Begins at Forty."

At this point in the conversation the young scientist who had brought Miss Tucker to the party and who once wrote back from a far eastern desert that the things he most wanted at that particular moment were to hear Miss Tucker sing, and to have some ice cream, came and took her away.

Good Morning!

Primarily, the piece is gay, romantic comedy. But there come times when it takes itself very, very seriously, even to the point of plunging into a murder mystery. So—you see, it is interesting—like a woman of many moods. Charming, provocative—disturbing.

The heroine, Eve Fallon, is a hotel barber shop manicure, much in love with Detective Danny Barr, whom she keeps up in the air—and right down to earth at the same time. Which may sound impossible—but Eve, nevertheless, accomplishes the feat.

As Danny investigates a jewel theft Eve becomes convinced that his interest in the robberee—a fluttery Mrs. Cole—is warmer than duty demands. Which notion on her part inspires a lot of action of one sort. . . .

◆

Well—Eve finds herself out of a job . . . And, just like that—obtains one of those movie conscious newspaper positions where, though she's had no experience at all, she becomes, in parlance of the streets, the whole cheese, with private office, dictograph, etc., the while editors hang on her words and presses stutter, or stop completely, until her stuff is in. . . .

You find this remarkable young woman then hot on the trail of suspects in a child murder case. . . . Her suspicions fasten on a certain racketeer—and she tips off her Danny. . . .

A farce of a trial, in which witnesses and jury are dominated by gangster influence, results in Eve and Danny again shaking the dust of unwanted jobs from their agile feet. And now—that they're on their own and responsible to noBUDda—things start to break in earnest. . . . It's all very exciting, and if you don't get all keyed up along about here, why there must be something wrong with the adrenalin.

Joan Bennett gives a highly satisfactory account of herself as the quick-thinking, wise-cracking heroine. Cary Grant is aces as Danny—who, besides being a supercop, is no slouch as a ventriloquist. Walter Pidgeon is a smooth and handsome article as a two-timing insurance detective. Bright bits are turned in by Marjorie Gateson and Isabel Jewell. Other players are capable. So was the director.

Duchess of Kent Setting Hat Styles for British Women

LONDON, June 1.—(AP)—The slim, vivacious duchess of Kent today is Great Britain's leader in new hat styles for women—exactly contrary to Queen Mary, her royal mother-in-law, whose high crowned models have been standardized for years.

Fast planes from Paris rush jaunty and sophisticated millinery creations to the former Princess Marina of Greece, who has introduced so many new types they cannot be counted.

Her special hobby, her friends assert, seems to be to wear a new hat each time she appears in public.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Lucky is the lady who manages to look serene and crisply cool when the temperature mounts. But it isn't an accident—it's an art with precious beauty tricks that foster it!

There may be people who really don't mind the heat, but we rather doubt it. We suspect they're just people who have learned how to defeat its enervating effects and its tendency to plaster one with the wilted lettuce look.

The woman whom her sisters should envy beyond all others—and imitate, too—is the woman who manages to look cool, though it's a staggering ninety in the shade. There are such, and we find that these are a few of their tricks:

First, there is the matter of baths—as many as possible in the course of the day, and these taken in just mildly warm water. Falling into a cold tub doesn't do the trick. A warm one is even more cooling, in the long run, than a too cold one.

A handful of bath salts in some cool, fresh scent like carnation, say, or a bouquet, or your favorite summer scent helps the illusion of freshness along.

After bathing, don't go in for the violent rubdown with a coarse Turkish towel. Better to pat gently and then to make the skin both cool and fragrant with an icy toilet water or cologne.

Wearing absolutely fresh underthings helps in potent fashion to foster that crisp look. And non-fussy clothes with cool touches will make all who behold you think you're a miracle woman.

Keep the coiffure simple. Sculptured curls that give up in despair and dangle are simply poisonous to look upon in hot weather. Better immaculately clean, shiny hair drawn straight back and held with a girlish comb than fancy effects that don't make the grade.

Keep the makeup simple, too. Eye shadow that runs, mascara that does ditto, and too much rouge would make an Eskimo look feverish!

ELEANOR NANGLE.

Presbyterians Deny Appeals of 7 Pastors

Syracuse, N. Y., June 1.—(AP)—With few dissenting votes the 148th assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. dismissed today the appeals of Dr. J. Gresham Machen of Philadelphia, Pa., and six associates from suspension from the ministry.

The ministers, avowed advocates of the fundamentalist doctrin, were suspended by the church's lower courts after they refused to resign from the independent board for foreign missions, created as a rival to the officially recognized group.

They appealed to the permanent judicial commission, which handed down decisions to the assembly affirming their suspension and ordering the appeals dismissed.

In addition to Dr. Machen, president of Westminster Theological seminary and a former Princeton Theological seminary professor, the ministers are the Revs. H. McAllister Griffiths, Merrill T. MacPherson, Charles J. Woodbridge, Paul Woolley, and Edwin H. Rian, all of Philadelphia, and Carl McIntire of Collingswood, N. J.

The commission held that the appellants caused dissension and strife in their presbyteries, "engendered suspicion, and seriously disturbed the peace and unity of the church, spread propaganda harmful to the official board of foreign missions."

◆

The presbyteries of the respective appellants were instructed to impose immediate sentence.

The ministers may continue to be connected with the church, although their powers are greatly curtailed.

Immediately after the assembly's action Dr. Machen issued a statement in which he said he looks forward "with great joy and hopefulness to the continuance of the true spiritual succession of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. in an organization separate from the existing organization.

"It will be a small body at first," he declared, "but it will have the prayers of many Christian people throughout the world, and I believe that it will have the blessing of God."

Pittsburg, Kas., June 1.—(AP)—Oak Park, Ill., was awarded the 1937 assembly of the United Presbyterian Church in North America, at sessions of the assembly here today.

WEDDING

Dr. and Mrs. John Joseph Nolan of Oak Park announce the marriage of their daughter, Mary Irene, to Robert Kyffin Birks, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Birks of Williamsport, Pa., last Saturday at Ascension church in Oak Park, the Rev. Thomas McGovern officiating.

Mrs. David Drummond, sister of the bridegroom, was Miss Nolan's matron of honor, and Miss Eleanor Dowling of Oak Park was a bridesmaid. Walter Klopsch of Oak Park was Mr. Birks' best man, and Richard Erickson and John B. Leahy were ushers.

A breakfast for relatives and close friends was held at the Graemere hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Birks will spend their honeymoon in the British Isles, and will be at home on the near north side after Oct. 1.

Bartholomews Hold New Conference; See Early End of Fight

Los Angeles, Cal., June 1.—(AP)—Freddie Bartholomew's parents, engaged in a custody controversy over the 12 year old film actor, conferred again today with attorneys. The parents later announced hope of any early settlement.

Isaac Pacht, attorney for the father, Cecil L. Bartholomew, said his client favored allowing the son to remain in custody of his aunt, Miss Myllicent Bartholomew, with provision made for parents' rights. Freddie's mother, who came here recently from England, has petitioned to deprive her sister-in-law of custody.

Black Dinner Dress Sure Bet for Hot Months

Big Assortment Available in Smart Shops.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The one outfit in a good summer wardrobe that withstands all the wear and tests of flattery is the black dinner dress that invariably boasts of a separate jacket. Remove the jacket and the dress goes dress parade with an extremely low cut back neckline and, this season, a circumspectly high-cut front neckline.

Because these flattering black things have been such spectacular successes for the limited budget as well as for a luxurious clothes allowance, all shoppers will be rather dazed with the plentiful assortments hung in nearly all the smart shops.

Black marquisette is new. Slightly stiffened, it is a bit softer than organdy but retains some of the coolness of that fabric. There are lovely clinging black chiffons made over exciting taffeta silk slips, smart black nets, also over the same kind of a slip, and black lace tailored or ruffled.

◆

There is one black chiffon model that is fashioned with a medium long cape that covers the back. The dress itself has a halter neckline with the square cut neckline outlined with a row of white flowers. The skirt fits smoothly over the hips because it is gored, and flares at the ankle line. Another uses a shorter cape and the halter neckline to the dress and fastens the cape into position with twin rhinestone clips that match the belt buckle.

Tunics are featured in other sheers that outline the center closing with wide bands of embroidered white organdy. Another black uses this white embroidered band idea around the swirling shirt hem and as the vest effect to the sleeveless blouse top.

Another net is fitted as smoothly as satin or crêpe, has a square cut bodice top, a fitted jacket with a rippling peplum and huge puffed sleeves that end at the elbow. Color contrast is provided with vivid field flowers anchored to the center of the chest. Again the favorite skirts are gored so they fit smoothly over the hips almost to the kneeline and then flare widely at the floor line, the hem stiffened with horse hair braid. If you need black sheers to complete an otherwise light-toned summer wardrobe, this is the time to find the biggest assortments.

ENGAGEMENTS

Her Husband's Past

By Elizabeth York Miller

SYNOPSIS.

Nell Martin elopes to London with Eric Cameron, an older divorced man, who had been visiting in Wellsport, her home town, ignoring her parents' pleas to marry Dick Holmes, her childhood sweetheart. Eric has two children, Meg, 17, and Robin, 15. Mrs. Beaumont, the mother of Hilda, his first wife, lives with them. Hilda has married again. Granny tortures Nell with constant reminders of Hilda. The family move to Wellsport, where Eric has an engineering job. A solicitor's clerk, Shyner, calls and tells Nell that Hilda's husband had died and she is in London destitute. Nell arranges to send her a weekly sum secretly. Meg receives a string of pearls from her mother from London. Eric suggests looking up Hilda. Nell threatens to leave him. Granny says she'll go away, but breaks her leg and has to stay. She arouses Eric to jealousy of Dick Holmes. Eric stays home alone one evening while the rest of the family attend a concert.

INSTALMENT XXXVIII.

TREASON SUSPECTED.

There was some work that he could do, but Eric was not in the mood for it. Having been unselfish about the concert, he felt a little cross. But he certainly would not have cared to go if Nell was left behind.

It was a sultry night, and what breeze there was had no life in it. He took a chair and his pipe into the garden. When it was time for the concert to be over he decided that he would go around to the hotel and get Nell to walk home with him.

And as he sat there peacefully meditating upon nothing in particular, something happened.

There was no repetition of the whistle but he felt sure the "bird" was there in the lane waiting for some response to his summons.

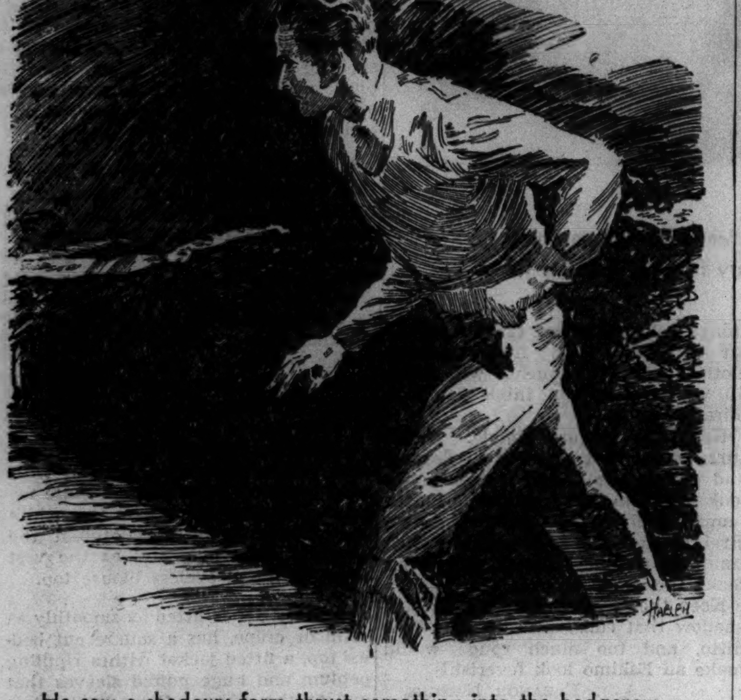
As he strode into the lane he saw a tall shadowy form apparently thrust something in the hedgerow and then walk rapidly away as though he had a train to catch.



He saw a shadowy form thrust something into the hedgerow.

Eric was a little disappointed. He did not care to run after the youth, it seemed too undignified; nevertheless he did start to run, but before he reached the end of the lane there was the roar of a motor engine and the lights of a car vanished up the road.

It wasn't long before he found something—an old bird's nest with a folded piece of paper in it. So that was the answer to those mysterious whistles and Master Holmes' visits to the lane. They—he and somebody else—had been using the old nest for a letter box.

Eric couldn't wait until he got back to the house. He was just as impatient to read that missive as whoever it was intended for might have been.

He smoothed out the folded sheet of paper, in which was inclosed a tiny, screwed up paper packet, and turned his flashlight on it, holding the packet in the palm of his hand while he read.

> Angel mine—I'm beginning to wonder if the old simp hasn't smelt a rat. You must be very careful, because if anything goes wrong at this stage of the game we'll be in the soup. You say he hasn't the least suspicion but I heard a disparaging remark he made to somebody about me this afternoon, and if I were you I wouldn't bank on his being so innocent. It will be hell's bells when he does find out, but as you said what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.
>
> Angel, it hurts me dreadfully that your good name will be sort of compromised, but as you say it is the only way to make the old simp give in. I owe him one in the eye anyway and I don't much care how sore he is.
>
> I do hope you can get out of the house without anybody hearing you. I inclose a harmless sleeping powder which you might put in his nobs' bedtime cocoa so you won't disturb him. I have to rush off to Tewbury now to complete arrangements. Meet me as already planned, 1:30 a. m. on the tick. Don't bring more than one suitcase. We can buy all you need in London.
>
> Angel, I love you to death! DICK.

Eric's eyes fairly bulged as he read this screed and a cold perspiration bathed him from head to foot.

He didn't need to rack his brains to guess who was meant by the "old simp." It was himself. And that screw of paper was filled with white powder—a sleeping draught designed for him! Yes, Mister Holmes was right about one thing. The old simp had begun to perceive that rat, but only faintly. Now, however, it smelled to heaven.

He had a precedent to go upon in a case of this kind. Before Hilda finally left him he had been stupidly blind to her intentions.

But here was something darker and even more sinister than Hilda's elopement with her rich Argentine.

If Nell was in her right mind it meant treason of the deepest dye. It meant something that he would not put into words and scarcely dared allow himself to think.

There was one little straw of hope and Eric Cameron clutched at it. Women in Nell's condition have been known to be afflicted with temporary insanity.

It might be that Hilda had preyed on her mind much, much more than he had realized. There was, for instance, the incident of her redeeming the ring of his and then wantonly throwing it into the river. There was the night she had run away and this same young scoundrel had appeared opportunely to assist her.

Did 1:30 a. m. mean tonight?

Eric crushed the odious letter into his pocket, but taking no chances with the sleeping powder, he sprinkled the lane with the contents of that paper screw.

He decided now that he would not go to meet the concert party. He needed quite a lot of time in which to pull himself together.

In due course they came back.

Robin went up to his room and Meg followed him almost immediately. "The cellist wasn't very good," she said to console Eric for what he had missed.

Nell went into the kitchen to make some cocoa for her husband. They had refreshments, themselves, after the concert.

"I don't want any cocoa," Eric said almost violently.

She turned a surprised face on him.

"But, darling, you always have it. And you know you sleep better for it."

"O, that's it, is it? You want me to sleep particularly well tonight?"

He was conscious of a snarl in his voice and realized that if Nell was a mental case—as he devoutly hoped she was—he wasn't being kind or wise.

Granny said: "It's pretty late to start an argument about cocoa, isn't it? Perhaps you've had something stronger, all alone here by yourself. You want to keep an eye on him, Nell. After our Hilda went away there was many a night when he turned up the worse for alcohol."

"Hold your tongue, can't you?" Eric snapped.

Granny looked as surprised as though he had struck her in the face. Lifting her chin in the air she proceeded with great dignity up the stairs to her room, emphasizing her progress by a resounding thump of her walking stick on each tread.

"Eric, is anything the matter?"

Granny's reference to Hilda had stung Nell as it always did, but on this occasion she put her own feelings aside.

Christian Industrial League to Honor Rev. Seath Today

The Chicago Christian Industrial league will give a luncheon in its headquarters at 847 West Monroe street today for the Rev. William Seath, superintendent of the league's institution for homeless men in the West Madison street area. Donald S. McWilliams, real estate man and a member of the league's executive board, will preside. The institution, in five years, has served 600,000 meals, provided a night's lodging for 150,000 men, and given constructive occupations to 4,000 men. The league is largely supported by the Presbyterian churches of Chicago.

Women Open Golf Season at Clubs Today

into town early Sunday morning. They had been in Honolulu for several months.

It was a very pleasant surprise for the senior Clows to have their granddaughter arrive at home in time to attend the family dinner they gave last night in their home in Lake Forest as a fifty-fourth wedding anniversary celebration.

Henry Field is leaving Chicago today to sail Friday on the Queen Mary for England, where his mother, Mrs. Algernon Burnaby, lives.

Old Stonehill House to Be Open for Sale.

The board members of the Eli Bates shop are especially gratified about the house that is being opened next Tuesday for a sale, for it is the noted old Stonehill one in Glencoe and the women feel sure that many will want to see it since Ambrose C. Cramer has remodeled and redecorated it.

Miss Syma Busiel is the new owner and although she will not be at home she is turning the lovely old French château over to Mrs. Cramer and Mrs. William McCormick Blair for a display of the linens and other things which are made by the women of the Eli Bates Settlement and sold regularly at the shop the board conducts for that purpose.

Mrs. John Andrews King, Mrs. Morris Wilson, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, Mrs. James B. Forgan Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Robbins, and Mrs. John H. Hamline Jr., are the others of the board who will be assisting that day. Several of them have planned luncheon parties with the idea of taking their guests that afternoon to the sale. Mrs. Forgan, Mrs. McPherson, Mrs. Hamline, Mrs. Donald M. Ryerson, Mrs. Elliott Donnelley, Mrs. Dexter Cummings, and Mrs. Howard Linn are among those who will give luncheons and then take their guests to 1185 Sheridan road, Glencoe, where Miss Busiel's house is located.

The grounds as well as the house will be of interest to those who visit it next Tuesday for they are among the most beautiful along the lake shore. The avenue of bay trees is especially fine—in fact, it is said to be the finest collection of such trees in this country, and the gardens are very lovely.

De Coningh-Smyth Wedding June 30.

Miss Mary de Coningh and Henry DeWolf Smith will be married at 5 o'clock the afternoon of June 30 at the home of Miss De Coningh's mother, Mrs. Frederic de Coningh. Dr. Horace Bridges, an old friend of the De Coninghs, will read the service. Only the immediate families will witness the ceremony and will partake of the high tea afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henry Smyth will come from Princeton, N. J., for their son's wedding if Mr. Smyth's health permits. He retired this spring as head of the geology department at Princeton. Charles Smyth, who is professor of chemistry at Princeton, will be his brother's best man. Miss De Coningh will have no attendant.

Both Miss De Coningh and her fiancé will be busy until the last minute before the wedding. She is winding up her work as associate director of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations, and Mr. Smyth, who is chairman of the physics department at Princeton, is completing a treatise, and does not expect to get here until the morning of the wedding.

They are planning to spend two months in the Canadian Rockies and in Glacier National park, motoring from place to place, and stopping wherever the horseback riding is most promising, before returning to Princeton in September.

St. Luke's Board to Meet Today.

Members of the board of St. Luke's hospital will hold the final meeting of the season at a luncheon today in the home of Mrs. Charles F. Glore in Lake Forest.

Members of the Highland Park-Ravinia center of Infant Welfare are entertaining at a tea today for Mrs. Elias Lyman Jr., president of the Woman's Auxiliary of Infant Welfare, and her board. The tea will be held in the gardens of Mrs. Clarence Schaaf's home in Ravine drive, Highland Park.

William E. Vogelback will show some motion pictures in color which he made on a recent tour of Italy at a meeting of the Italy-American society tonight at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Leverone, 534 Surf street. Mrs. Robert B. Meloy will contribute a violin solo to the program.

The Italian consul general, Mario Carosi, and Mrs. Carosi are being congratulated upon the birth of a daughter on Sunday at the Columbus hospital. The baby has been named Alda Vittoria.

George Richardsons Will Take Cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Richardson are planning to sail on the Rotterdam on June 29 for a North Cape cruise, from which they will not return until the end of August. Their house in Lake Forest will be occupied by the Silas H. Strawns during the Richardsons' absence.

Mrs. Richardson's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Morse, will move into the new house they are building on Elm Tree road in Lake Forest early in July.

Donald F. McPherson and his daughter, Miss Fanny, have returned from a fishing expedition to Useppa Island, Fla. They landed six tarpon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Bacon welcomed home their daughter, Miss Mary Alice Bacon, a debutante of the last season, yesterday afternoon. Miss Bacon, who has been visiting in Boston, New York, and Baltimore ever since the first of January, was accompanied to Chicago by her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Porter Atherton of Boston.

Franklin P. Smith has returned from Palm Beach, where he spent the winter and spring, and has opened his Lake Forest home.

Amiability One Major Factor in Happy Marriage

BY DORIS BLAKE.

In a contest held recently in New York City, in which appeared a dozen couples who had weathered 20 some odd years of married life successfully, as the contest rules called for, one man explained his success as due to a piece of advice his father gave him.

"Marry a girl who was an amiable child," the parent cautioned his son. "Then, you never will have to worry!"

The man married a woman whose amiability, he tells, is the keynote of their happy marriage. A school girl sweetheart.

Not all men, of course, marry girls known to them in their childhood. So, the advice offered by the parent has its limitations. We would venture that 95 per cent of marriages is between couples who met after they were grown up. In urban communities, at least. In suburban and country atmospheres the long acquaintanceships would rate a much higher percentage.

In lieu of the advantage of knowing your sweetheart's character as a child, it was suggested by one present that a girl's mother's character might be a guide. But that was argued down as a far from infallible rule, since the average family, daughters of the same mother, might present, and often do present, totally different temperaments. One might be endowed with an amiable nature, another be a perfect hellion, and a third be of wavering disposition.

It is said, with statistical backing, that children of happily married parents are better qualified to make a success of marriage than children of warring or divorced parents.

We think, however, that the average man will have to judge his sweetheart's amiability as he meets it in his and her grownup life. It's a noble virtue in either man or woman, when it is genuine amiability of character. In my own life I have met amiable people who proved to be frightfully irresponsible people on continued association. That which passed for amilability in the beginning proved to be, in certain cases, pure indolence which became boring eventually.

Farm Women Hear Roosevelt Defend Change

"Better Substitutes" Are Sought for Failures.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—President Roosevelt told an audience of 6,500 farm women assembled on the south grounds of the White House today that the administration was trying many new things and where they did not succeed "we shall seek better substitutes."

The President stood on the White House portico with Mrs. Roosevelt, facing the delegates from 16 countries to the third triennial conference of the associated country women of the world.

"Until comparatively recent years," the President said, "people in almost every nation believed in a current saying that farmers would never be able to agree among themselves. If this saying applied to the farmers I, as a mere man, suppose it applied to the farmers' wives and daughters as well.

"Recent history has exposed the fallacy; we have changed it to read—farmers and farmers' wives and farmers' sons and farmers' daughters can coöperate and do coöperate.

"The very fact of this coöperation has made possible here and abroad the great progress that has been made in improving conditions of life in rural communities.

"People are prone to forget that by far the greater part of the world's population is actively engaged in agriculture or is directly dependent on the results of agriculture.

"This means that you ladies have a great responsibility for today and for the future. It means that you can raise not only the standards of agricultural life, but the standards of all life as well.

"For we are coming more and more to realize that the city dwellers cannot be prosperous, cannot work in their factories and their stores unless the agricultural population and those dependent on them have a greater purchasing power throughout the years.

"Your task and mine concerns itself not only with new problems; we are confronted with the necessity of undoing past mistakes, of restoring the former gifts of nature to their former value, and of seeing to it that harmful practices of the olden days shall not be repeated.

"We are trying many new things—most of them we believe will succeed; some of them may not succeed, and in such cases we shall seek better substitutes."

Urge Chicago Group to Provide Dogs to Be Guides for Blind

Formation of a Chicago committee for the Seeing Eye, New Jersey school that trains dogs to lead the blind, were discussed at a meeting at the Palmer House yesterday. Mrs. Harrison Eustis, president of the school, pointed out that the committee could aid in promoting proper public understanding of the functions and efficiency of dog guides.

"It is highly important, for example," Mrs. Eustis said, "that no one offer aid to a blind man who is being guided by a trained dog. The animal is perfectly competent to do the whole task without interference."

Besides its educational duties, the local committee would also seek finances to make trained dogs available to deserving blind persons of limited means. The Seeing Eye furnishes the trained animals at low cost, and depends for the bulk of its finances upon persons of means who become interested in the work.

Waistcoat Bodice Is Trim

WOMAN'S AND MISS' HOME FROCK.

The home frock illustrated today has features of styling which enhance the slender figure and flatter the silhouette which is a trifle overweight. Principal among these factors is the clever seaming, which creates an illusion of paneling from underarm to hemline. This same seaming makes the skirt gracefully full, another detail which camouflages extra girth in the hips and which also is attractive on hips which are perfectly proportioned.

The sleeves are tailored yet roomy, and two large patch pockets on the skirt are appreciated by the homemaker who always finds herself faced with the necessity of stowing odds and ends away in the pockets of her house frock as she progresses in her inspection from one room to another.

The revers are more generously cut than is customary, achieving grace and femininity in a frock the other style points of which are decidedly tailored. Most important among these tailored effects is the trim "waistcoat" bodice, snugly fitted to the waist.

This trim frock, which is suitable for all household hours, and also for marketing, gardening and hostessing, is delightfully created in novelty cottons, such as piqué, cotton with linen or shantung weaves, quaint challis prints, glazed chintz, etc.

Style No. 3033 is designed for sizes 16 and 18 years, and 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3⅝ yards of 39 inch material, with ¼ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Something new—the 100% Luxable costume! It's pictured here . . . smart and so thrifty!

Upkeep costs almost nothing when everything's Luxable. And with Lux nice things stay new-looking ever so long.

Don't risk ordinary soaps—they may contain harmful alkali. And cake-soap rubbing is apt to harm colors and fabrics, too. Just remember—anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

JACKET—White piqué—won't yellow if you stick to Lux.
GLOVES—Piqué—Luxed frequently, they'll look crisp and smart.
HANDBAG—Luxable covers for your bag give variety with economy.
STOCKINGS—Lux them each day and cut down runs!

New Etchings by Steinberg Given Praise

Chicago Galleries Move to New Quarters.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

An important move has just been made by the Chicago Galleries association which for ten years has upheld the possibilities of nonmodern art in its quarters at 220 North Michigan avenue. The galleries have moved across the boulevard and when they reopen it will be on the second floor of 215 North Michigan avenue.

The Tower Town galleries, 817 North Rush street, has a diversified exhibition. Colorful and sparkling water colors by Esther Ruble Richardson fill the downstairs studio, and upstairs are oils by Anthony Buchta and etchings by N. P. Steinberg. Among the water colors a large interior with a lily, "At Easter," holds the attention.

Mr. Steinberg has made remarkable strides in his development as an etcher of consequence. His work has taken on vigor and vitality and feeling. A surpassingly fine print is his own "Down South," a Negro leaning on whatever it is colored gentry do lean on down south, perhaps a post to wind a ship in with, and strumming a banjo. His easy grace and the suggested lazy good humor of his pose are fascinating.

Mr. Steinberg's portrait of an old man with a little child is a step into the sentimental which is strong and dignified, though coupled with tenderness.

Anthony Buchta offers a group of decorative landscapes. He has apparently absorbed the various manners of several Chicago painters and one is startled by repeated resemblances to this or that well known landscapist. When he strikes his own gait his painting rings the most sincere. This is done in several of the smaller canvases.

The exhibition will continue to the middle of June. Frank R. Calcano is the able manager of the gallery, one of the most attractive in town.

SCORES LOW IN U. S. OPEN DRILL DESPITE WIND

Unknown Shoots 68 at Baltusrol.

Springfield, N. J., June 1.—(AP)—The nation's finest golfers arrived here today to have a look at the Baltusrol golf course, scene of the national open starting Thursday, but most of them ended somewhere along the Baltusrol mountain as a high wind sent them scrambling into the trees.

Bob Barnett, Washington, and Walter Scheiber, New York, posted the best scores of the day. Barnett shot a 68, four under par, and Scheiber, first alternate in the metropolitan section, who doesn't even know whether he will play in the tournament, had a 69.

Parks Gets a 75.

Sam Parks, the defending champion, who went around with Fred Haas, the New Orleans amateur, had a 75, finishing with an eagle and a birdie on the last two holes.

Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., one of the favorites, and Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., shot 71s, cracking par by a stroke, while Byron Nelson, of Ridgewood, N. J.; Harold McSpaden, of Winchester, Mass.; Harry Cooper, of Chicago, and Chick Chinn, the Japanese star, reported 72s.

The veteran Macdonald Smith, playing with steel shafted clubs for the first time since he started competing in the national open, had a 73, as did Frank Walsh, Chicago.

Revolta Has 74.

Billy Burke, the 1931 national open champion from Cleveland, and John Revolta, Chicago, reported 74s. Most of the other stars who went around the course did not keep score.

Gene Sarazen, the 1932 champion, tried it for a few holes but gave up, and Olin Dutra, carrying the only gallery of the day, played two or three balls on every hole. Early sentiment is shifting Dutra into the favorite class. He is playing with greater confidence than at any time since he won at the Merion Cricket club in 1934.

Denny Shute, Boston, and Horton Smith, Chicago, also failed to report scores.

Designed to conform with the old English idea of how a golf course should be built, Baltusrol sends its first six holes straight away from the clubhouse, and in the opinion of the experts these six holes hold the secret of the course. They usually play dead into the wind as they did today to cause almost all the stars to fall into trouble before they reached the turn.

BILL KAISER OUT.

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—(AP)—Bill Kaiser, Louisville pro, whose back was badly wrenched in an automobile accident near Detroit last week, announced today he would be unable to play in the national open golf tournament at Baltusrol.

Dutch Clark Gets Leave for All-Star Game

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—[Special.]—Earl [Dutch] Clark, sparkplug of the Detroit Lions, will be at quarter back when the National Professional Football league champions meet the college All-Stars at Soldiers' field, Chicago, on Sept. 1. All fears that he would not be available were dispelled today when Coach George [Potsy] Clark received a letter informing him Clark had been granted a leave of absence as general manager of the Colorado State Fair and will join the Lions about Aug. 25.

"That's two weeks after the rest of the team begins its training," Potsy Clark remarked, "but it will still leave Dutch time to get in shape. He never did have much trouble getting back to playing weight after a layoff."

Without Clark, the Lions usually play a conservative brand of football. But with their captain in the lineup they hope to run up a big score on the All-Americans.

SAGILIO WINS DECISION OVER TOOTS BERNSTEIN

Frankie Sagilio defeated Richard [Toots] Bernstein of Milwaukee, Wis., in ten rounds last night at Marigold Garden. The crowd booed the decision, which was not unanimous. Referee Johnn Behr scored 52-48 and Judge W. A. Battye 54-46 for Sagilio and the other judge, R. A. Goudie, voted for the Milwaukee welterweight, 51-49.

It was the Cicero slugger's third victory in a row. He weighed 142 pounds, three more than Bernstein.

The scheduled five round semi-final between Ernie Kulasik and Ernie Kirchner was called no contest by Referee Frank Sikora in the fourth session. Sammy Verse, Omaha lightweight, knocked out Carl Mason in two rounds, Castone Piccini stopped Don Warden in two; and Harry Booker defeated Art Brewer in four rounds.

CUBS PLAY HOST TO GIANTS TODAY, BUT NOT GLADLY

Grimm Names Davis to Open Series.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs, who were on their own time yesterday by the grace of the schedule makers, will go back to work today to see what they can do about making good on some of the rosy predictions made for them in April.

All they have to do if they are to make the belated start today, tomorrow, or the next day is bump off the New York Giants, who thus far have proved themselves the only outfit able to keep within sight of the dust being kicked up by the pace making Cardinals. And, as a gentle reminder that the champions' job will not be easy for the next three days, consider their season's effort against first division teams. They have lost eleven and won seven from the elite entries.

Davis to Start.

Partly because it is his turn and partly because he was in the habit of going pretty well against the Giants when he was a Philly employé, Curt Davis will start for the Cubs today. If he goes the route, win or lose, it will be the seventeenth complete entry made by one of Boss Grimm's pitchers since the season got under way. In the remaining twenty-three games already played there were anywhere from two to four pitchers per game. Altogether there have been eighty-six changes of pitchers in forty games, or an average of over two a day.

When Larry French was knocked out in the ninth inning Sunday it was his sixth straight departure under pressure. He completed his first two starts, winning both. Lon Warneke, generally regarded as the pacemaker of the staf, has vanished seven times in nine starts. Bill Lee tops the pack with five complete games in nine starts. Not a very pleasing performance by three men who between them captured fifty-seven decisions last season, but nevertheless it is the answer to the team's low estate. Thus far in the current race the trio has produced nine victories.

Now, About Warneke—

It doesn't make much difference what reports baseball scribes make on Warneke's arm, which caved in during the last world series. The grandstand managers know the arm isn't what it used to be, and they can't be convinced otherwise. Warneke, who should know his own arm, insists it is O. K. But it is a fact that he doesn't have the blinding speed of other seasons. Either he is unconsciously favoring the arm, fearing a recurrence of the injury, or he is in for an off year such as all great moundmen experience.

With their pitching being subjected to all sorts of abuses, the other members of Grimm's ensemble naturally are sharing some of the panic. Last fall while winning twenty-one straight they went about their daily chores in a smooth, consistent fashion. They showed some of the same the first week or so of the present season, when the pitching was fairly steady. Now everybody is jittery, both on defense and offense, a condition that helped to pile up thirteen defeats in the last twenty-one games played.

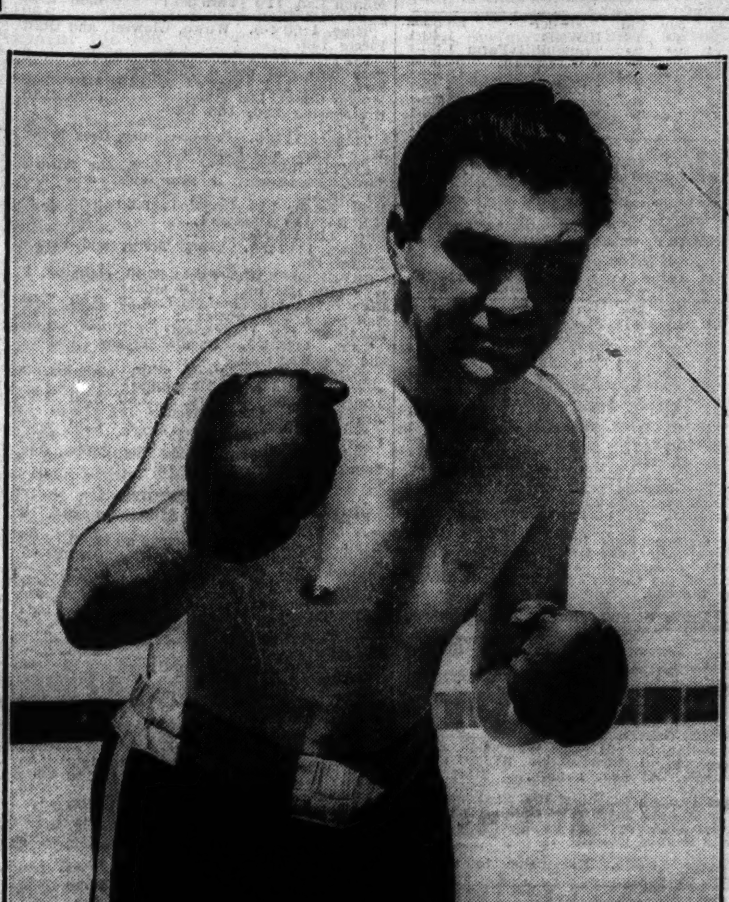
THE MAN AMONG MILLIONS



Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight champion, who is convinced he can beat Joe Louis at New York on June 18. He stands alone. The millions declare for Louis, the heavy fisted Chicago Golden Gloves graduate.

Louis Shoots 108 Without Assistance from His Caddy

BY HARVEY T. WOODRUFF.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lakewood, N. J., June 1.—Joe Louis, resting from ring work until tomorrow, turned in a score of 108 for 18 holes over the Lakewood Country club golf course this afternoon. He shot a 53 on the first nine of 3,112 yards, and 55 for the second nine of 3,389, a total yardage of 6,501. On the second nine are two water holes and some distressing marsh areas.

Eight Is Tops.

While not threatening the supremacy of Johnny Revolta, Horton Smith, Paul Runyan or Gene Sarazen, Louis possesses possibilities. On his round today, Joe had no hole more than eight and none less than 4. His best was the 383 yard 16th where a low flying drive came to rest about 225 yards down the fairway. His No. 5 iron, one of his two favorite clubs, the other being a No. 2 iron, carried the ball to the green. Louis was down in two putts.

On the 335 yard 12th, Louis, who at times is erratic with his woods, topped his drive into the marsh in front of the tee. His caddie started to lift out and take the penalty, but Louis demurred. Getting a good footing in the mucky going, Joe called for a No. 2 iron and to the surprise of the small gallery was safely out on his recovery shot.

Caddies Irk Joe.

Some of the caddies here are not trained in best caddie etiquet and frequently hand a player the club which they think he should use. One of Louis' idiosyncrasies is tabooing such actions. Invariably he calls for another stick. His card:

Napanoch, N. Y., June 1.—[Special.]—Max Schmeling's weary sparring partners smiled through puffed lips today when informed that there would be nothing to do until Wednesday.

BRADLEY PUBLIC SINGS BLUES AS TWO STARS LOSE

Fans Play 'Em to Win; Both Finish Second.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Bradley fans—there's a horde of them on the west side—didn't have much left in their pockets except perhaps their handkerchiefs and the front door key when they filed out of the Hawthorne track last night.

For the first time this year Col. Bradley's green and white racing silks were unfurled in Chicago. Bird Flower, a daughter of Blue Larkspur, carried them to the post in the Jackson Park purse, which was the day's feature. Baby Talk, a son of Blue Larkspur, paraded out in the popular silks in the Harvey purse.

Bird Flower finished second, soundly beaten by a length and a quarter by Whereaway, owned by Tony Pelleteri of New Orleans. Baby Talk finished second, trimmed by a length by Understand, owned by the Blue Ridge farm stable of Billy O'Toole of Chicago.

And Are Their Faces Long!

That's the reason the Bradley fans wore such long faces while waiting for the first car home. They had played the Bradley standard bearers to win only, for what's the use of playing Bradley straight and place unless he's running two horses?

The Jackson Park purse engaged a stylish band at 6½ furlongs, and despite Baby Talk's failure thirty minutes earlier the Bradley backers went right back to Bird Flower and made him the early favorite.

She didn't enjoy that post of honor when the parade to the starting gate got under way. There came a plunge on the Pelleteri horse and it indeed was a wise one although Whereaway didn't give his backers much to write home about during the early stages of the struggle.

Takes Horse to Outside.

He trailed in fifth place. Recovery was the leader, Gyral was running second and showing a fine dash of speed. Bird Flower was third, fleet Patchpocket was fourth and Whereaway, a son of Stimulus-Bobolink II., was trailing far back fighting for racing room.

Finally Jocky Corbett took Whereaway to the outside. Jocky DeCamillis did the same thing with Bird Flower. They wheeled into the stretch not far apart. All the rest of the way home they fought it out, with Whereaway outgaming the Bradley color bearer in the last half furlong. He was drawing away at the end. Gyral, with much taken out of him after he had made his early bid for the lead, finished third.

Whereaway ran the 6½ furlongs in 1:18 4-5, a second off the track record. As the favorite he paid $7.80 for a $2 ticket.

But Baby Talk Misses.

The Bradley fans tried to make Baby Talk, a son of Blue Larkspur-Beach Talk, win the Harvey purse, which engaged 3 year olds that are eligible to the Chicago Derby in a dash at a mile and a sixteenth. So much backing developed for the Bradley colorbearer that he went to the post at less than even money.

Understand, carrying the blue and brown silks of Billy O'Toole, went into the battle at the peak of his form. He hugged the rail and saved ground for the first three-quarters of a mile. Jocky Simpson started to urge him to greater efforts at that stage of the battle, and he gradually worked his way up from fourth place into the lead. Baby Talk tried to go along with him, but at the finish Understand still was a length in front of the Bradley colt. Teddy Haslam, which had forced most of the early pace which Watercure was making, wound up in the third hole, a length behind Baby Talk.

Plunge Is on Baby Talk.

Ex-Ald. O'Toole's friends all wagered on Understand, but that didn't bring the price down much. The big plunge was on Baby Talk. As a result, Understand paid $23 for a $2 ticket after he had galloped the mile and a sixteenth in 1:46 4-5.

It was the third time the O'Toole fans have cashed in at Hawthorne on winners that have paid off at juicy odds. Mr. James and Red Flyer were other O'Toole colorbearers to win earlier in the meeting.

CRAWFORD WINS FIVE SET MATCH FROM ALLISON

Budge Beats Quist, but It's Too Late.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 1.—[Special.]—On the same turf courts where the Davis cup was lost to France in 1927, the United States today suffered its first American zone defeat in the intervening nine years as Jack Crawford, of Australia, whipped Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., after the American champion had revived ebbing hopes with a resurgence of his 1935 form and gained a lead of 2 sets to 1.

Once again, the giant Australian showed his remarkable recuperative powers in coming from behind to win, 4-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, and end the United States' Davis cup quest for another year.

Yesterday's victory in the doubles, Adrian Quist's triumph over Allison in the singles, Saturday, and Crawford's rally today sent Australia into the inter-zone final against the winning European nation.

Quist Gets Rebuke.

There was no longer anything at stake when Quist and Don Budge took the court in the concluding singles match. The young Australian champion, playing so indifferently that Manager Clifford Sproule admonished him after the gallery had voiced its displeasure as he lost 11 successive games, was quickly dispatched by Budge, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4.

The series thus ended 3 to 2 with only the brilliant play of young Budge furnishing happy promise for the future as the United State's only solace in defeat.

In spite of the fact that the team was eliminated from the cup play, all five members of the United States squad will go abroad to compete in the British championship tournament at Wimbledon. Allison, Budge, Bryan M. Grant Jr., of Atlanta, and Gene Mako of Los Angeles, will be sent by the United States Lawn Tennis association, and John Van Ryn, national doubles champion with Allison, is going as the representative of the International club. The players will sail Wednesday.

Crawford Reaches Heights.

At the conclusion today of the most important Davis cup series held in this country since 1927 Crawford stood forth as the man of the hour. He showed amazing staying power and had a hand in scoring two of the three winning points. It was only by the margin of two points that he failed to sweep his matches in the series and when he left the enclosure after beating Allison today the capacity crowd of 6,500 gave him an enthusiastic ovation.

After his lamentable showing against Quist Saturday, few gave Allison any chance against Crawford today unless the latter should find the ordeal of playing three successive days beyond his physical capacity. The surprise and delight of the gallery can be imagined then, when the Texan started impressively, hitting with beautiful length and speed, serving in the same wise and rushing into the net to bring off punching volleys.

But hopes which were lifted so high were shortly dashed to earth. With the start of the second set, Allison suffered a reversion to the form that has stifled his play all year.

Brilliant in spots, he could not maintain control under the pressure of Crawford's solid, forcing drives. He found his back court untenable and the forecourt too dangerous. His 30 errors in this set, to his opponent's 13, tell the story.

Allison Perks Up.

With the third set Allison took a new lease on life. There was little to choose between the two until Crawford suddenly cracked badly and made three double faults in the eighth game. He came back, however, to break through in the ninth as Allison, over anxious, faltered. Then the Texan broke back with a running cross court volley to take the set.

But with the start of the fourth set, Crawford produced his best tennis of the match and he proceeded to run Allison all over the court. Allison could only hang on. His control broke and he drove ball after ball over the lines. He made twice as many earned points as did Crawford, but he was guilty of 23 errors to Crawford's 10.

With the fifth set, the play turned into a rout. When Allison, trailing 0-2, pulled out the third and came within a stroke of breaking through in the fourth, the crowd picked up hope. He had run himself to a frazzle and his control broke.

Quist Is Not Interested.

The match between Budge and Quist, with the outcome of the series at stake, might have been a great exhibition of tennis. But with the verdict sealed, Quist could not take any interest, and Burge's beautiful shot making and serving went almost uncontested until Manager Sproule spoke to the Australian champion.

DRAW DECISION VOTED FOR BOUTS ENDED BY CUTS

Illinois Board Makes Rule After Marek Fight.

An amendment to the rules governing boxing in Illinois was made yesterday when the state commission voted to call a draw all bouts which are ended before their scheduled termination because of eye cuts suffered by contestants. Heretofore the victim's opponent has been given credit for a technical knockout, sometimes unjustly.

The action followed last Wednesday's scheduled ten round battle between Johnny Erjavec, Duluth, Minn., heavyweight, and Max Marek, which was halted in the eighth round and awarded to Erjavec on a technical knockout, although the former Chicago Golden Gloves champion had a big lead on points at the time.

A similar rule is in force in California. Last Friday Frankie [Kid] Covelli, New York junior lightweight, sustained a cut eye in the ninth round of his scheduled ten round encounter with Alberto Arizmendi of Los Angeles at Hollywood. The match was halted and called a draw, but in this case Covelli was reported losing by a wide margin.

Chairman Joe Triner emphasized the fact that the physician at the ringside representing the commission is supreme and his recommendation on whether or not a bout should be stopped due to cuts would be the deciding factor. The Marek-Erjavec decision was not changed.

Ten intercity amateur boxing matches between boxers representing Peoria and Chicago will be held tonight at Western stadium, Western and Devon avenues. Verne Patterson, National A. A. U. lightweight runner-up, Chicago color bearer, will meet Jimmy Shepard, Peoria, at five rounds. Other matches include those between Jimmy O'Brien, Chicago, and Clark Lewis, Peoria, and Orville Eighmey, Chicago, and John Bohner, Peoria.

* * *

Everett Marshall, Colorado farmer, is marking time for his windup bout with Ivan Rasputin of Detroit at Arcadia Gardens tomorrow night. Marshall hopes to strengthen his position as a leading contender for the title held by Ali Baba by defeating Rasputin as quickly as possible. The match is booked for 90 minutes.

* * *

Jackie Reed, Tinley Park amateur welterweight boxer, and Jake Carter will meet in one of eight bouts Thursday at Marigold Gardens. . . . Opponents for Adolph Wiater, Green Bay, Wis., and Leo Lomski, Aberdeen, Wash., are being sought in feature matches at the Marigold arena next Monday. . . . The Illinois commission yesterday awarded Promoter Fred Irwin July 9 to present a show, which likely will be held at Comiskey park with a main event involving John Henry Lewis, light heavyweight champion, and Bob Olin, Brooklyn, N. Y., former holder of the crown. . . . Alabama Kid, Dayton, O., middleweight, and Tommy Freeman, Hot Springs, Ark., ex-welterweight king, have been suspended for 90 days in Illinois for engaging in an unsatisfactory encounter at Quincy recently. The bout was called a draw. . . . An attorney representing Art Sykes appeared before the boxing board yesterday in an effort to have the Elmira heavyweight's suspension of one year lifted. The ban was levied after Sykes' unsatisfactory bout with Bob Pastor here several weeks ago. The case will be reopened June 15.

BAD TEETH KEEP ROWE FROM GOING EAST WITH TIGERS

Detroit, Mich., June 1.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers entrained for Philadelphia today to open their second eastern invasion without Pitcher Lynwood [Schoolboy] Rowe.

In the party was Joe Sullivan, the left hander who Manager Mickey Cochrane read off the roster last night after his wobbly relief pitching had figured in the 11 to 10 defeat that enabled St. Louis to sweep a three game series. Cochrane relented today and said Joe would get another chance.

Rowe remained in Detroit to have repairs made on six abscessed teeth that he blamed for soreness in his pitching arm.

Blanchard Named Athletic Director at McKendree

Lebanon, Ill., June 1.—[Special.]—B. E. [Sandy] Blanchard, coach and director of athletics at Villa Park, Ill., High school, today was named to succeed Paul Waldorf as director of athletics at McKendree college. Waldorf resigned several weeks ago to join the coaching staf at Fort Hays college in Kansas.

Rain Postpones Iowa, Western State Game

Kalamazoo, Mich., June 1.—[Special.]—The University of Iowa-Western State Teachers' college baseball game was rained out today. The teams will play a double-header here Saturday.

THE SHOOTER, showing improved speed and a sharp factor from the start, easily overtook FIRST TIME in the stretch, then drew out to win with something in reserve. JABBERIE suffered interference at the start, raced between horses when moving up on the turn and stood a drive gamely, though failing to menace the winner. PECOS, forced back before reaching the turn, closed well in a good effort.

KAIMASK, on the outside throughout and under strong riding the final three-eighths, weakened after working his way to the front, but stalled off SUN X. METAURUS, forced to race wide and a great distance back for a half mile, came with a rush after entering the stretch, where he bore over and, tiring, appeared lucky to win. MARCH STEP displayed speed from start, opened up a good lead on the stretch and but for falling lame might have withstood the winner's challenge. Time, :23 1-5, :47 2-5, 1:00 4-5, 1:07 1-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Whiscenda, $6.00 straight, $3.80 place, $2.60 show; Par, $4.80 place, $4.00 show; Palan, $13.20 show. Winner trained by E. Level. Went to post at 3:45⅓. At post 1 minute. Start good from gate. Won easily; place driving.

WHISCENDA, away fast and under snug restraint until reaching the final quarter, came away fast approaching the final furlong, then held PAR safe without need of urging. Latter, raced wide and well up from the start, held on with good courage under strong riding in the drive. PALAN finished well in a good effort.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

WAYALOFT [J.McCoy].........	110	2	4	2^{2}	3^{h}	7	7	Mrs.A.Sabath	44.50-1

Time, :24, :47 4-5, 1:39 3-5, 1:46 4-5. Weather drizzling. Two dollar mutuels paid: Understand, $23.00 straight, $6.60 place, $4.40 show; Baby Talk, $3.00 place, $2.40 show; Teddy Haslam, $3.20 show. Winner trained by O. Bagley. Went to post at 4:13. At post 4 minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same.

UNDERSTAND, racing in his best form and aided by a big saving of ground the first three-quarters, took command gradually when placed to pressure in the final quarter and held BABY TALK safe. Latter, forced to lose much ground, was under strong pressure the final three-eighths, where he gained steadily, though failing to overtake the winner. TEDDY HASLAM, also raced wide and a strong factor after the first quarter, held on gamely in a good performance.

SIXTH RACE—Six and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

WHERE AWAY, on inside early, but taken out after reaching the turn, raced to the lead with a rush in the final quarter, but was kept under strong hand riding to the end. BIRD FLOWER, forced back early, raced between horses in the stretch and, closing fast, wore down GYRAL in the final stride. Latter saved much ground and held on well in a good effort.

Time, :24 2-5, :48 2-5, 1:40 2-5, 1:47 2-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Sorcery, $13.20 straight, $6.20 place, $5.00 show; Sherron, $7.60 place, $4.40 show; Teddy Boy, $4.20 show. Winner trained by C. L. Helm. Went to post at 5:11. At post 3⅓ minutes. Start good. Won easily; place driving.

SORCERY, much the best and well up from the start, took command easily and drew out fast in the final eighth without need of strong riding. SHERRON, raced wide, was under mild restraint for half mile and weakened after moving up stoutly in the stretch. TEDDY BOY, far back early, closed fast on extreme outside.

EIGHTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

List 5 States in Hinsdale Horse Show Entries

Ribbon winners from five states are listed among the entries for the Hinsdale Horse show to be held Saturday and Sunday at the Oak Brook Polo club on York road and 31st street in connection with the opening game of the outdoor polo season Sunday between the Oak Brook four and the Black House troop.

The states represented in addition to Illinois include Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Ohio.

Dr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Orth of Wheaton top the field of competitors thus far with four horses and three ponies. Others in the battle for cash prizes, trophies, and ribbons from the Chicago area include H. Leslie Atlass, Mills Brothers, Wallace Wakem II., C. G. Speidel Jr., Hope Landis, Mrs. William B. McIlvaine Jr., Mrs. Austin Pope, Mrs. Paul Magnuson, Miss Ruth Suekoff, Miss Billie Engel, Miss Martha Roberts, Miss Gwendolyn Louise Bowen, Miss Margery Lloyd, Mrs. Franklin J. Kahn, and Mrs. Howard Detmer.

Construction was completed yesterday on the ring for the show. The No. 1 field at Oak Brook has been selected because of its closeness to the stables where the horses are to be quartered.

Thirty-seven classes will comprise the competition, including saddle, hunter, jumper, children's and family, polo pony, and special events.

STEVENSON HAS FOUR WINNERS IN SIX RACES

Covington, Ky., June 1.—Jocky Charley Stevenson, who beat out Wayne Wright in the race for American riding honors last season, returned to sensational form today when he rode four of the first six winners at Latonia, climaxing his success with a victory astride Dixiana's Erin Torch in the Airdrie Farm purse. He previously had won on All Toi in the first, Woof in the fourth and Sweep Like in the fifth.

Of hardly less importance was the Dixiana double, started by Woof in the juvenile fourth and completed by Erin Torch. This stable has enjoyed phenomenal success in minor events this year and there seems no immediate prospect of stopping the streak.

It was Erin Torch's second victory in as many starts, but the score was accomplished only after a bitter stretch duel with F. P. Letellier's Billbo, which the Dixiana gelding beat by a nose after leading throughout. Mrs. B. Franzheim's Silas was a stoutly closing third.

Erin Torch, public choice, paid $5.20. His time for the mile and 70 yards was 1:42 2-5.

RAIN POSTPONES PLAY IN CITY TENNIS TOURNEY

All matches in the Chicago city tennis tournament at the Oak Park Tennis club were postponed yesterday because of rain. Today's schedule calls for fourth round matches in the men's singles and the opening of the women's singles competition.

Maroon Chess Team Wins City College Tournament

The University of Chicago chess team won its third title yesterday when final results of the Chicago college chess league tournament were reported. The Maroon team won five matches and lost none. Wright Junior college took second, and Morgan Park Junior college, Armour Tech, Herzl Junior college and Morton Junior college followed in that order.

DUCKPIN TOURNEY AWARDED.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—The seventh annual United States Men's Duckpin sweepstakes will be held next Jan. 9 in Waterbury, Conn.

29 NAMED FOR JUVENILE EVENT AT HAWTHORNE

Murph Heads Milky Way Stable Nominations.

Twenty-nine of the west's leading 2 year olds have been named for the $5,000 Hawthorne Juvenile handicap to be run Saturday afternoon.

Murph, a star in California last winter and the winner of the Bashford Manor stakes in Kentucky a few weeks ago, was one of the four named by the Milky Way Farm stable. Others from that establishment made eligible for the race were Nation's Taste, Dogaway, and Reaping Reward.

Warren Wright's Calumet Farm stable has three eligibles, Privilege, Nevertire, and Gosum. The Valdina farm of Texas also nominated three. They are Tedall, Viajero, and Petrone.

The East End purse for top notch 2 year olds and the Oak Park handicap top a fine card at Hawthorne today. With the week's program headed by the $5,000 Juvenile handicap on Saturday, Racing Secretary Reeder plans to give the best youngsters at the track plenty of opportunity to prepare for the stake. Four of the handicap eligibles will go in the first race tomorrow. They are Nation's Taste, Shandon farm's Overplay, Nevertire, and Mrs. Emil Denemark's Uvalde.

* * *

West Main, C. A. Peck's good sprinter which failed in his most recent start, will attempt to make amends in the Oak Park handicap, sixth race on today's program. West Main will be called upon to meet such good ones as Money Getter, Nedrow, Ding Bin, Mr. James, and the Bruce & Hughes entry of Jay Jay and Silent Shot. Jay Jay started only once this year, beating Singing Wood in the Harford handicap in Maryland. Silent Shot will be making his first Chicago appearance.

500 MILE RACE PILOTS TO DRIVE AT RIVERVIEW

Harry MacQuinn, Jimmy Snyder, and Emil Andres will return to competition at the new Riverview speedway, Addison street and Western avenue, tomorrow night. MacQuinn, Snyder, and Andres raced in the Indianapolis 500 mile race Saturday and will drive the same cars that enabled them to lead their rivals at the 124th Field Artillery armory during the indoor season.

In addition to these pilots, the card tomorrow will include Paul Russo, Curly Mills, Pat Waren, Carl Peterson, Chuck Neisel, Marshall Lewis, Art Hartsfeld, Johnny Sawyer, Ted Johnson, and Bob Swanson, Pacific coast champion.

A rivalry that started on the west coast last winter will be renewed at the Chicago Midget speedway tomorrow night when Ronnie Householder and Cletus [Cowboy] O'Rourke meet at the Lincoln, Devon and McCormick road track. For Householder, it will be his first appearance since his accident on the coast. He suffered three fractured ribs and a fractured collar bone, but reports himself in excellent condition.

Another star who will return to action tomorrow night is Tony Willman of Milwaukee, who cracked up at the speedway ten days ago. Willman was in the midst of a winning streak when forced out of action.

WELL, WELL, WELL, WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN ALL MY LIFE, BABY? WHAT DID YOU SAY YOUR NAME IS?
I DIDN'T SAY. WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO EAT?
HOW'S YOUR HAMBURGERS? AND WHY WON'T YOU TELL ME YOUR NAME?
THE ROAST BEEF IS VERY GOOD, SIR— AND THE BOSS DON'T LIKE FOR ME TO GIVE MY NAME TO CUSTOMERS.
WELL BRING ME THE ROAST BEEF! AND I'LL MEET YOU ON THE CORNER LATER.
OKAY. I GET THROUGH WORK AT TEN O'CLOCK AND WOULD YOU LIKE THE APPLE PIE FOR DESSERT, SIR?

OUR SOX NEARLY FORGET LOSSES AS LINER DOCKS

Lyons Takes Mound Today Against Yankees.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 1.—The White Sox had grandstand seats at the arrival of the Queen Mary in New York this afternoon. Considerate room clerks at the Sox hostelry fixed up the lads with rooms overlooking the Hudson river, from which they enjoyed a fine view of the trip up the river, attendant gala hullabaloo and the intricacies of docking at the great ship's new pier.

It was a great sight for everybody, but especially for us inland country boys, you may be sure. Some of us were so thrilled that we almost forgot the Sox's unfinished losing streak of four straight games and the fact that tomorrow the red hot New York Yankees are to be engaged in the first of three games.

They Don't Really Fear Yanks.

There is no great fear of the Yanks, at that. In fact Ted Lyons has full confidence he will help whip them. Some of his very best games have been pitched in the Yankee stadium, including his season debut a month ago today. The Sox have split even with the Yanks in four games this year.

Manager Jim Dykes hopes to back his veteran pitcher with what he rates as his regular cast. This includes Luke Appling at shortstop. Luke says he will play, but Dykes may decide to let him rest longer, since Jack Hayes played well enough at short, a strange position, in Sunday's game. Hayes also has hit well in his several appearances at short, third and second during the series of accidents the Sox have suffered in the last 10 days.

Hope Losses End in New York.

The Sox, for obvious reasons, are anxious to end their losing streak in New York. They go from here to Boston and have no reason to suspect they'll ever win a game from the Red Sox. They have played six games against the gold plated Bostonese this year. The Red Sox were terrible in five of these, but the White Sox were worse. Their 2 to 0 shutout by Lefty Grove was the only well played game in the half dozen disposed of thus far.

Two weeks remain in which the White Sox may deal for major league players. No announcements have been made of Sox plans, although it is known that Kreevich's light hitting and Joe Morrissey's failures afield and at bat have caused some concern. Estimates on the probable date of Dixie Walker's return still are vague and there are several who fear he may be through as a big league ball player.

AMERICAN CURTIS GOLFERS RETURN; EYE TOURNEYS

New York, June 1.—(AP)—America's women golfers, who retained possession of the Curtis cup in the team matches with England, returned home on the Queen Mary today with plans to get into tournament play in this country.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City will be the first to get into competition as she plans to enter the Western Open at Topeka next week. Patty Berg, youthful Minneapolis star, and Marion Miley of Lexington will play in the trans-Mississippi at Denver, June 22-27, while Miss Miley hopes to be able to defend her Kentucky state championship starting at Owensboro on June 16.

Other members of the team plan short rests before starting tournament play. They are: Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite of Fort Worth; Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare of Philadelphia, captain of the team; Mrs. Maureen Orcutt Crews of Coral Gables, Fla.; Charlotte Glutting of South Orange, N. J., and Mrs. Leona Cheney of Los Angeles.

U. S. TEAM BEATS THE REST FOUR, 20 TO 5, IN POLO

LONDON, June 1.—(AP)—Paced by Mike Phipps, America's international polo team scored another one sided victory today, defeating a 30 goal combination, known as the Rest, 20 to 5, before 5,000 at Hurlingam.

Phipps scored eight goals as the Americans conquered the sternest opposition they have met in preparing for the international matches against England June 10, 13, 20.

With three Americans—Jimmy Mills, Ebby Gerry, and Bobby Strawbridge—teaming with the maharaja of Jaipur, the Rest played the international four on even terms for two chukkers as each team scored five goals.

Kit Klein, U. S. Skate Champion, to Turn Pro

Katherine [Kit] Klein of Buffalo, American woman's skating champion, yesterday announced her intention to turn professional. She was in Chicago with her manager, Dick Fisher, and Eddie Kelly, her future professional exhibition partner, to conclude a deal to represent a Chicago ice skate manufacturer.

Michigan, Iowa to Open Title Series Today

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 1.—[Special.]—The Michigan and Iowa baseball teams will meet here tomorrow and Wednesday in a two-game series that may give the western conference championship to Illinois.

Both Michigan and Iowa have won eight games and lost one, while Illinois, now in third place, has won ten and lost two. If either team in the series to be played here wins both games it will gain an undisputed title, but if the series is split Illinois will automatically become champion. In the event of rain on either day the team that wins the single game will become champion while the other will drop into third place, behind Illinois. If rain forces cancelation of both games Iowa and Michigan will rank as co-champions.

Capt. Berger Larson will pitch the first game against the Hawkeyes, while either John Gee or Herman Fishman will pitch the second.

Wisconsin and Minnesota also will meet in a two game series tomorrow and Wednesday, playing at Madison.

clean sweep of singles titles in the French hard court tennis tournament today by defeating Fred Perry, of England, 6-0, 2-6, 6-2, 2-6, 6-0.

The victory was the first for the German in four attempts against the recognized No. 1 star in the tennis world. Before Baron von Cramm took the court, Mme. Hilda Krahwinkel Sperling, German born star now living in Denmark, won the women's title by defeating Mme. Rene Mathieu of France, 6-3, 6-4.

Von Cramm outfought Perry so convincingly at the finish that the English champion surrendered. After squaring the match twice, Perry fell behind, 4-0, in the final set and gave up. As Von Cramm scored the winning points the Englishman merely stood at the baseline as the bullet-like returns winged over the net.

Mme. Mathieu, beaten 6-2, 6-1, by the German girl in last year's final, put up a harder struggle today. The tall German played a machine-like, waiting game and outsteadied her rival. In winning the French title two years in succession, Mme. Sperling captured every one of her matches in straight sets.

ENTERS U. S. MEET

BERLIN, June 1.—(AP)—As a result of his brilliant victory over Fred Perry in the finals of the French hard court tennis championships today, Baron Gottfried von Cramm of Germany will be sent to the United States to play in the American tournament this fall. Sports Leader Von Tschammer-Osten telegraphed him an invitation to "represent Germany in the United States."

Mrs. Chandler Is Medalist in Southern Tourney

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 1.—(AP)—Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., with a subpar 79, today won medalist honors in the southern women's golf tournament. Mrs. Chandler's score, one under par, bettered by four strokes that of Miss Betty Jameson of Austin, Tex., who carded 42—41—83.

The 18 hole qualifying round was played in a 35 mile an hour wind which sent tee shots and approaches shooting off at crazy angles. Even on the smooth, tricky greens the wind disturbed players.

Mrs. Chandler was out in par 39, and came in with 40, one under par. On the par five 18th hole, her second shot was 30 yards short of the green. She put her approach three feet from the cup then sank her putt for a birdie.

Miss Jameson's 83 was three strokes lower than the total of Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Tenn., who was in third place. Only two others bettered 90, Miss Edna Saenger of Shreveport, La., with an 87, and Miss Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., with 89.

Miss Saenger, Louisiana state champion in 1934 and 1935, negotiated two of the best shots of the day. She sank a 40 yard approach for an eagle four on the 555 yard fifth hole, and sank a 25 yard approach for birdie on the 17th. She had a 39, two under par, coming in.

JORDAN NAMED TRACK CAPTAIN AT NOTRE DAME

Notre Dame, Ind., June 1.—[Special.]—Charles Jordan, Oak Park junior, was named captain of the 1937 Notre Dame track team today. Jordan is a sprinter and broad jumper.

George Meagher, this year's captain, is suffering from kidney stones, it was announced today, and he probably will be unable to compete in Friday's Central Intercollegiate conference meet at Milwaukee.

Notre Dame has been undefeated this year, both indoor and outdoor, but the Irish are given only an outside chance of winning the C. I. C. title, particularly without Meagher.

Reds Purchase Bill Hallahan from Cards

Cincinnati, O., June 1.—(AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, battling for a place in the first division of the National league, bought William [Wild Bill] Hallahan from the St. Louis Cardinals today to bolster a shaky pitching staf.

The veteran left hander, who has won 93 games and lost 68 during an eight year career in the major leagues, was purchased for an undisclosed amount of cash, President Powell Crosley Jr. announced.

He will be used as a starting pitcher, forsaking the relief rôle to which Manager Frankie Frisch of the Cardinals had assigned him recently.

Predicts He'll Win Share.

General Manager Larry S. MacPhail, who negotiated the deal in a long distance telephone conversation with Vice President Branch Rickey, predicted Hallahan would win his share of games for the Reds and give good service for four or five years.

MacPhail declined to say whether any of the Reds' mound force of six right handers and three left handers would be sold or released. The decision, he said, would be made by Manager Charles Dressen.

Have Only One Winner.

At present, the Reds have only one pitcher with a winning percentage for the season. Al Hollingsworth, 26 year old southpaw, has won six of the Reds' nineteen victories and lost two of their twenty-three losses. Paul Derringer, with four victories and five defeats, and Gene Schott, with three victories and four defeats, are the only other pitchers who have turned in more than a single victory this season.

Hallahan, 31 years old, is a veteran of three world series. He won fifteen games and lost eight last season, and so far this season has won two and lost two.

CARDS BUY TWO PITCHERS.

St. Louis, Mo., June 1.—(AP)—With the sale of Bill Hallahan to the Cincinnati Reds, the St. Louis Cardinals today bought two pitchers from minor league farm clubs and will announce another deal in a day or so.

Bill Cox, 23 year old righthander, was purchased from Columbus of the American association and Leslie Munns, veteran righthander once with Brooklyn, from Rochester of the International league.

The Cards now have 24 players, one above the major league limit, and must get rid of some one. It may be that Cox and Munns will be traded.

Yale Picks Golf Team for National Tourney

New Haven, Conn., June 1.—[Special.]—Coach Ben Thomson of the Yale golf team tonight picked Capt. Herbert Esselman, C. S. Munson, J. Livinson, F. Jamison, F. Allen, and R. Fisher to represent the University in the national intercollegiate golf meet at the North Shore Golf club, Chicago, late this month.

U. S. Olympic Hopes in Meet at Milwaukee

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The Central Intercollegiate conference track and field meet Friday night at Marquette university is the next step in the selection of qualifiers for the final Olympic trials in New York July 11 and 12. The Centrals, in which eight Western Conference teams, Notre Dame, Marquette, Michigan State, the University of Pittsburgh, and a score of other track squads in this territory will compete, has been designated as a feeder tournament for the National Collegiate games at Stagg field June 19 and 20.

All college men who have qualified in other meets, as well as those who finish first, second, or third in the events Friday night at Marquette, will be eligible to compete in the N. C. A. A. There will be semi-final meets June 26 and 27 at Los Angeles, Milwaukee, and Boston in which any amateur may compete.

Four Semi-Final Meets.

In these four semi-finals first and second place winners will qualify for the final tryouts in New York. Eight additional place winners from the semi-finals also will be selected for the finals on the basis of their performances. A maximum of three men in each event will become members of the United States Olympic squad which will sail with other American athletes on the S. S. Manhattan from New York on July 15.

This method of selection does not apply to the marathon run, the 50,000 meter walk, the 10,000 meter run, and the decathlon. Final tryouts for the marathon and the 50,000 meter walk have been held. The A. A. U. championships at Princeton July 3 will be the final in the 10,000 meter run. The decathlon selections will be made at the time of the A. A. U. championships at Milwaukee June 26 and 27.

Robertson Coaches Team.

The remaining regional tryouts for the central west are: June 5, Central Intercollegiate Conference, Milwaukee; June 6, Ohio A. A. U., Columbus; June 6, Missouri Valley A. A. U., Kansas City; June 7, Central A. A. U., Chicago; June 13, Michigan A. A. U., Grand Rapids; June 13, Wisconsin A. A. U., Milwaukee; June 13, Minnesota A. A. U., Minneapolis, and June 13 or 14, Ozark A. A. U., St. Louis.

Jesse Owens, regarded as the outstanding American athlete despite his defeats last year by Eulace Peacock and the competition he will receive from Ralph Metcalfe in the 100 and 200 meter dashes in this year's trials, will be the featured star at Milwaukee Friday night. Owens won three events—the 100 yards, 220 yards and broad jump—last year. He did not compete in the low hurdles, which he has won for the last two years in the Western conference meet.

Ohio State is the defending team champion. The Buckeyes are favored to retain the team title although Indiana, victor in 1934 and winner this year in the Big Ten games for the first time in history, promises to threaten.

Holds One Record.

Owens only holds one Central Intercollegiate record, despite his trio of victories last year. He established this mark in the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet 9 inches. Metcalfe holds the 100 yard record of 9 5-10 seconds, which he made in 1933, and the 220 yard dash of 21 2-10 seconds around one turn made in the same meet. Owens won the Big Ten 220 yard dash in 21 1-10 seconds and his time in the hundred equaled Metcalfe's record. Both, of course, have run the 100 yards in 9 4-10 seconds.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

A SHORT FIGHT.

LAKEWOOD, N. J., June 1.—"This coming fight probably will be very short, whether Schmeling or I win, and you're likely to see me fight different than I've ever fought in a big contest before," said Joe Louis on the porch of his Lakewood cottage today, while resting between morning road work and an afternoon of golf on a local course.

Such a statement might not have been made if Promoter Mike Jacobs or Co-Managers Black and Roxborough had been around. Current buildup, with a view to gate receipts, is for the contest to last longer than Louis' recent victories. The basis for this buildup is that Schmeling always was a slow starter and Louis not a presser, preferring to have his opponent come to him.

"How do you figure that out, Joe?" The Wake asked.

"Well, from what I've been told of Max's style, he advances weaving and bobbing. I'm told he has courage and really thinks he can lick me. Now I don't do any back pedaling. True, as you say, I do sometimes step aside, but not backward, so we're pretty sure to come together. When we do, something is sure to happen with some one on the floor. Of course, everything may be different when we enter the ring, but that's the way I figure it."

Louis' viewpoint reflects the private confidence in his camp. Some of his entourage profess to see the finish in the opening round. This estimate varies with the view that Schmeling, naturally a slow starter and cagey from experience, will not force the issue. Louis, in previous bouts, has been cautious at the start unless his rival sets the pace.

"But against Carnera and Baer, Joe, you didn't seem in any hurry to rush, even though the fights actually did end quickly—about as soon as you really tagged each of them. Schmeling should be harder to hit than either Primo or Max," we suggested.

"Carnera was a big, strong fellow," Louis replied, "with a big weight advantage and tremendous reach. It was my first major fight. I wanted to know how strong he really was. Then because of his reach it was hard to reach his jaw. So I operated on his body until his guard came down.

"Baer was supposed to have a terrific right. It was just common sense to be careful. Why rush a rusher? Now Schmeling on his record is not a knocker-out. He wears down opponents. So if he wants to wear me down I'm ready to mix, and that surely would produce a quick ending for one of us. I don't think any heavyweight can trade punches with me."

What Louis says about his not retreating or back pedaling is true. His boxing stance differs somewhat from the orthodox. His advanced left foot is almost straight in front of him instead of being placed sideways on the canvas. From that position it is more difficult to step back, but much easier to sidestep or stay in position for blocking or head slipping. It is another feature of Jack Blackburn's tutelage.

Louis Plays Golf.

Louis is becoming somewhat of a golf addict. He has not tramped the links many times and therefore lacks technique to take off as many strokes as his long drives, when straight, suggest. He smacks 'em a mile off the tee when his timing is correct, wields powerful irons, but still lacks finesse in approaching.

On the Lakewood Country club links Joe turns in a card of from 100 to 115. He once broke the century mark. One of the spectators present on that occasion asserts several important putts were conceded. His game, with practice, warants lower totals.

Pike Fishing Interrupted by Muskie

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Gunlock Lake, Wis., June 1.—On any one of the many muskie and pike lakes here in the Flambeau Indian reservation you may occasionally notice a lot of excitement in some nearby fishing boat, see the flash of a leaping fish, and then hear the report of a gun. When this occurs you can lay a bet that some lucky fisherman has caught a muskie, because most of the anglers in this territory finish the big fellows with a well placed shot from a revolver.

We have seen this happen on several lakes during the last few days, but it really didn't take any firearms to give us plenty of thrills yesterday when a 35 inch muskie barged into our pike fishing party.

Hooked on Pike Tackle.

Bill, our fishing partner, hooked the muskie on a minnow and spinner combination intended for a wall eye. Bill immediately had to toss the rod to us to see if line, outboard motor, and fish could be untangled. We played Mr. Muskie for ten minutes or more on a light outfit with not even a wire leader on the line.

Finally the fish was coaxed within reaching range. All this time our boat was sloshing around in a pretty stiff wind, which added to the fun.

This amusing time with the muskie was a gentle reminder that one has no business to go wall-eyed pike fishing around a weed bed, the natural home of a 'lunge, unless the fisherman and his outfit are ready to take on a muskie, because this fish is quite likely to crash the party and start trouble. In this particular instance the fish grabbed the pike bait, went under the boat and started to jump somewhere in the adjacent acre of water so quickly that the stage was set at once for a lot of fun.

Pike Strike Freely.

Shishebogema, the lake of many bays that is connected with Gunlock by a short waterway, was the scene of our fun with the muskie. With an outboard motor to get you to the fishing spots one can fish many a weed bed in these two lakes in the course of a day.

The wall eyes in Gunlock put on quite a party for us just before dinner last evening. Bill headed us for the north weed bed for the first try. Casting the outer edge of the weeds both of us hit wall-eyes within a few minutes.

Thirty minutes later we played tag with a school on the east side of the lake where the pike perch chased our lures just far enough to get their teeth into them. When the sun was throwing long shadows across the lake the fish apparently began to move around and feed so they smacked our lures without any hesitation.

Prep Nines to Meet Today in Semi-Finals

Finalists for the Chicago Public High school baseball championship will be determined this afternoon when Lane Tech meets Schurz at Mills Stadium and Austin and Kelvyn Park play at Spencer Coals field.

Lane is favored to repeat two earlier victories over Schurz. It will have its star pitcher, Frank Dasso, available. Dasso was the star in a 9 to 0 victory scored by Lane over Schurz in their first meeting and, working as a relief pitcher, protected a one run lead Lane held in another north section game. Dasso has struck out 111 in eight games this year and allowed four runs. Ed Zydowsky, whose pitching is partly responsible for bringing Schurz through to the semi-finals, but who was charged with the defeats in both Lane games, will work for Schurz today.

The outcome of the Austin-Kelvyn Park game is considered a tossup. Austin, champion of the west section, beat Kelvyn Park, runner-up in the same section, 15 to 11, in their first meeting, but dropped the second game, 12 to 8.

TRACK SUSPENDS ACE HUDKINS, HORSE OWNER

Omaha, Neb., June 1.—(AP)—Suspension of Ace Hudkins, former Lincoln, Neb., fighter, now owner of a stable of race horses, from the Ak-Sar-Ben racing plant here was announced today by Martin L. Nathanson, presiding steward.

Nathanson charged the former Nebraska Wildcat with disturbing the peace at the track Saturday. Hudkins was arrested Saturday by race track police, who accused him of intervening in a fight between two other men. He was held in county jail for several hours on charges of drunkenness and resisting arrest, but was freed in County court early today.

Hudkins has lived in California in recent years.

MEYER TO RACE AT ROBY'S 1936 OPENING SUNDAY

MacKenzie, Rose, Stapp Also on Card.

Louis Meyer, who roared to a new record of 109.069 miles per hour at Indianapolis last Saturday to become the only three-time victor in the annual 500 mile auto race, signed yesterday to appear in the inaugural card at the New Roby speedway next Sunday.

The Huntington Park, Cal., veteran will drive the same car which carried him to triumph at Indianapolis. He will clash in a match race with Babe Stapp, midwestern A. A. A. champion, who won all three of the big races at Roby last season and led in the Indianapolis until a twisted driving shaft forced him out. The event will be run off in a series of three 5 mile heats.

Three of Best Drivers.

Meyer will head a field of drivers which includes three of the first four finishers in the Indianapolis race.

In addition to Meyer, Promoter Carl Stockholm has lined up Mauri Rose, who ranked third at Indianapolis until a revision of the standings Sunday placed him fourth. Doc MacKenzie, who with his relief driver, Kelly Petillo, finished third, signed last week.

There still is a possibility that Stockholm will have all four of the leading finishers as Ted Horn, runner-up at Indianapolis may yet join the Roby fold. Others signed earlier are Rex Mays, 23 year old coast champion, Jimmy Snyder, C. N. Frame, Hank Banks, Emil Andres, and Ted Johnson.

Entries Are Closed.

Entries for the races closed at midnight last night, but all letters postmarked up to that time will be accepted. The drivers will begin arriving with their cars for preliminary tuneups tomorrow. Meyer will arrive Thursday night.

MEYER EARNS $29,850

Indianapolis, Ind., June 1.—(AP)—Louis Meyer of Huntington Park, Cal., collected $29,850 in cash, a high priced automobile, and several trophies tonight for his third victory in Indianapolis 500 mile races.

Ted Horn, Los Angeles youngster, collected $12,625 for finishing second. George [Doc] MacKenzie of Eddington, Pa., who finished third with the aid of Kelly Petillo of Huntington Park, Cal., who owned the car and drove as relief pilot, received a check for $6,400.

The prizes were awarded at a dinner given in honor of the drivers who participated in last Saturday's race. Peter De Paolo, who won here in 1925, was master of ceremonies.

Meyer, who drove his own car, collected $20,000 from the speedway for first prize. He won $2,000 in lap prize money. The other checks he received came from automotive accessory companies, whose parts he used in his car.

Horn got $10,000 from the speedway for second place and $2,625 in other awards.

MacKenzie and Petillo, who combined to finish in third place, collected $5,000 from the speedway management and the remainder of their $6,400 from accessory organizations.

Rose Receives $3,500.

Mauri Rose of Dayton, O., who finished fourth, got $3,500; Chet Miller of Detroit, fifth, $3,000; Ray Pixley of Fullerton, Cal., sixth, $2,200; Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis, Ind., seventh $1,800 from the speedway and $1,800 more for leading the race 18 laps.

George Barringer, Glassport, Pa., who was eighth, was given a check for $1,600, and Zeke Meyer of Germantown, Pa., ninth, got $1,500. Tenth place brought George Connor, Los Angeles, $1,400.

Rex Mays of Los Angeles, who won the pole position by making the fastest speed in qualifying trials, got $300 in lap prize money. He ran out of gasoline before the end of the race.

The speedway divided $60,000 in prize money tonight, $10,000 of it being split among the twenty-three drivers who failed to finish among the first ten.

BUSINESS NOW SEEKING FARMERS

Publisher of Farm Journal Finds Rural Districts Eager for Better Merchandise

Because of the farmer's importance today in the national scheme, the Farm Journal, one of America's oldest publications, has been completely restyled to bring the rural districts of America into intimate touch with news happenings of the world. Scrapping its entire printing plant at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars, the Farm Journal, in addition to adding many new and exclusive editorial features, is now printed on speed presses that break all records for fast publishing.

Graham Patterson, Publisher, in speaking of the changes, says, "The reaction we have received to date from our readers in every section of the country has been most stimulating and the response from the business world shows a very definite appreciation of this new type of magazine.

"In building the new Farm Journal we have recognized the fact that the farmer is a man of broad intelligence, eager for correct information, alive to every modern activity. To serve his modern needs we introduced a new editorial and publishing idea which includes a four-day printing and delivery schedule—something entirely new for a magazine of more than 1,000,000 circulation. The soundness of this policy appealed so greatly to Walter B. Pitkin, economist, author and farmer, that he accepted the responsibility of Editorial Director. Mr. Pitkin has written me a letter which so completely expresses the thinking behind our new publishing program that I should like you to read it.

Walter B. Pitkin, New Director

"Mr. Pitkin says:

"'There is today an important place for a farm publication in the United States of a type that has never before been published.

"'People like to think of the farmer as some one who is just a few years behind the times. This point of view is completely out of date. The automobile, the radio, the moving pictures and good roads have made him aware of what is going on in all parts of the world and eager to hear about it.

"'The farmer in this country today would like to have the news brought to him accurately. It is here he feels a bit behind the other man. He wants some kind of a simple, trustworthy interpretation of the news—not a sophisticated news magazine but a publication that is his—that thinks in his terms, that will do for him what has been done for the city man.

"'The complex issues that are vital today—taxation, banking, Government subsidy of business, including farming—must be discussed in such form that people can really understand them. There is today a great need and a sustained demand for such news among farm families.

"'The great majority of people have built up a mental picture of an individual in overalls as symbolizing that vast group who do not live in cities, and classify them as "The American Farmer." They have even gone so far in their misconception as to consider the Middle West as the principal farm area of the United States.

"'Farming was never more national. There are dairymen and poultry farmers in the shadow of big city skyscrapers with just as many rural interests and more spendable incomes than some Iowa hog-raisers or Dakota wheat farmers. The national viewpoint must be kept at all times.

"'The interests of this great group, comprising nearly half the population of the United States, are not guesses. They are the results of study, of travel, of interview, of meeting face-to-face this "American Farmer" who is so misunderstood.

"'If you can attain only half of your editorial and publishing goal, Farm Journal will stand in a class by itself. I welcome the opportunity to add my meagre ability to this new epoch in farm paper publishing. WALTER B. PITKIN.'"

Publishing History Made

"Eight months ago we launched the first issue of the new Farm Journal based on just such an understanding of today's farmer.

"Ordinarily a monthly magazine closes its advertising and editorial forms from four to six weeks before publishing. This means that editors and advertisers have to prepare their copy long in advance, with the result that genuine timeliness is practically impossible. Under our present program, however, we are now able to close our advertising and editorial forms only a few hours before going to press and deliver the entire issue from coast to coast within four days.

Greater Service to Readers

"What does this mean to our readers? It means a broader, more complete service. Now we have our own Washington office, where we interpret national, political and economic events which affect the farmer's well-being, and present them in ample time for the farmer to act when action is necessary. It has enabled us to put timely comment into every department of the magazine—oftentimes printing information so valuable in its content that the News Services have frequently picked it up after we have run it. We have built a national news-gathering organization for reporting all kinds of information of national importance, and in addition have established a widespread organization of 1500 members to supply last-minute crop reports of the utmost value to farmers.

Gives Advertisers Big Advantage

"We have frequently been asked what value has all of this for the advertiser. By creating an entirely new type of publication in which all the flavor and completeness of the old Farm Journal has been blended with the new, we have captured the interest of thousands of new readers and have tied even more closely to us the hundreds of thousands of farm people who have been loyal to the Farm Journal for several generations. That this new interest has given a greatly added value to the advertising in our pages, is borne out by the record-breaking returns that advertisers in Farm Journal are now receiving."—Adv.

U. S. ANNOUNCES BIG BOND ISSUE IS SUBSCRIBED

Books Are Closed on Cash Offering.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 1.—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, who said he was "more than pleased" at the way the public took the government's flotation of $1,000,000,000 of new bonds and notes, announced tonight that the subscription books would be closed at midnight.

Books on the conversion of maturing notes in the amount of $1,050,754,400 will be closed Wednesday night, Morgenthau said. Holders of the notes were offered new bonds or new treasury notes in exchange.

The new bonds, of which $600,000,000 were offered for sale, will bear 2¾ per cent interest. They will be callable in 1951 and mature in 1954. The $400,000,000 in new treasury notes bear 1⅜ per cent interest and mature in five years.

Guard Against "Padding."

Morgenthau said the new rules and regulations introduced by the treasury and the federal reserve board to guard against "padding" subscriptions had been workable and acceptable. The regulations put in writing to the presidents of the twelve federal reserve banks were practically the same as oral instructions in the past.

"Notwithstanding the rules and regulations," said Morgenthau, "the financing was a great success and there was a large demand on the part of the ultimate bond buyer for the new securities."

The secretary said that the bonds were more in demand than the notes, both in the cash subscriptions and in the exchanges. This was an indication, he thought, that investors were interested in long term governments.

Ignores Boost in Public Debt.

Morgenthau skimmed over the prospects of the public debt mounting toward the 35 billion dollar mark by the end of the fiscal year, June 30, by pointing to the oversubscription.

The size of the debt by the end of the fiscal year, Morgenthau added, would depend on the amount of the new bonus bonds that the veterans cash. Daniel W. Bell, acting director of the budget, said the debt might climb to a maximum of 34 billion 600 million dollars.

In addition to the costs of defraying the bonus, the new borrowing, largest in peace time history, will finance New Deal spending beyond income until next Sept. 15. The administration is spending nearly two dollars for every one taken in in revenue.

Morgenthau said he did not know yet what the size of the oversubscription was. Cash subscriptions placed in the mail before midnight will be honored, while exchange subscriptions for either issue will be taken if placed in the mail before midnight on Wednesday. Either the bonds or notes are being tendered in exchange for $686,616,400 of 1⅛ per cent notes maturing June 15 and for $364,138,000 of 3¼ per cent notes maturing next Aug. 1.

At the same time Morgenthau announced that tenders for the two series of $50,000,000 each in treasury bills offered on May 29 and dated June 8 amounted to $281,374,000, of which $100,385,000 was accepted. The 195 day bills averaged an interest rate of 0.184 per cent; the 273 day bills averaged 0.218 per cent.

RETAIL STORE OFFICIALS MEET HERE NEXT WEEK

Retail executives will gather in Chicago for the joint midyear conference of the National Retail Dry Goods association at the Palmer house from June 8 to 11, it was announced yesterday.

The conference will be concerned primarily with the reduction of distribution costs. It wil include discussions on store management, personnel, credit, deliveries, and controler activities, according to Channing E. Sweitzer, managing director.

44 Favorable Dividend Changes Voted in Week

A compilation by Standard Statistics Company, Inc., yesterday showed 44 favorable dividend changes last week, against 42 in the preceding week. Unfavorable changes totaled 3 against 2 in the week before.

Container Co. Near Common Stock Dividend

W. P. PAEPCKE.

The Container Corporation of America will soon be in a "common dividend condition." Walter P. Paepcke, president, assured stockholders at the annual meeting here. Action on a proposed new preferred stock issue was deferred.

"As a result of improvements, we believe we are coming very close to a common dividend condition," Paepcke said. "A dividend will be considered at the meeting of directors to be held within the next 30 days."

No dividend has been paid on the present common stock since it was issued, while the last payment on the previously outstanding A stock was 30 cents a share in 1931.

Plans Low Rate Preferred.

Concerning the issuance of new $50 par preferred stock, Paepcke said: "We cannot yet determine what the exact rate on the preferred will be. We will not ask this meeting to approve a plan, say at 5 per cent, when we may be able to get a lower rate."

Proceeds from the sale of the preferred would be used to retire the outstanding $7,736,360 in bonds and debentures and for the construction of a $6,000,000 Kraft pulp and paper mill in Florida which was approved by stockholders. Any additional funds required for this purpose will be provided by a bank loan at a low rate of interest. Authorized common stock is to be increased from 1,000,000 to 1,250,000 shares.

The company's business so far this year is running 10 per cent ahead of a year ago in tons and slightly ahead of last year in dollar volume, Paepcke estimated.

William R. Basset, New York, a director, said issuance of preferred stock will not lessen the possibility of common dividends but will merely replace must obligations.

"This move," he asserted, "not only carries with it the promise of increased profits, but building of the mill will accelerate the approach to the better profit stage."

UPPER AVENUE BANK WILL JOIN NATIONAL RANKS

Decision of the Upper Avenue bank, 919 North Michigan avenue, to change from a state to a national institution was announced last night by the directors. Application for a national bank charter has been approved by the controler of the currency, it was announced, and a meeting of stockholders has been called for July 2 to approve the change.

The new name of the institution will be Upper Avenue National Bank of Chicago. The bank now is a member of the federal reserve system. It has capital of $200,000; surplus, $200,000; undivided profits and contingent reserve, $87,198.

Henry C. Murphy is president of the bank and Roy C. Osgood, vice president of the First National bank, is chairman of the board. The directors, besides these officers, are William Bartholomay Jr., Eugene B. Clark, George F. Getz, W. Homer Hartz, Dr. James B. Herrick, J. Mayo Lenz, Edward W. Lloyd, Charles S. Pearce, Walter S. Ross, Edward C. Shumann, Albert W. Sherer, Edwin W. Sims, and Kenneth G. Smith.

Steel Output Is Estimated Slightly Higher This Week

Steel production this week is estimated at 68.2 per cent of capacity by the American Iron and Steel institute. This compares with 67.9 per cent last week and 70.1 a month ago. A year ago the industry was operating at an estimated average of 39.5 per cent.

PER CAPITA FEDERAL DEBT RISES FROM $12 IN 1913 TO $246 NOW

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—The per capita federal debt has jumped from $12.26 in 1913 up to $246, and the annual aggregate cost of all governmental activity—federal, state, and local—exceeds 15 billion dollars compared with 3 billion dollars in the prewar period. This statistical information was disclosed in today's issue of the New England Letter of the First National Bank of Boston.

The survey said that the cost of government exceeds the nation's food bill by a wide margin, and is more than twice the amount spent annually by the 127 million people of the United States for clothing.

"The solvency of this country requires a reduction in expenses," the Letter said. "Already a heritage of staggering debts and burdensome taxes has been piled up for future generations to pay. An unbalanced budget cannot long continue without leading to ruin. The budget cannot be balanced by increased taxes alone. Expenses can and must be cut. Then and then only will full confidence return.

"Income surtaxes and estate taxes are approaching the point of confiscation. If they were avowedly confiscatory, they would not be sufficient to meet the present expenses of the government. If the government had confiscated all net income in excess of $5,000 the aggregate amount so confiscated would have covered federal expenditures for only seven months of the present fiscal year."

KRAFT-PHENIX TO EXPAND ITS WORLD MARKET

Kraft-Phenix Cheese corporation will expand its markets in the orient as part of an extensixe international program, James L. Kraft, president of the corporation, announced yesterday.

The far eastern sales and advertising campaign will extend through Japan, China, India, and the Malay states, Kraft said at an international conference of the company's representatives being held at the company's headquarters here.

Arthur Ruckert, former general manager of the Pabstett corporation, Chicago, will head the new Argentine corporation of Kraft-Phenix, and C. B. Wiltrout, also of Chicago, has been appointed production manager for the new South American plants, Kraft announced.

Court Refuses to Rule on Taft Gold Bond Suit

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—The Supreme court today granted the government's motion to dismiss a request for a ruling on the suit of Robert A. Taft to compel the United States to pay him $1.07 interest on a gold bond called in advance of maturity.

The opinion means that the court of claims either must go ahead and decide the case or present a new petition to the high court next October. The court of claims asked for a Supreme court ruling after Taft, son of the former President and Supreme court chief justice, filed his petition.

Taft, head of the Dixie Terminal company of Cincinnati, O., holds a $50 4¼ per cent gold bond maturing Oct. 15, 1938, and called for redemption Oct. 15, 1934.

U. S. Refuses to Meet Demand.

On presentation of the bond March 11, 1935, the treasury refused either to redeem the bond in gold or to pay interest beyond Oct. 15, 1934. Taft contends it must do one or the other.

The high court also denied a rehearing to Chicago commission men buying and selling live stock at the Union stockyards. The court on May 18 ruled that the commission men cannot collect higher rates than those authorized by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

In another case affecting Chicagoans, the tribunal refused to interfere with a decision of the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals on March 14, 1936, denying minority bondholders the right to appeal from the federal district court which approved a reorganization under the federal bankruptcy laws.

Reorganization Upheld.

Twenty-eight persons holding $63,300 of an issue of $2,225,000 gold bonds sold in 1928 through S. W. Straus & Co. sought to upset the reorganization of the Michigan Boulevard Garage corporation, whose name was later changed to Wabash-Harrison Building corporation.

A hearing was granted to two Minnesota residents to contend the section of the New York workmen's compensation law is unconstitutional which gives New York claimants against insolvent companies a preference over those from other states.

The state of Texas was granted a hearing on its contention that a 1935 act providing strict production control and quotas for natural gas fields in the state is constitutional.

BEST PROFITS SINCE '29 SEEN FOR AUTO TRADE IN SECOND QUARTER

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—With one month more to go and sales and production holding strongly, leading automobile manufacturers will make the best profit showing in the second quarter since 1929, it was predicted today.

Aggregate profits of the six largest manufacturers, exclusive of Ford, are placed at 90 million dollars for the period, a gain of 40 per cent over the first quarter and nearly 50 per cent above the second quarter of 1935. The showing would be around 75 per cent of the $124,800,000 earned in the June quarter of 1929.

The six companies in the estimate are General Motors, Chrysler, Hudson, Nash, Packard, and Studebaker.

Shipments for the industry, exclusive of Ford, in the second quarter are placed at around 1,100,000 cars and trucks, up 30 per cent over a year ago. Shipments of 824,077 units in the first quarter were 17 per cent above the same 1935 period. Combined profits in the first half are placed at $160,000,000, a gain of 50 per cent over the first half of 1935, 78 per cent of the full earnings last year, and 77 per cent over all of 1934.

APPEALS COURT UPHOLDS POWER OF SEC PROBES

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today ruled unanimously that the Securities and Exchange commission has authority to subpena and examine witnesses in investigations conducted to determine whether federal law has been violated, and that copies of the minutes need not be supplied to witnesses or others.

The court held that such proceedings were analogous to inquiries conducted by grand juries and upheld subpenas to Thomas Bracken, Harry Aaron, and Alex Reed, employés of Pirnie Simons & Co., Inc., as to which concern the commission began an investigation to determine whether federal law had been violated in connection with Dictograph Products stock.

United Air Lines Adds 11th Daily N. Y. Flight

United Air Lines, Inc., yesterday added another daily round trip schedule on the New York-Chicago run. This brings the number of daily trips to 11. The new schedule calls for departure at 4:30 p. m., Chicago time, and arrival in New York at 8:45, Chicago time.

STOCKS RISE MODESTLY, BUT TRADE IS QUIET

Gains Are Fractional to Three Points.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 1.—The stock market pushed moderately higher today. Gains in the general list were mainly fractional, but some issues managed to move up as much as 3 points.

Trading continued dull, however, with 786,240 shares changing hands. Closing prices were pared slightly from the day's highs, but the session was unmarked by violent fluctuations in either direction.

Most of the power generated by the list was credited to business news. Steel shares especially were buoyed up by cheering reports, which showed the industry had again refused to turn down in accordance with the seasonal trend.

U. S. Steel Advances.

United States Steel quickly moved up more than a point and, though late liquidation shaded its high, it finished with a large fractional gain. Youngstown was well liked, moving up a point, while Bethlehem, Crucible, Acme, and Republic advanced fractions to two points.

Though the speculative fraternity expects the lower railroad fares, which went into effect today, to prove beneficial to the carriers, the group failed to put on any spectacular demonstration of bullish strength. Most of the eastern roads finished with fractional advances. Pullman advanced a point soon after the opening, but gave up most of its gain in later dealings.

Motor shares moved in a narrow range. Chrysler converted an early gain into a loss, and General Motors finished unchanged despite expectations that distribution of the bonus money will mean more business for the automobile producers.

Implement Shares Mixed.

Farm implement shares were inclined to be mixed. Case was a standout, rising 3 points, while Deere traveled almost as far in the opposite direction. Mail order shares were fairly strong, both Montgomery Ward and Sears-Roebuck appreciating fractions.

Louisiana Oil plunged 8½ points on a few transactions. Other oil issues were quiet.

American Can, Checker Cab, Greene Copper, Reynolds Spring, Wright Aero, Universal Leaf Tobacco, and Vicks were in the class of stocks gaining from 1 to 3 points.

EASTMAN DENIES PLANS TO SPEND BILLION ON CARS

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—Joseph B. Eastman, federal coordinator of transportation, today denied reports that the government would spend $1,000,000,000 in a railroad car buying program to stimulate the heavy goods industries.

According to reports the plan called for the scrapping of more than 600,000 old freight cars to be replaced by 358,000 modern cars financed by the government.

Eastman in denying that any such program had been considered by himself added that no other plan involving federal aid had been considered.

F. H. PRINCE.

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—A plan for reorganization of the Minneapolis and St. Louis railroad in which the Reconstruction Finance corporation would put up $5,000,000 and Frederick H. Prince, Boston capitalist, would advance $1,000,000, was submitted today to Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the RFC, by Philip Roosevelt of New York, chairman of the bondholders' group.

Announcement of the action was made known by Senator Shipstead [Far. Lab., Minn.], chairman of the interstate commerce commission, which has been carrying on an investigation of the affairs of the railroad. It had been proposed that the railroad be dismembered and divided among a number of other lines.

Advantages Explained.

Explaining the advantages of the bondholders' offer to Jones, Roosevelt said:

"The plan calls on the RFC for an advance of only $5,000,000, against $7,200,000 for under the Associated Railways' plan. In addition, $1,000,000 of new capital is interested in the property. In the third place there will be no such dislocation of transportation service as is proposed under the Associated Railways' plan. Also employés are assured of their jobs."

Shipstead said that the bondholders' plan calls for the issuance of $17,000,000 in new securities, $5,000,000 of which would be in first mortgage 4 per cent bonds to be issued to the RFC in security for the loan. Holders of $44,286,000 of old bonds would receive $12,000,000 of the new bonds. Prince, as security for his loan, would receive 10 year 4½ per cent notes.

Use Loan for Liquidation.

The RFC loan would be used in liquidating the receivership under which the road has been operating since 1923. The $1,000,000 to be supplied by Prince would be turned over to an operating company for new equipment and operating expenses.

Shipstead said the railroad had met interest payments on $46,000,000 in bonds from 1912 to 1923 and that with an upturn in general business it ought to be able to repay the $6,000,000 of borrowed money and pay fixed charges on the $12,000,000 additional bonds.

ARMOUR TO OPEN NEW BEEF HOUSE IN CHICAGO SOON

Operation of its new $1,500,000 beef house at the Union stockyards, said to be the largest and finest of its kind in the United States, will begin soon, it was announced yesterday by Armour & Co. To emphasize the progress made in construction of abattoirs in recent years Armour is holding a reception and luncheon for retail meat dealers today on the floor where the cattle will be dressed.

Constructed of brick, concrete, and steel, with the interior finished in glazed tile and with floors of vitrified brick, the six story building contains 230,000 square feet of floor space and will supply work for 800 when operated at capacity.

Operations will be performed on six levels with a visitors' gallery above the sixth floor. The four lower stories are refrigerated, and this section is completely insulated from the rest of the building. The capacity of the plant for single shift operation will be 12,000 cattle a week.

EASTERN RAILS AND BUS LINES REDUCE FARES

Await Effects on Trafic Volume.

Sharply reduced passenger fares were put into effect yesterday by the eastern railroads and most bus lines also cut their charges. While most officials of the railroads said it was too early to say to what extent the public was responding to the lower rates, D. M. Bowman, passenger trafic manager of the New York Central lines, said there was a definite increase in coach travel and that his road had added a number of coaches to its regular trains.

"However, we are not able to say whether an increase in coach travel will produce sufficient revenues to offset the reduction in receipts from the lower fares," Bowman said. "We should know more about the trend in another week."

Forecast Increase in Travel.

Transportation experts forecast a gradually increasing travel load as the season goes on, with a substantial increase when vacation travel starts in the summer.

The new fares are 2 cents a mile for coach travel and 3 cents for first class travel, with the surcharge on Pullmans eliminated. The old rates were 3.6 cents a mile for both coach and Pullman travel and a surcharge on Pullmans. However, frequent reduced rates for week-end and holiday travel brought these rates down.

Although nearly all the eastern railroads are engaged in a suit challenging the legality of the new fares ordered by the interstate commerce commission, only one, the Long Island, failed to put the new charges into operation.

The major bus lines, whose old rate averaged a little more than 2 cents a mile, voluntarily put into effect new schedules ranging from 1½ to 1¾ cents a mile.

Will Watch Offect of Rates.

Railroad officials and the interstate commerce commission will watch travel statistics closely during the coming months to determine whether the I. C. C. or the eastern railroads are right in calculating the effect of the new rates. The I. C. C. holds that travel will be increased so much by the new rates that the railroads will obtain more revenue than they did under the old fares.

The point of view of the I. C. C. is supported by the western and southern railroads, which have had the lower fares in effect for some time. The eastern roads contend conditions are different in various sections of the country and they insist that what is advantageous in the west and south will not be beneficial in the east. Only Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio, among the major eastern lines has taken the position that the lower fares will prove beneficial.

USE OF CHECKS INDICATES SLIGHT SAG IN BUSINESS

Business activity in the Chicago federal reserve district declined slightly in the week ended May 27, banking statistics issued yesterday indicated. Debits to individual deposit account totaled $1,098,182,000, a drop of 5.2 per cent from the preceding week's total of $1,158,315,000. The figure, however, was 11.8 per cent over the same period last year.

BRITONS INVITE U. S. STEEL FIRMS TO JOIN COMBINE

Suggest Pool to Develop World Markets.

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—The earl of Dudley, head of the British Iron and Steel federation, invited leaders of the American steel industry tonight to pool their resources, experience and skill with the International Steel cartel for the development of world markets for their common good.

Lord Dudley laid his proposal before Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel corporation; Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, and members of their executive stafs at a dinner he gave for the American steel makers on board the new British liner Queen Mary.

Lord Dudley and Sir Andrew Duncan, chairman of the executive committee of the British Iron and Steel federation, outlined the proposal.

Briton Dodges Question.

At the conclusion of the dinner Lord Dudley was asked whether the British and American steel representatives had found a common ground for agreement. His laconic reply was: "We have had a fine English dinner."

Taylor, when asked for the results of the conferences, explained that the British steel representatives had explained the steps taken throughout the cartel which had benefitted their industry.

"We don't know whether these same plans would apply to us with benefits," he said.

Taylor explained that the directors of the United States Steel corporation were entertaining the British visitors at a luncheon tomorrow. He described the affair as entirely social.

Further Conferences Hinted.

Asked if he expected to have further conferences on the cartel with Lord Dudley and his associates, Taylor's reply was, "They are going to be here all week and we expect to see them."

This statement by Taylor coincided with an announcement by Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel corporation, who was unable to attend the dinner, that he expected to see the earl of Dudley during his visit to New York.

CERTAIN-TEED PLANS CHANGE IN CAPITALIZATION

Stockholders of the Certain-teed Products corporation have been asked to attend a special meeting of the concern in Baltimore, Md., June 24 for the purpose of eliminating present consolidated deficit, to fund the accumulated arrears of dividends on the preferred stock and to eliminate accumulated arrears of dividends in the sinking fund requirements for preferred stock.

The plan contemplates a new prior preference stock ranking prior to the present 7 per cent preferred and entitled to cumulative dividends at the rate of 6 per cent per year. It proposes to change the common stock from shares without par value into shares of $1 par value. The number of common shares will be increased and the capital of the corporation, at present represented by the common stock, is to be reduced from $5,734,500 to $382,300, thereby eliminating the deficit in the consolidated balance sheet which stood at $1,167,847 on Dec. 31, 1935.

Holders of the present 7 per cent preferred are offered the option of receiving for each share held 1 7-10 shares of the new 6 per cent preferred, or they may exchange their present preferred for 1 share of the new preferred and 5 shares of new common stock.

CHEMICAL FIRM PROTESTS MAKING SECRETS PUBLIC

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., June 1.—[Special.]—Objections to the publication of data from which other competing corporations are exempted were entered today before the Securities and Exchange Commission by Abbott Laboratories, Inc., of North Chicago, Ill. The SEC had attempted to obtain information on sales, manufacturing costs, advertising and research.

James F. Stiles Jr., vice president and treasurer of the company, pointed out that several other chemical concerns escaped the reporting of this data because the stock was privately held or not listed on a public exchange.

It had always been the practice of the chemical industry, Stiles declared, to keep their own "family secrets," and not even during the days of the old NRA codes was such data made public.

Stiles also told the SEC that the release of the information could be used for foreign countries in placing duties and excise taxes on American export trade.

COMMONS VOTES FEDERAL RULE OF BANK OF CANADA

OTTAWA, June 1.—(AP)—A resolution favoring the government's obtaining stock control of the Bank of Canada was adopted by the house of commons today.

Minister of Finance Dunning said the change would permit $5,100,000 capital stock of the bank to be issued and purchased by the government to give it control. A sufficient number of new directors would be appointed to give the government majority control.

The paramount duty of a central bank, Dunning said, was to control the volume of credit and currency in the best interests of the country.

ARGENTINE TRADE RISES RAPIDLY IN LAST TWO YEARS

Financial Position Much Strengthened.

New York, June 1.—[Special.]—Marked improvement in economic and financial conditions in the republic of Argentina is reported in a bulletin issued by Dean John T. Madden, director of the Institute of International Finance. The institute is conducted by the Investment Bankers' Association of America in coöperation with New York university.

"In the last two years the general improvement in prices, coupled with favorable crops in Argentina and reduced production in other countries, has resulted in rapid economic recovery," the summary said. "During both 1934 and 1935 the total value of exports increased substantially and the total in 1935 exceeded that of any year since 1929.

Export Excess Larger.

"The total value of imports has also increased, but to a lesser extent than exports, and the excess of exports in 1935 was larger than that of any of the last seven years, except 1932."

An improvement in government finances has developed along with the rise in prices and expansion of imports, according to the survey, and, while current expenditures exceeded current revenues in each year from 1929 to 1934, preliminary figures for 1935 indicate that the government's operations for the year will show a small surplus.

"The public debt of Argentina increased from 3,161,509,000 pesos at the end of 1929, to 3,461,582,000 pesos at the end of 1932, but the total amount outstanding has shown little change since the latter date," the report said.

May Refund Dollar Bonds.

The general improvement in the country's financial condition has led to the belief in Wall street that the government will undertake the refunding of its external dollar bonds, all of which are currently selling at or fractionally below par.

"In 1933 all internal bonds bearing interest at 5½ and 5 per cent were refunded into a new 5 per cent internal loan," the bulletin said, "and during 1934 and 1935, all of the government's external debt payable in sterling was refunded into 4½ per cent obligations."

LEWIS DEFIES A. F. OF L. ON PLAN FOR STEEL UNION

Washington, D. C., June 1.—(AP)—Ignoring hints of an attempt to expel him from the American Federation of Labor, John L. Lewis notified the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers today that the steel industry would be organized into one big union whether the association consented or not.

This announcement was the latest development in the scrap between Lewis, as president of the United Mine Workers, and William Green, A. F. of L. president, over whether workers should be organized by crafts or by industries.

After denouncing the association Lewis today agreed to discuss organization plans with an association committee on Wednesday at Washington.

MEN'S CLOTHING CHAIN TO OPEN CHICAGO STORE

State-Quincy Site Leased by Howard Firm.

BY AL CHASE.

State street is to have a new men's clothing store. Howard Clothes, Inc., of Brooklyn, N. Y., which operates a large chain of popular priced stores in eastern cities will enter the middle west for the first time with a branch at the northwest corner of State and Quincy streets, in the Consumers building. This space is now occupied by the Benson & Rixon company, which will move shortly to 206-12 South State street.

Howard Clothes leased from Jacob Kesner the corner store, fronting 33⅓ feet on State and 118 feet on Quincy street, and the entire second floor, 62 by 144 feet, for fifteen years with an option to cancel at the end of the tenth year.

Lease on Percentage Basis.

The lease is on a minimum guarantee and percentage of gross profits basis. P. J. Spitz & Co. of Cleveland and Murray Breiner, of New York, were the only brokers.

The lesees will take possession on July 1 and inaugurate a modernization program for the premises which includes a complete air conditioning system for both summer and winter. They expect to open the new local store about Sept. 1.

The rear 26 feet frontage of the present Benson and Rixon store on Quincy street will be used by Kesner for the construction of a new entrance to the basement space, which is to be leased for restaurant purposes.

Church to Have New Building.

Work will start next week on a $130,000 church edifice for the St. Maurice Roman Catholic church at the southeast corner of 36th and Hoyne from plans by McCarthy, Smith & Eppig. It will seat 600 and will be of Gothic design, according to the Rev. George J. Wunder, the pastor. Completion is set for Christmas.

Mrs. Emma S. Schotte has purchased the six apartment building at 2326-28 Farwell avenue from Amalgamated Properties, Inc., New York City, for an undisclosed all cash consideration, according to John J. Kern, who represented both parties.

HEITMAN TRUST LIQUIDATION IS ASKED IN SUIT

A stockholders' suit to liquidate assets of the Heitman Trust company, 10 South La Salle street, receivers and trustees for more than 100 properties under foreclosure in the state courts, was filed yesterday in the United States district court by Attorney William L. Bourland, on behalf of Elmer A. Bear, of San Francisco, owner of $17,400 of the trust company stock.

The bill of complaint alleges "wrongful and fraudulent" actions by Fred L. Heitman, president of the company, which was formerly known as the Heitman Bond and Mortgage company, and Philip C. Lindgren, vice president, in connection with the handling of funds of the receivership estates. Because of these acts, it is charged, the company may be subject to suits of accounting by various estates, and the company's business may become a "total loss to the stockholders."

It is further charged that Fred L. Heitman Jr., son of the president and a $40 a week clerk, was made insurance broker of the properties and has turned back to the company $32,500 in "kickbacks," or "splits," in insurance premiums. The case was assigned to Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan.

Vick Chemical, Inc., had a net income of $1,016,784, equal to $1.45 a share, for the March quarter, compared with $719,015, or $1.02 a share, in the 1935 March quarter.

The Brown Shoe company reported net income for the six months ended April 30 of $230,959, against $488,395 in the like 1935 period after allowing for dividends on the 7 per cent preferred shares, since retired. The profit is equivalent to 93 cents a share, compared with $1.53 on the same amount of common stock a year ago.

ACT TO CONTROL TRADE IN PRISON GOODS IS UPHELD

Cincinnati, O., June 1.—(AP)—The United States circuit court of appeals affirmed today the constitutionality of a congressional act regulating interstate transportation of convict made goods.

It upheld District Judge Elwood Hamilton in dismissing a bill of complaint of the Kentucky Whip & Collar company of Eddyville, Ky., seeking to force the Illinois Central railroad to accept shipments of prison made harnesses, horse collars, and other lether goods.

"Since congress has the power to prohibit the shipment of convict made goods into states having laws prohibiting the sale or possession of such goods or their exposure for sale without labeling them," the court said, "it would seem necessarily to follow that in aid of the enforcement of such prohibition, it may require a labeling of all packages containing convict made goods shipped or transported in interstate commerce regardless of their destination."

The Kentucky Whip & Collar company employs convicts in the manufacture of lether goods. It challenged the congressional act regulating transportation of such goods as a violation of the due process, or fifth amendment to the Constitution.

RAILROADS MAKE SEVERAL CHANGES IN PERSONNEL

Several changes in personnel were announced by railroads yesterday and a number of others were reported to be pending. It is said James H. Aydelott, general manager of the Burlington Lines west, is to be made general manager of Burlington Lines east, with headquarters in Chicago, to succeed W. F. Thiehoff, who is scheduled to retire shortly when he reaches his 70th birthday.

L. C. Mahoney has been appointed freight trafic manager of the Burlington, succeeding W. G. Wagner, who has retired on pension.

W. J. Black, passenger trafic manager of the Santa Fé, yesterday announced the promotion of George Gillman to assistant passenger trafic manager, and of J. R. Moriarity to assistant general passenger agent. Both will have headquarters here.

J. A. Clancey has been appointed general superintendent of transportation for the Grand Trunk Western railroad. Clancey succeeds the late W. R. Davidson, and his headquarters will be in Detroit. The position of superintendent of the Detroit division has been abolished and the jurisdiction of W. J. Hogan, superintendent of the Chicago division, has been extended to include the Detroit area.

DENVER TRAIN AVERAGES 65 MILES AN HOUR

Inaugurates New Speedy Service to Chicago.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

At 9:58 o'clock yesterday morning, two minutes ahead of time, the Burlington railroad's Advance Zephyr pulled into the Union station here to complete the first regular 16 hour passenger and mail run from Denver and to inaugurate the world's fastest long distance passenger service. It averaged 65 miles an hour for the 1,034 mile run.

This train is the old Mark Twain which was withdrawn temporarily from service between St. Louis and Burlington, Ia., pending delivery during July of two twelve car trains. The other train making up the Advance Zephyr service is the Silver Streak, the original Zephyr, which was withdrawn from the run between Lincoln, Neb. and Kansas City, Mo.

Attracts Police Interest.

One feature of this first run was the interest displayed by the public along the Burlington's line. Despite the fact that these Diesel powered speedsters are no longer a novelty, crowds assembled to watch the eastbound Advance Zephyr at all the cities and towns along the line until midnight. In the sparsely populated plains of Colorado and Nebraska, groups of westerners who had driven for miles were lined up along the track.

With the exception of the few brief pauses at such towns as McCook and Hastings, Neb., all they saw was a silver flash and a cloud of dust. A few motorists matched the speed of their automobiles with the train, but gave up after a few miles.

Division Chiefs Watch Train.

At each of the division points, the superintendent would board the train to see how it was riding over the track for which he was responsible. Most were satisfied, but occasionally one would say a stretch would need some fixing.

In Chicago, J. J. Doheny, superintendent of the railway mail service, was enthusiastic about the train, which brought in 100 sacks of mail. "With this new train we will be able to deliver mail sent from Denver on one day at 11:30 o'clock in the morning of the second day in the Chicago business district and citizens in the residential districts will get delivery in the afternoon," he said. "Mail destined for the east will leave at 9:30 and 9:50 a. m., with delivery in New York on the second day. This service is a great improvement. The railroads are showing speed now and the public appreciates it."

DOOR PASSENGER SERVICE STARTED BY IOWA LINE

The Cedar Rapids and Iowa City Railway company, an electric interurban line in Iowa, will start today a door to door passenger service which is said to be the first of its kind in the country. One ticket and fare will cover the passenger's transportation from home or office to any address at his destination.

The service is extended by the railroad in connection with taxi companies. From the time the passenger steps into the first taxi until he arrives at his destination he will be a fully protected passenger of the railway company. He will have no dealing with the taxi driver except to tell him where he wants to go.

It is explained that the plan is being put into effect in order to offset decreases in gross revenues which might result in a reduction in the railroad company's passenger rates from 3.6 cents to 2 cents a mile.

SEC Official Joins Staf of Chapman & Cutler

Adolph C. Johnson, assistant director of the division of registration of the Securities and Exchange commission, has resigned that office and will head the department of registration of Chapman and Cutler, Chicago law firm specializing in securities, according to an announcement yesterday.

BUTTER PRICES UP ⅛ CENT; EGGS RISE MODERATELY

Outside interest in butter and egg future, was light yesterday with prices holding within narrow limits. November butter on the Mercantile exchange closed ⅛ cent lower at 28¼ cents per pound while October eggs were ⅛ cent higher at 23⅜ cents per dozen. Sales of butter aggregated 43 cars and of eggs 18 cars.

A decline of ¼ to ½ cent per pound in the spot butter market had some effect on sentiment, although the into storage movement at the 10 leading markets last week was 2,278,000 pounds less than during the same period last year. Into storage eggs was 51,500 cases in excess of 1935. Prices follow:

BENSON ELECTED HEAD OF STOCK EXCHANGE HERE

Succeeds M. J. O'Brien, Who Served 3 Terms.

Thaddeus R. Benson, senior partner of F. M. Zeiler & Co., yesterday was elected president of the Chicago Stock exchange, succeeding Michael J. O'Brien, who had served in that office for three years.

T. R. BENSON. [Stone-Raymor photo.]

The exchange members also reelected Paul B. Skinner as treasurer for his sixth consecutive term. The president and treasurer are the only offices voted upon by all members of the exchange.

The vice president is selected by the governing committee from their own number, while other officers and committees are recommended by the president and acted upon by the committee. A meeting of the committee for this purpose will be held tomorrow.

Independent Elected Governor.

With one exception the members of the exchange yesterday elected the slate as nominated on April 17. An independent, Irving E. Meyerhoff, who was nominated by petition among exchange members, was elected to the governing committee for a term of one year, defeating T. Clifford Rodman, who was selected by the nominating committee.

Benson has been a member of the exchange since 1925 and has served continuously as a member of the governing committee during the last nine years. He has been chairman of the Chicago Association of Stock Exchange Firms for three years. O'Brien is resident partner of Paine, Webber & Co., and has been with the firm for 37 years. He became a member of the exchange in 1919 and was elected president in 1933.

Other Governors Elected.

Other members of the governing committee elected yesterday are: Three years, Paul H. Davis, Michael J. O'Brien, Harry M. Payne, Alger Perrill, Paul B. Skinner, Virgil G. Webster, and Wallace C. Winter, who is vice president of the exchange. One year: M. Ralph Cleary and Sampson Rogers Jr.

Payne, Perrill, Webster and Rogers are new members of the committee, the others having been reëlected. Members of the nominating committee to serve one year are: Louis C. Seaverns, chairman; Joseph P. Brown, Harry C. Daniels, Frank M. Murphy, and Hugh H. Wilson.

RETAILER 'ADS' MAKE LARGEST GAIN OF YEAR

The largest comparative gain of 1936 was made by retail advertising lineage during the week ended May 25, Advertising Age reported yesterday.

An increase of 9.6 per cent over the corresponding week of 1935 was recorded, reports from newspapers of sixty-five major cities showed. Retail advertising in these cities totaled 18,164,667 lines, compared with 16,573,133 lines last year, a gain of 1,591,534,

IMPORTANT NOTICE

to Owners or Holders of Certificates of Deposit for Bonds of Park Districts Superseded by

CHICAGO PARK DISTRICT

and to Owners or Holders of Undeposited Bonds of Said Districts

Chicago Park District has caused a Notice to be prepared regarding the exchange of bonds and payments of cash provided for under its Refunding Offer and Agreement dated January 14, 1936, such exchanges and payments to be made on June 17, 1936 at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc. in Chicago.

All bonds of superseded park districts, whether or not deposited, due on or before June 30, 1936, together with all unpaid interest accrued thereon to June 17, 1936 (except as to such bonds maturing after June 17, 1936 or before June 30, 1936, in which cases interest will be paid to maturity) will be paid in cash at the office of Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc. on June 17, 1936. Interest except as noted above will cease to accrue on all such bonds after that date.

Transfer books of Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc. as Depositary for Certificates of Deposit will be closed on June 9, 1936.

Undeposited bonds will be received for deposit by Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc. and included in the Refunding Offer as provided in said Notice.

Copies of Notice and Transmittal Letters have been mailed to all holders known to the undersigned and will be sent to others upon request to Halsey, Stuart & Co. Inc.

98% OF CHICAGO PARK DISTRICT BONDS DEPOSITED

Make Delivery of New Securities June 17.

Approximately 98 per cent of all bonds of the park districts superseded by the Chicago Park district have been deposited under the park district's refunding offer, Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., refunding agents and depositary, announced yesterday. The offer was declared operative last April 21.

Cash payments and delivery of the new series B refunding bonds will be made by Halsey-Stuart June 17. All past due bonds, including those due through June 30, 1936, and accrued interest, will be paid in cash and new refunding bonds will be delivered to holders of bonds maturing after this date, together with accrued interest to Sept. 1, 1935.

Offer Issue of Stock.

F. Eberstadt & Co., Inc., will offer today 20,214 shares of common stock of the Michigan Steel Products company, Detroit, at $19 per share. The offering does not represent new financing by the company, all of the shares being owned by certain stockholders who have entered into an agreement with F. Eberstadt & Co. covering their sale. The stock is traded on the Detroit Stock exchange and application for listing by the New York Curb exchange recently was approved by the board of governors.

Offering of more than $200,000,000 of Dominion of Canada bonds will be made tomorrow, C. A. Dunning, minister of finance, anonunced yesterday. The offering will consist of $20,000,000 of thirty year 3¼ per cent bonds which will be sold for cash, and the remainder of the new issue will be offered holders of securities due this year. The offering price on the cash bonds will be 99 and accrued interest, yielding slightly over 3.30 per cent to maturity.

Under the conversion offer holders of $187,871,200 of bonds maturing this year will have the privilege of converting into either four year 1½ per cent bonds or thirty year 3½ per cent bonds.

Great Northern Bonds Sold.

Stockholders of the Great Northern railway bought about $94,000,000 of the $99,422,400 of general mortgage 4 per cent convertible bonds due in 1946 offered them by the company for subscription last March, it was announced yesterday. The subscription period expired today.

Great Northern bondholders, whose rights to subscribe to the issue were secondary to those of the stockholders, offered subscriptions which will be more than sufficient to absorb the amount left unbought by the stockholders, it was announced.

Special offering is being made today of $1,390,000 city of Jersey City, N. J., bonds by a group headed by Lehman Brothers. The offering, which does not constitute new financing for the city, comprises 3¾ per cent to 6 per cent bonds, due on various dates from 1938 to 1946.

BANK DEPOSITS AND LOANS SHOW MODERATE GAINS

Commercial Credit Dips 14 Millions.

A moderate gain in deposits and a slight rise in loans and investments were reported yesterday by federal reserve member banks for the week ended May 27.

The total deposit gain of 121 million dollars was occasioned entirely by a rise of 172 millions in demand deposits. Time deposits shrank 15 millions, interbank deposits were down 29 millions, and government deposits dipped 7 millions.

The loan and investment portfolios were increased 15 millions because of expansion of 57 millions in holdings of federal government securities and 12 millions in other securities. On the other side, brokers' loans shrank 23 millions, commercial loans decreased 14 millions, commercial acceptances declined 10 millions, and collateral loans were down 9 millions.

Following are comparisons of the principal assets and liabilities of the reporting member banks at the close of business Wednesday [last 6 ciphers omitted]:

DOLLAR LOSES GROUND AGAINST FRENCH FRANC

Leading foreign currencies were quiet in New York yesterday, due to the closing of European markets in observance of Whitsuntide. Dollars, however, lost ground against French francs, which rose 3-16 point to 6.58½ cents.

At this level the franc was safely above the point at which gold shipments may be made profitable from France to the United States, and the value of the dollar against francs was reduced to 100.73 cents from 100.76 cents Friday.

Dutch guilders advanced 4 points to 67.56 cents and Swiss francs gained 1 point to 32.31 cents. The British pound improved 1 1-16 cent to $4.99⅝.

The New York Federal Reserve bank reported that gold engagements Saturday, when the New York markets were closed for Memorial day, amounted to $39,277,000, of which $18,913,000 was engaged in Paris, $18,978,000 in Amsterdam, $1,189,000 in Mexico and $197,000 in India. Including this total $243,900,000 has been engaged since April 24.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Start Weeding Corn

June 1, 1936.

CORN planting was completed on the Tribune Yorkville Experimental farm last week. When the planters were stopped Saturday night 462 acres had been put in the ground. Another 20 acres may be planted where clover and timothy seeds were planted last year. So far the young plants have made a poor showing.

The battle with weeds in the corn was started this week when six cultivator outfits were put into the fields. The manager expects to cultivate corn at the rate of about 100 acres a day, making it possible to cultivate all of the corn on the Yorkville farm within one week. The six cultivator outfits are made up of three double row cultivators drawn by horses, and two double row cultivators and one four row cultivator drawn by tractors. All of the tractor drawn cultivators are equipped with duckfoot shovels, while the horse drawn cultivators are equipped with spear pointed shovels.

One double row cultivator was started last week in a field infested with morning glories. On many spots the morning glory vines were about to "take the place" until the field was cultivated the long way with duckfoot shovels. This field will be cross-cultivated this week to clean out the morning glories left in between the hills. By Saturday night all of the corn that is up on the Yorkville place will have been cultivated at least once if the weather is favorable.

In fields where the corn is slow in coming up a spike toothed harrow is being used to break the crust. Lack of moisture in the soil and low temperatures have delayed the germination of the corn planted within the last ten days. Some kernels sprouted, but are slow to come through the ground, especially where the surface is not worked with a harrow.

Thistles Scarce.

Few Canada thistles have shown up in the fields this year. Men at the Yorkville farm believe this is due to the fact that the corn ground was all plowed this spring. In an effort to get down to moist soil that would aid in germinating the corn the ground was plowed deeper than usual. This helped to bury the Canada thistles.

Chinch Bug Hunt.

In examining several oat fields today men at the Yorkville farm failed to find any chinch bugs. Only a few of the pests have been found where they lived over the winter. Chinch bugs were thick on the farm in 1934, but last year the infection was extremely light and caused little damage to the small grain and corn crops. All of the oat fields are of a rich dark green shade, excepting on low or thin spots.

Timothy Does Well.

Newly seeded fields of timothy, red clover, and sweet clover are making fair progress. There is a good stand, but the young seedlings need more moisture.

Start Wool Harvest.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, June 1.—Transactions in the bond market today were at low ebb, with investment interest largely concentrated in the treasury's $2,000,000,000 financing operation.

Listed United States government issues were almost ignored, although quotations in most instances were fractionally higher. The newly offered treasury bonds and notes quickly commanded a premium in the when-issued market.

Corporate Issues Advance.

Corporate bonds as a rule made gains. Second grade rail issues held to narrow ranges and were slightly irregular, but fractional advances prevailed. A few of the high grade corporates suffered from temporary neglect.

Public utility issues were quiet and prices were barely steady. LaClede Gas 6s were heavy, losing over 5 points. Industrial issues enjoyed a slight measure of investment demand.

On this, the last day for Great Northern stockholders to subscribe to new 4 per cent convertible bonds, the latter were again exceptionally active and slightly higher.

Other Issues Advance.

Better prices were paid also for Boston and Maine 5s, Sharon Steel 4½s, Warner 6s of 1939, Central of Georgia 5s and International Hydro 6s.

Foreign bonds did little either way. Cuban 5½s, Italian 7s and Rome 6½s were unchanged, while Polish government 8s lost 1⅝ points at 72.

Transfers in all bonds totaled $7,916,000, par value, compared with $10,083,000 last Friday. Sales of government bonds amounted to $250,000.

National Biscuit.

Investors' Guide: What is the rating of National Biscuit stock as an investment?—D. C.

Answer: National Biscuit company is the world's largest baker. It was incorporated in 1898 and has achieved its preëminent position largely by expansion of output and marketing.

Along with more than 500 varieties of biscuits, the company produces various breads, cakes, crackers, candy, pudding, cocoa, peanut butter, macaroni, and breakfast food. All are handled by a single comprehensive organization. More than 90 per cent of output is delivered to retailers by a fleet of trucks in accordance with the major distributing policy of frequent and rapid deliveries.

Marked efficiency in management has been reflected in earnings which increased steadily through 1930. Since then the company has been faced with difficult conditions. Competition has been too stiff to permit passing on higher costs to consumers. NRA and the wheat processing taxes added to troubles. Recovery of earnings appears to depend on expansion of the ordinary family's food budget to permit larger purchases of cakes and cookies, the company's more profitable lines.

Net profit for the first three months of 1936 was $2,917,000, or 39 cents a share on the common stock, a sharp improvement from $1,848,500 or 22 cents a share in the first quarter of 1935 when strikes affected results.

Net income was $9,986,000, or $1.31 per common share, for 1935; $11,598,000 or $1.57 per share for 1934; $14,995,000 or $2.11 per share in 1933; $17,104,000 or $2.44 per share in 1932; $19,739,000 or $2.86 per share in 1931 and $22,880,000 or $3.41 per share in 1930.

Payment of dividends in excess of earnings in recent years reduced working capital, but a continued strong condition is reflected in current assets of $35,872,000 [$24,000,000 cash] against $7,307,000 current liabilities on Dec. 31, 1935.

Extra dividends were discontinued and then the regular annual rate was reduced from $2.80 to $2 a share on July 14, 1934. A year later this was trimmed to $1.60.

Outstanding capitalization consists of 248,045 shares of $100 par 7 per cent preferred stock and 6,289,448 common shares of $10 par value. There is no funded debt.

The preferred is high grade. The common also is rather high grade.

LARD FUTURES RECOVER AFTER HITTING NEW LOWS

Lard showed an easy undertone early yesterday due to scattered selling with the September and October deliveries touching new lows for the season. However, a strong rally followed with the purchases of October credited to a packer a factor and the close was unchanged to 7½ cents higher. Clear bellies closed nominally unchanged.

An increase of 12,068,000 pounds of lard in local storage stocks was shown last month, or somewhat above trade expectations. Aggregate supplies are 46,298,000 pounds, compared with 44,439,000 pounds last year. It was the first time in a number of months supplies have been in excess of the corresponding period the previous year. Stocks of cut meats of 68,546,000 pounds showed a decrease of 889,000 pounds for the month and compared with 75,252,000 pounds last year.

Cash lard closed at $9.90; loose, $9.27½; leaf, $9.12½, and clear bellies at $12.50 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds follow:

COTTON TRADES REDUCED, BUT PRICES ARE HIGHER

Trading in cotton yesterday was restricted, but prices averaged higher, due to continued dry weather in parts of the eastern belt, accompanied by reports indicating the crop in that area had suffered a setback from which recovery was doubtful. Dry weather in Texas and Oklahoma was regarded as favorable. Closing trades in Chicago were unchanged to 4 points higher, with other markets up 2 to 9 points. Spot cotton closed 5 points higher to 5 points lower, with New Orleans, 11.85 cents; Houston and Galveston, 11.60 cents, and New York at 11.75 cents per pound. Prices follow:

WHEAT DECLINES IN DULL TRADE; CHANGES SMALL

Hot Weather Continues in Northwest.

Grain markets fluctuated slowly within narrow limits yesterday, with price changes confined to small fractions. Both public and professional interest was at low ebb. Continued dry and hot weather reports from the American and Canadian northwestern spring wheat belt were more than offset marketwise by forecast of scattered showers and lower temperatures.

Wheat closed slightly lower. Traders favored the selling side of wheat as the movement of the new southwestern crop is now under way. Fort Worth, Tex., received 3 cars of new grain over the holidays, including two from Oklahoma, and a Dallas firm estimated 75 to 100 cars of North Texas wheat would probably be loaded this week for shipment to terminal markets.

No Rain Received.

No rain of consequence was reported in the spring grain area over the week end. A Minneapolis message to J. S. Bache & Co. said central North Dakota was suffering from lack of moisture, but a good general rain would make a big improvement in the prospective spring wheat crop.

Winnipeg, which was open Saturday when American markets were closed, more than lost the upturn scored over the holiday owing to the prospective cooler weather. There was a noticeable lack of export demand for wheat, as a majority of European markets were closed.

Closing prices on the July delivery of leading grains, with comparisons, follow:

	Yesterday.	Friday.	Wk. ago.	Mo. ago.
Wheat	$ .84⅛	$ .84⅜	$ .85½	$ .87⅛
Corn	.59⅛	.59⅛	.59⅝	.60⅝
Oats	.24⅞	.25⅝	.24⅞	.25⅞
Rye	.53⅝	.53¾	.53⅝	.50½

September Corn Sold.

Commission house selling of September corn had a depressing effect and receipts of 378 cars of cash grain were also a factor in increasing pressure, as the arrivals were the largest in some time. Charters were reported as having been made for 200,000 bushels to a Georgian bay port.

A decrease of 523,000 bushels in the visible supply brought the total down to 5,821,000 bushels, the smallest for June 1 since 1920.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was unchanged today at 3.72c per lb for spots, with no sales reported. Holders were asking from 3.80c up to 3.85c depending upon position. After early inactivity sugar futures firmed up on a little trade and commission house buying promoted by rumors that an excise tax of half a cent a pound would be placed on sugar. Final prices were at about the best and 3 to 4 points net higher. Sales, 3,250 tons.

Raw sugar prices in cents per pound:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.	Prev. close.
July	2.85	2.88	2.85	2.88	2.85
September	2.81	2.83	2.81	2.83	2.81
November	2.79	2.79	2.79	2.79	2.76
January	2.59	2.60	2.59	2.60	2.57
March	2.58	2.58	2.58	2.58	2.57

Refined was unchanged at 5.00c for fine granulated. A little better withdrawal demand was reported on reports of the possibility of an excise tax being placed on sugar.

UPTURN IN PORK PRICES BOOSTS SWINE MARKET

Cattle Trade Is Weaker; Lambs Point Lower.

The hog market was strong to 10 cents higher yesterday. Selected 190 to 225 pound new crop stock topped at $10.20 to shippers and small local interests, while the average price for the session was $9.75, both prices showing a 5 cent gain over the close of last week.

The mild upturn was recorded despite the second heaviest Monday receipts since Feb. 24. The total was 18,000 head. Demand was stimulated by bullish reports from the wholesale markets for fresh pork. Loins were steady to $1 higher than at the close of the week, some eastern points indicating advances of $2 per hundred pounds compared with a week ago.

Most of the best grade 175 to 225 pound hogs sold at $10.05 to $10.15, with 240 to 260 pound medium weight butchers ranging from $9.90 to $10.05 and 275 to 300 pound stock mostly at $9.75 to $9.90.

Lard Hogs in Demand.

Despite the relatively low position of lard as a pork product, demand was active for "lard hogs" at stronger rates. Most packing sows weighed 300 to 500 pounds and sold at $8.75 to $9.15.

Wholesale markets for other meats also showed improvement yesterday, beef, veal, and lamb ruling steady to $1 higher. However, upturns were not sufficient to erase the losses incurred last week, beef and veal showing a $1 decline and lamb $2 compared with a week ago.

With cattle receipts heavy at 15,000 head and running more to long fed steers carrying a lot of beef, prices in the live cattle trade was weak.

Most beef steers sold 10 to 25 cents lower, some kinds sinking back to the year's low of three weeks ago. Some yearlings and light steers escaped the cuts.

Top Steers Reach $9.

Top steers sold at $9 with the bulk ranging from $7.50 to $8.50. Most butcher stock was weak to 25 cents lower. Bulls were steady and calves steady to a little lower. Stockers and feeders held mostly steady.

Best new crop lambs were steady but others declined 15 to 25 cents. Selected ewe and wether natives brought $12 to $12.25. For the first time this season packers sorted buck lambs from the new crop at a $1 discount from the ewes and wethers in the load.

Following the custom of the trade the prefix "spring" is dropped June 1 in speaking of this year's crop of lambs, and last year's crop is classed as yearlings. Last year's crop of shorn lambs, now called yearlings, sold at $10 or below yesterday. Old ewes without fleece brought $4 and under.

RECEIPTS OF LIVE STOCK HERE IN MAY DIP SHARPLY

Sheep Lightest Since July, 1894.

Receipts of live stock at the Chicago yards last month fell sharply from May a year ago, monthly statistics disclosed yesterday. The total run amounted to 601,304 animals, compared with 701,656 in the 1935 period.

An extremely sharp decline in the number of sheep handled accounted for the recession. Only 137,529 sheep and lambs arrived during the month, the smallest since July, 1894, and the lightest for May since 1889. In May, 1935, a total of 246,742 sheep were handled.

Cattle receipts aggregated 144,978, the smallest for the month since 1886 with the single exception of May, 1935, when 139,738 arrived.

Carlot Receipts Rise.

Despite the drop in number of animals in carloads received at the stockyards, including stock arriving by truck, on the basis of railroad car lots, gained over 1935 for the third consecutive month.

The May total was 10,316, compared with 10,065 last year, which was the lowest on record for the month. The increase in car lots was accounted for by a gain in the number of cattle and hogs handled, and fewer sheep, more of which can be carried in a single car than either hogs or cattle.

Volume Under Last Year.

Total volume of live stock handled during the first five months of 1936 at 3,557,030 head in 57,182 carloads compared with 4,149,800 in 57,242 carloads in the same period of 1935 and with 5,391,720 head in 81,596 carloads two years ago.

Details for the last four years follow:

OUR BUSINESS

This bank is not engaged in the business of lending money in large units to railroads, big industrial concerns, and the commanding distributors of goods.

We specialize in making personal loans.

But when we say personal loans we include, of course, loans to the smaller business, a business where the proprietor or partners own it lock, stock, and barrel, or where the stock, if a corporation, may not be listed or even traded in.

The principal officers of this bank, particularly Mr. Tietz, the Manager of our Credit Department, are always interested in meeting with the owners or proprietors of the small independent business which can use $500, $2,500, $5,000 or more. We have often saved the day by lending money and suggesting plans which help the smaller, independent business to make good and to do better.

What security is necessary? Let us see your figures. Then we will figure with you.

How You Can BORROW at HOUSEHOLD

1. Whether or not you have furniture or a car, you can borrow here if you can make regular monthly repayments.
2. Payments are small. For example, the first payment on $100 is $8—the last payment is $5.15 on a twenty month schedule. Other amounts in proportion.
3. You do not need co-makers or endorsers.
4. You can secure the money quickly—the same day if you apply before 9 o'clock.
5. Rate on loans above $100 is less than the lawful maximum.
6. Repay at any time and reduce the cost.
7. Private offices. Your problem will have our sympathetic attention.

WHY WE DON'T WONDER

We don't wonder why our plan of lending to people who buy new or used cars—or who own one—has met with such a rousing success.

One reason why is that we charge the same rate on a loan secured by an automobile regardless of whether the automobile is brand new or a model of recent years.

Another reason why we don't wonder is because we do not make it a requirement that the borrower takes all kinds of insurance. We only ask that a car be covered by fire and theft. Of course, we advocate that a car owner or a car buyer have collision coverage for his own protection.

And, another reason—we almost insist that the car owner or the car buyer place his insurance with his own agent or broker. If he hasn't one we will refer him to a reputable one. We ask for no commission on the insurance premiums. We are not in the insurance business. We are in the banking business.

But there may be a further reason. In spite of our low rate and in spite of our policy with respect to insurance, a scoring reason may be that people very much prefer to borrow money at a bank where they are assured of banking treatment. This is a State Bank, a member of both the Federal Reserve System and of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Here is a typical schedule of the rates and terms on amounts commonly asked for by those who wish to use a new or used car as collateral to loans:

Amount You Want.	Total Yearly Charge.	Total Amount of Note.	12 Monthly Deposits.
$ 100	$12.08	$ 112.08	$ 9.34
200	19.00	219.00	18.25
300	23.04	323.04	26.92
400	29.00	429.00	35.75
500	35.08	535.08	44.59
600	41.04	641.04	53.42
1,000	65.00	1,065.00	88.75

GIANT LINER QUEEN MARY COMPLETES FIRST ATLANTIC CROSSING, BUT FAILS TO SET RECORD—Striking air view of the new British liner as she proceeded up the Hudson river to new pier in New York yesterday after maiden ocean voyage. In the background are some of the skyscrapers of lower Manhattan. The Queen Mary failed by 44 minutes to equal the record of her rival, the French liner Normandie, having been slowed down at sea by heavy fog. The arrival of the ship was cheered by crowds estimated at 1,000,000 persons. (Story on page 1.)

SON OF HUEY LONG FOLLOWS IN FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS—Russell Long, son of the slain senator from Louisiana, at his desk in the Louisiana senate yesterday following his appointment as assistant secretary of that body.
